Company G did itself proud at the annual inspection at the armory on Friday evening last, if one may judge by the impression conveyed to the minds of experienced officers and tacticians who witnessed their work. Adjutant Atherton and Major Clark, of Scranton, were in charge of the inspecting, and performed their duties in soldierly and admirable manner. Previous to inspection a company election was held to choose a captain, to succeed John C. Harrington, resigned, The winner was Lieutenant W. H. Dennis, jr., and the choice seems to give universal sa sfaction: It is not only pleasing to the members of the company, but, also, meets with the hearty approbation of our citizens, in whose hearts G holds a warm place, and they are rejoiced that the mantle of Captain Harrington has fallen upon such worthy and deserving shoulders as those of Captain Dennis. The new commander has been identified with the company for several years and has, by his soldierly bearing, attention to duty, and exhibition of the traits that go to make up a good soldier, won promotion after notion until now, in the very zenith of his young manhood, he has attained the highest office in the company. A host of friends present their compliments, together with a right hand sa-lute, to Captain Dennis, and wish him unlimited successs in his new position. A very enjoyable occasion was the supper and entertainment in honor of special to the Scranton Tribune Honesdale, Feb. 24.—Thirty-seven tickets were sold at the Union station state of the Binghamton, Towarda and Western Railroad company, whose charter calls for a line running from Rulston, Lycoming county, to a point on the New York and Pennsylvania line near Chocunut, Susquehanna county, a distance of ninety miles. The capitalization is said to be $1,000,-000. The Review further states that at Binghamton it is reported that the line will connect with the Delaware and Hudson at the Parlor City, and that work would certainly be commenced the coming spring. The rumors for the past few years and up to the present time, that the New York Central would acquire a controlling interest in the Delaware and Hudson, establishing a short route from Williamsport to Albany. C. E. Webster, consulting engineer of the western division of the New York Central and in Pennsylvania, visited Towarda last week and insinuated that it was meant to make progress on the proposed line. It is further stated that the new railroad will be managed independent of the Vanderbilts, who at present have a monopoly on the soft coal freighting. It is expected that the new line will encourage flourishing dairy business south of Binghamton, and also the soft coal they are after, besides industries of various kinds. Raiston, at which place the road will start, is on the Northern Central railroad and is about twenty-four miles from Williamsport.
