IN THE PUBLIC EYE.

That the Carbondale Metal Working company is going to carry on its operations on a broad scale and is going to be a big factor in the industrial world is evidenced more and more every day in numerous ways. Perhaps th most convincing evidence of this is the enterprise it has shown in securing for the heads of departments the most skilled and efficient men procurable regardless of the effort it may cause to place these men on the pay roll.

Following the selection of former Master Mechanic William Johnson, of the Delaware and Hudson company, as general manager of the company, comes the choice of Grant Nicholson, of this city, as chief machinist. Like Mr. Johnson, he is an old Delaware and Hudson employee, having had the responsible position of foreman of the nir brake shop of this corporation. His well-founded knowledge of mechanics and above all his wealth of practical deas made him a valuable man for the Delaware and Hudson, but doubly valuable to the Metal Working company, which is just in its infancy and needs the best of materials. Accordingly an offer came from the new company, which Mr. Nicholson could hardly put aside and now he is deliat work with his new duties. As General Manager Johnson has a true appreciation of Mr. Nicholson's worth, the desired and necessary harmony exists between them from the very start which will go a long way towards bringing about good results. It can therefore be safe to predict that the cureer of Chief Machinist Nicholson

An appointment that is being favorbly discussed among the men most concerned is that of William Hubbard, of Garfield avenue, who like Mr. Nicholson, goes from the Delaware and Hudson company to an advanced posi-

Mr. Hubbard leaves the position of foreman of the Delaware and Hudson locomotive shop to become foreman of the Ontario and Western shops at Mayfield yard, under the new superintendent of motive power, William H. Kenney. He has an expert knowledge of mechanics which has been satisfactorily tested as an overseer under Master Mechanics Rettew, Johnson and Remire of the Delaware and Hudson company. He has the requisites therefore for a successful cureer in his new field and there is no doubt that time will amply justify the wisdom of his selecfor the responsible position to which he has been called.

Carbondale from the time it became a city has had abundant reason to feel proud of the manner in which her sons have acquitted themselves abroad. It is always goods news, therefore, to learn of the good fortune of a Carbondalian who saw better opportunities away from home. The latest news of oldest and most respected families of Carbondale. The young man is Frank P. Kelly, son of the late Hon. John Kelly, and brother of B. A. and Joseph two of Carbondale's leading druggists.

COULDN'T DO IT. Milk Diet Failed.

Food that will actually lift one out of n sick bed is worth knowing of. A Chicago lady writes "I want to tell of a positive cure Grape-Nuts Food has made in a case that was considered almost hopeless.

"I know you do not look upon Grape-Nuts as a medicine but, masmuch as the food certainly does build up worn our systems, it seems to me it is closely allied to a tonic. Now about the

"Lust Spring a dear girl friend fell ill and was taken to one of the hospitals, but weeks before entering the hospital she had been able to take nothing but milk to nourish her, all other foods distressed the stomach so rauch that she tried to live on the milk The doctor in the hospital endeavored to keep her alive with broth and other food, but her stormed refused to retaln anything but milk, and very little

"I worked away at the resident physician until he consented to my taking her home to see what the change would do for her. The poor child was so very weak and nervous and so frail that I felt quite dublous about the outcome, nevertheless I knew enough about Brape-Nuts Food, which I intended to give her, to feel that it would bring her out. After she had rested a little while I warmed some milk and poured it over a tablespoonful of Grape-Nuts and persuaded her to take it. She did so with fear and trembling, for she did not expect to keep the food down. After giving her the food I started to read her a story, and although it was an interesting one, she fell asleep. When she finally awoke her first words were. Did I really keep the Grape-Nuts?"

She had kept them but could scarcely believe it. After two or three hours I gave her a little more with the same good result. Gradually and cautiously I increased the amount until after a few days she was able to eat a saucer full with no bad effects.

She fived on Grape-Nuts entirely and gained strength so rapidly that she soon recovered, and now recommends Grape-Nuts to all her friends. She says she would be glad to have anyone who is suffering from stomach trouble write her, and she will tell what Grape-Nuts Food has done for her, and how grateful she is to the man who had the forethought to manufacture a food already digested so that weak stomachs can take it. Her name is Lillie M. Gestabt, 4416 Wabash Ave.,

Chicago. "A clergyman of our acquaintance catses dish of Grape-Nuts before preparing his sermon. I asked him once if he got inspiration from the food. He said, 'Not only that, but it seems to clear my mind and make my 'thirdlys' and 'fourthlys' come much more quick-Just think about one's stomach not having to think about digesting Grape-Nuts at all, they have done the digesting themselves, and all we have to do is to tickle the palate by swallowing them.' This same gentleman assured me that he would rather dispense with any article of food on the table than Grape-Nuts.

"We eat the food regularly with metimes a little fresh or canned fruit added. We call it our 'tonic.' My husband foins in thanking you heartily for its manufacture." Name given by Postum Co, Battle Creek, Mich.

Mr. Kelly, who was himself a druggist, is now a hospital surgeon on the United States cruiser Columbia, a posttion which he is especially qualified to fill and which he is certain to fill with as much credit as can be gotten in such a rank. Mr. Kelly figured somewhat prominently in the reception to Prince Henry of Prussla, on Sunday last, getting newspaper mention of his activity, thereby giving the city of his birth fitting representation in the country's welcome to the distinguished visitor from one of the leading countries of the globe The New York Times speaks of Mr. Kelly as follows: "The afternoon callers included hospital surgeon F. P. Kelly and J. T. Paine, of the United States ship Columbia, who carried an invitation to the Hohenzollern's crew from the Brooklyn Naval Young Men's Christian Association, a non-sectarian organization confined exclusively to the sailors and marines of the United States navy,"

A CAUSE OF HEADACHE.

One Very Common Cause, Generally Over-Looked

Headache is a symptom, an indication of derangement or disease in some organ, and the cause of the headache is difficult to locate because so many diseases have headache as a prominent symptom; derangement of the stomach and liver, heart trouble, kidney disease, lung trouble, eye strain or ill fitting glasses, all produce headaches, and if we could always locate the organ which is at fault the cure of obstinate headiches would be a much simpler matter. However, for that form of headache called frontal headache, pain back of the eyes and in forehead, the cause is now known to be catarrh of the head and throat; when the headache is located in back of head and neck it is often caused from catarrh of the stomach or liver.

At any rate catarrh is the most comion cause of such headaches and the cure of the catarrh causes a promp disappearance of the headaches.

There is at present no treatment for 'atarrh so convenient and effective as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, a new internal remedy in tablet form, composed of antiseptics like eucalyptol, gualace' and blood root which act upon the blood and cause the elimination of the catarrhal poison from the system through the natural channels.

Miss Cora Ainsley, a prominent school teacher in one of our normal chools, speaks of her experience with catarrhal headaches and eulogizes Stuart's Catarrh Tablets as a cure for them. She says: "I suffered daily from severe frontal headache and pain in and back of the eyes, at times so intensely as to incapacitate me in my daily duties. I had suffered from catarrh, more or less for years, but never thought it was the cause of my headaches, but finally became convinced that such was the case because the musical programme has been prepared headaches were always worse whenever I had a cold or fresh attack of catarrh.

"Stuart's Catarrh Tablets were high ly recommended to me as a safe and pleasant catarrh cure, and after using a few fifty-cent boxes which I procured from my druggists I was surprised and delighted to find that both the catarrh and headaches had gone temporarily abandoned. Between Hicksville and Mineola there were thousands of acres of depressed lands under water today. A number of louses just east of Westbury were in waters flow into the lake. The cutting the midst of a great lake of two or of these forests is supposed to have in- three hundred acres in extent and several feet in depth, and the residents were forced to make their way to the upland by means of rafts. Pigs and chickens were drowned, and all loose stuff floated away.

The hospital for contagious diseases, on Kingston avenue, Brooklyn, was flooded today. There was six feet of water in the boller and engine rooms and it was impossible to make a fire. Gas stoves were used to neat the wards in which there were many patients. The hospital staff called on the park department to furnish boats, so that t might be possible to reach the pavillons of the hospital, which were septrated from the main building by a yard, in which there was several feet of water. The grounds of the hospital are about eight acres in extent and the land lies much lower than some of the ground in the immediate vicinity.
