ARRESTED FOR THE MURDER OF ANTHONY SENNICK.

Peter Lenousky and Victor Zarambo in the Wilkes-Barre Jail.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Feb. 26.—Peter Lenousky and Victor Zarambo are now Noxen, was calling on friends in town in the county jail, awaiting trial for One day last week Anthony Sennick was found in a terribly mangled condition in the Exeter mine, near Pitttston. He had been hacked with an axe. He was taken to the Pittston hos- to the state convention. pital, where he died the next day. Since then the authorities have been active in trying to run down the murderers. Detective Jones arrested the two prisoners yesterday on the strength of a confession made by Lenousky to Justice of the Peace Mackin. In his confession Lenousky claims that Zarambo heard Sennick carried a lot of money about his person, and the two men agreed to get it from him. Zarambo found Sennick alone in his chamber one evening and attacked him with the axe. When the wounded man was searched for the money, however, none could be found.

Lincowski says Zarambo did the deed. "He says that while they were in fall the murderer told the details of the crime to him. Both Zarambo and Lineowski had ben in the mine together all day, having gone into the place in the morning to look for work. Senick was said to have several hunared dollars and it was to finally get possession of this that he was murdered. According to the confession, Zarambo, after Lincowski had left him and Senick alone in the mine after quitting time, persuaded Senick to accompany him into several chambers for the purpose of robbing some of the mining implements of the other workmen. Zarambo awaited a favorable opportunity, and as Senick leaned over to take some powder from a miner's tool box, he dealt him a blow over the head with an axe. The police doubt the story, in as far as it places all the blame on Zarambo. They believe Zarambo and Lineowski were together when the deed was committed. Both men were sent back to the county jail.

SURVEYING OUR RIVERS.

Interesting Work in Pennsylvania by the Geological Survey.

During the past year a number of the more important streams of Pennsylvania have been studied by the hydrographers of the United States geological survey. This work is in line with Tuesday evening a large number of public interest in that state which friends in honor of her daughter, Mrs. framed the bill presented to the last legislature for co-operation with the Federal government in a comprehenof the sewing machine as a mender of sive investigation by the geological table linen, handkerchiefs, etc. By survey of the water resources of the

across the worn place, neat repairing | The present work of the geological survey has been devoted to daily observations of river heights, and frewhich an accurate idea of the monthly and yearly discharge of these streams is obtained. One of the most important features about a stream for those who would use its waters for power or supply is the amount of its low water flow. Special care has been used in the investigations to obtain this information. Another interesting result of the meas urements is the light they throw on the floods and freshets of the past season, They show the great volume of these sudden discharges as compared with the light flow of most of the streams

A large number from the country floods and the following low waters of are coming to town, notwithstanding so many of the Pennsylvania streams are not to some extent due to heavy cutting of timber at their head waters. The Susquehanna, and its main tributaries, were measured at a number of places, as were also the Schuylkill, Juniata and Delaware rivers, and ten or twelve other smaller streams which are of value as sources of water power and supply. The investigation is part of the general study of the country's water resources which is being carried on by the geological survey.

THE MARKETS

refusal to salvance under the efforts to stimulate it by marking up individual stocks impressed the professionals with its vulnerable position and the announcement of the gold exports was rather a signal than a motive for the attack. Reports of damage to the winter wheat crop were used to advantage by bears in their raid. Missouri Pacific was for this vesson especially vulnerable and its report of a decrease in gross earnings for the third week in February of 879,000 also added to its weakness. It was noticeable, however, that ronds which reported increases for the same period and especially Atchison, with its January increase in net of $220,875 were not able to resist the decline. Neither stock was so acutely affected, however, as Missouri Pacific. The announcement of gold exports was hardly a surprise as sterling exchange has howeved about the point all the week. Foreigners have been heavy sellers of stocks since the news of the government's procedure against the Northern Securities company and the supply of commercial exchange bills in the market is very scanty. The money market in New York has not showed the slightest reflection of any coming stringency, yet the sub-treasury operations have already taken up nearly a million dollars since the last bank statement and with New York exchange at Chicago down to 15 cents discount, the interior movement of currency is probably away from New York. An early response in the local money market is highly probable. The advances in today's market were almost universally without explanation. In the case of the minor railroads they were based on a general assumption that absorption of these by the larger systems is manifest destiny. Of the more prominent stocks hotally affected were the Colorado and South stocks, the Denver and Rio Grande stocks. Chicago and Eastern Illinois, the Evansville and Terre Haute, Chicago Great Western, preferred, A., the St. Joseph and Grand Island stocks, Ann Arbor preferred, the Minneapolis. St. Paul and Sault Ste Marie stocks, Des Moines and

PRINCETON.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Princeton, N. J., Feb. 26.-The formal end of all the hazing and horsing of the freshmen occurred Saturday, and the inter-class contests were culminated by the wrestling matches between sophomores and freshmen. These bouts were given, together with the university's gymnasium team's exhibition, before a large number of spectators in the gym. The class of 1904 again proved victorious over 1905, as in previous contests and won two out of the three matches. The lightweights, Karow, '05 and Miller, '04, were tied, but Shearer the '04 middleweight, threw Humbird, the '05 champion, and "Cap." Reed, the big sophomore heavyweight, disposed of Short, whom the freshmen expected to win. The latter is president of his class and played on the 'varsity eleven last

The gymnastic exhibition was marked by very clever work, the team showing the results of hard and industrious practice. Saturday night the Harvard basket ball team played here, and although the New Englanders played fast ball, they were defeated by the score of 22-12. Washington's birthday exercises were conducted Saturday morning. William Woods, 1904, of Philadelphia, won the $50 prize offered the best of the four class orators, and Richard Ely, '02, of New York, took the $100 prize in the class of 1876 debate, upon the Chinese exclusion question.

The final trials for the Harvard debate, which is to be held March 26, in Cambridge, were held Thursday night and resulted in the choice of the following men: R. W. Anthony, R. A. Blair, and R. B. Reed, Richard Ely, '02. won another prize of $50 at these trials The Freshmen inter-hall debate will soon take place, and a large number of men are out in both Clio and Whig after places on the teams.

Lafayette's basket ball team played here last Wednesday and was easily defeated by the local players, by a Considerable damage was done the campus by Friday's storm. Princeton was visited by a bilzzard, and when the winds were through blowing, and the snow had ceased falling, the trees all about the campus were found to have suffered 'erribly. All Saturday and part of Sun'lay men were busy removing shattered braches and in somcases trunks of the big trees, which h several instances had been cleft by lightning bolts. All over the town, like damage had been done, and telegraph wires were broken down. Princeton wears a most dilapidated look today. and it will be some time before things assume their former aspect.
