PITTSTON. Special to the Scranton Tribune Pittston, March 4.-All danger from further destruction by the flood is past and the river is gradually receding, being now about 20 feet above low water mark, which is nine feet less than when at its highest point on Sunday. The actual effects of the flood are now being disclosed. Lehigh Valley employes were at work between here and Wilkes-Barre all day and by this afternoon the places where the track had been washed away had been filled in. About 2 o'clock this afternoon a train arrived here with this morning's Philadelphia mail. The traction line is closed and will likely not be opened for a day or two, the South street power house at Wilkes-Barre having suffered much damage by the flood. In this vicinity, however, the tracks themselves have suffered little damage and the cars will be run just as soon as power can be secured. There is little or no change at the collierie hereabout and few of them were in operation today. Three railroad locomotives have been pressed into service at the Seneca colliery of the Lehigh Valley company at the Junction, and are furnishing the steam necessary to run the pumps and fans. The boilers at this mine were under five feet of water. The officials at the Stevens colliery on the West Side at 10 o'clock secured control of the water which has been running into the shaft on their property for the past sixty hours. Although the pumps were partially under water they were kept in operation continually, but the retrogade action of the river water is the only thing that saved the mine from being entirely at present flood. Buckets are kept continually at work. At Heidelburg No. 2 of the Lehigh Valley Coal company, the water, while still high up in the shaft opening is gradually receding, two large buckets being kept at work tht and day. The mules which were rriedly taken from No. 4 shaft Saturday when it was rumored Yatesville dam had broken have been taken back to the mines. There was a scarcity of fresh meat in the city today, none of the beef companies have received a shipment since last week. West Pittston borough's new town council met and reorganized yesterday. The funeral took place this afternoon, with interment in Pittston cemetery.

Mrs. Charles Dennison, of Susquehanna avenue, West Pittston, was scverely scalded in a very peculiar manner Sunday afternoon. With several friends she was watching the flood near the West Pittston cemetery, when the ground on which she was standing gave At this point a two-inch steam uns to the Clear Spring Coal com-Pimp station. Great excitement prevailed for some time on Saturday morning when the families living on the lowlands were warned by one of the men employed by the Gas and Water company to vacate their homes without delay, as there was great danger of the reservoir going out at any moment. TAYLOR.

President Henry E. Harris, of the Taylor borough council, has an exceptionally fine record, being one of the first to serve in that capacity some years ago, and those who know him believe that he will fulfill the duties of the office without any strings and intends to be president in fact, as well as in man. This is one of Mr. Harris' most permanent and marked characteristics, his frankness and firmness of purpose. President Harris, as a citizen, is of that type which is progressive and forward and always alive to every movement that means the advancement of the borough's interests. Mr. Johns. the retiring president, who has so successfully attended to the duties of the office for two terms, is a man of sterling value. He has always been very active in looking after the interests of the town, and is deserving of great credit for the efficient manner in which he filled the duties of president during his two terms in office:

BRADFORD COUNTY.

Special to the Scranton Tribune,

Towanda, March 4.-All line floods have been rampantly raging since Friday night, followed by the heavy rain of the same day. The heavy snow of the previous week made the hill streams high and the river rose very rapidly until Saturday night, when at this place it had reached the highwater mark of 24% feet, which was higher than the December flood, and had the old dam been in would have exceeded the height at the time of the freshet of 1865. On Monday the water had fallen about four feet and was still receding. An excited crowd was busily engaged in watching the large quantities of ice and debris. The wreckage consisted of lumber, parts of buildings, horses, catttle, all kinds of fodder, and among the curiosities was what seemed to be a barn floor with straw or hay still burning. Several bridges are again torn out, among them being a county bridge near Wyalusing, the railroad bridge at Monroe, a wagon bridge at North Towanda, and it is expected many others. At Athens a portion of the town was flooded, the same also being reported from Elmira. The telephone wires are down between Towanda and Athens, and together with the tie-up on the railroad, the real facts and reports from the outside world are unknown. No city mail has been received since Friday, with the exception of a few Sunday papers which reached us by way of Waverly. A local train was run each way over this division on Saturday and Monday. No serious damage has been reported, and no lives have been reported lost. In Towarda township rowboats were used in removing stock and household goods to safety. On Sunday it was impossible to get telegraphic communication with Harrisburg by way of Williamsport. Judge Fanning has issued his precept for a March term of court at Troy

THE STARVATION PLAN

Of Treating Dyspepsia and Stomach Troubles Is Useless and Unscientific.

The almost certain failure of the starvation cure for dyspepsia has been proven time and again, but even now a course of dieting is generally the first this recommended for a case of in-

Many people with weak indigestion, s well as some physicians consider the first step to take in attempting to cure indigestion is to restrict the diet, either by selecting certain foods and rejecting others or to cut down the amount of food caten to barely enough to keep soul and body together, in other words the starvation plan is by many supposed to be the first essential.

All this is radically wrong. It is foolish and unscientific to recommend dieting to a man already suffering from starvation because indigestion itself starves every organ, nerve and fibre in the body.

What people with poor digestion most need is, abundant nutrition, plenty of good, wholesome properly cooked food. and something to assist the weak stomach to digest it, This is exactly the purpose for which

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are adapted and the true reason why they cure the worst cases of stomach trouble. Eat a sufficient amount of wholesome food and after each meal take one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to promply digest it. in this way the system is nourished and the overworked stomach rested, because the tablets will digest the food whether the stomach works or not, one grain of the active digestive principle in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets being sufficient to digest 3,000 grains of meat, eggs or other albuminous food. Dr. Harlandson and Dr. Redwell recmmend these tablets in all cases of defective digestion because the pepsin and diastaste in them are absolutely free from animal matter and other impurities and being pleasant to the taste are as safe and harmless for the child as for the adult.

All drug stores sell this excellent preparation, and the daily use of them after meals will be of great benefit, not only as an immediate relief but to permanently build up and invigorate the digestive organs.
