FOR GOOD SUGGESTIONS.

Prizes Awarded by International Correspondence Schools.

Cash prizes, amounting to $100, were distributed yesterday among nine employees of the International Correspondence Schools for the fifteen best suggestions made during a given period of plans for the betterment of the company's business.

Marcus Duffy won three prizes, amounting to $15; W. P. Weichel, one prize of $10; C. J. Woodworth, three prizes, amounting to $7; F. V. Leach, three prizes, amounting to $5; C. D. Montague, one prize of $15; Miss Victoria Broadbent, one prize of $15; and Miss Ella Raynor, L. A. Osborne and E. L. Chambers, each a $10 prize.

The competition was open to all employees of the home office excepting the heads of departments, and each could make any number of suggestions. The suggestions were contained on slips of paper dropped in a box reserved for their reception. The awards were made by a committee of three from among the heads of departments, selected by President T. J. Foster.

BRYAN COMES TODAY.

Will Deliver a Lecture Tonight at the Lyceum.

William Jennings Bryan will lecture tonight at the Lyceum on "A Conquering Nation." The lecture will be given under the auspices of the St. Brendan council, Young Men's Institute, of West Scranton, and, primarily, is not a political affair.

Colonel Bryan will arrive here at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon from Buffalo. At the station, he will be met by a reception committee composed of Judge John P. Kelly, Judge E. C. Newcomb, Sheriff Charles H. Schmitt, Colonel F. J. Fitzsimmons, ex-Sheriff Charles Robinson, City Treasurer E. J. Robinson, ex-City Treasurer C. G. Boland, Jury Commissioner D. J. Campbell, County Commissioner John J. Buck, Colonel Herman Osthaus, Joseph O'Brien, A. P. Bedford, J. M. Chance, E. J. Lynett, Edward Merrifield and M. F. Cadden. While in the city, Colonel Bryan will be the guest of his former schoolmate, J. M. Chance.

The lecture will begin at 8:30 o'clock. E. J. Lynett will be chairman and introduce the lecturer. A large number of prominent citizens will occupy seats on the stage, in the capacity of vice presidents.

The lecture is in charge of the following committee of the Young Men's Institute: John J. Durkin, chairman; Thomas J. Fleming, secretary; Attorney M. F. Cawley, Attorney M. J. McAndrew, M. J. Fitzgibbon, Peter J. Mullany, Patrick F. Duffy, Jr., Timothy McCoy, James Donahoe, J. F. Durkin, Thomas Hurst and W. E. Ryan.

DREDGE THE RIVER BED.

Councilman Calpin's Scheme for Preventing Floods and Removing Disease-Breeding Sewage.

President P. F. Calpin, of the common council, believes that the cheapest way to prevent a repetition of the disastrous floods of last week and to insure the existence of healthy conditions along the line of the Lackawanna river is to deepen the channel of that stream by dredging.

He introduced a resolution in common council last night requesting the director of public works to submit to council an estimate of the cost of dredging the river from city line to city line. The resolution was passed unanimously without discussion. In speaking about it to a Tribune man, Mr. Calpin said: "I have come to the conclusion that the deepening of the channel of the Lackawanna river within the city limits is the only feasible way of preventing such terrible damage as was done last week by the flood. It would be a big undertaking to dredge the river for such a distance, but I don't think the cost would be excessively high. I think it could be done for $100,000 or $150,000, but that is only a guess.

"The deepening of the channel would be also a great advantage from a sanitary standpoint. The number of sewers emptying into the river is becoming larger every year, and in a very short time conditions which now disfigure breeding will become unbearable. I refer to conditions along the river from June to October, when there is very little water flowing and when sewage, instead of going down with the stream, lodges around rocks and stones in the river bed, or in little eddies which may be formed near shore.

"The stench from this sewage on a hot day is something that cannot be described. I know that the residents of my ward, who live near the river, are continually complaining of it, and I know that a very considerable portion of the disease which exists in this city in the summer time can be traced to it. If $100,000 or $200,000, for that matter, will remedy these conditions, I say that it will be money well spent."

DEATH OF REV. WM. EDGAR.

The Result of an Operation Performed on Tuesday.

Rev. William Edgar, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Owego, N. Y., died yesterday morning at his home at that place from the effects of an operation for appendicitis which he underwent Tuesday. The news of his death caused great sorrow in this city where he was well known. He was pastored at Providence M. E. church from 1855 to 1889; Dunmore M. E. church from 1887 to 1890 and Carbondale M. E. church from 1891 to 1894.

Mr. Edgar's wife died at Owego one year ago last January. He is survived by the following children: William, employed in the Third National bank in this city; Arthur, a student at Lafayette college, and Emily, who lived with her father at Owego.

The funeral will be held Saturday from the Dunmore M. E. church.

ARRESTS MAY CAUSE BOTHER

OLYPHANT WOMEN JAILED FOR STREET WALKING.

They Are Married and Claimed to Be Seeking a Hotel When Taken Into Custody Yesterday Morning. Their Husbands Came on the Scene and They Were Arrested—All Fined After a Hearing—Appeal Taken and Damage Suits Will Probably Result.

The arrest of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Dowd and of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Crandall, of Olyphant, early yesterday morning by Patrolman John McMullen, promises to be the cause of action against the city. Attorney Joseph O'Brien, after a hearing held yesterday afternoon, said there is trouble ahead for the patrolman and the city.

Both Mrs. Crandall and Mrs. O'Dowd were arrested for being drunk and street walking, while their husbands were charged with being drunk and with interfering with an officer. At the hearing before Magistrate Howe yesterday afternoon, the defendants were represented by Attorney Joseph O'Brien, while City Solicitor Watson and his assistant, D. J. Davis, appeared for the police. Attorney O'Brien had a stenographer on hand taking the testimony.

Patrolman McMullen, who made the arrests, testified that at 3:10 o'clock yesterday morning he saw Mrs. Crandall and Mrs. O'Dowd leave "Toxie" Jones' saloon, on Spruce street, unaccompanied, and start for Penn avenue. He stopped them at the corner and inquired where they were going. They told him they were seeking a hotel, he said, and that their husbands were just behind, where he placed them under arrest and charged them down Penn avenue toward Center street. Just as he was turning into Center street with them, Mrs. Crandall screamed and broke away, he said. She ran toward Lackawanna avenue and met Attorney Thomas J. Duggan, whom she pleaded with for protection.

HUSBANDS APPEARED.

McMullen said he caught hold of Mrs. O'Dowd and followed after Mrs. Crandall. Just as he caught up with the latter, the women's two husbands came rushing down the street and stepped between him and his prisoners. Mr. O'Dowd, he said, called him a "fake," and both interfered with him so that he placed them under arrest also, marching the four up to the Center street police station, where they were kept all night. He said that both the women and men appeared to be intoxicated.

On cross-examination by Attorney O'Brien, he admitted that the women were walking along in a peaceable, orderly manner and that they were neither boisterous or disorderly when he placed them under arrest.

Patrolman John Thomas, who was in charge at the station house, and Lieutenant James Crandall, who was in charge of the four of the prisoners, testified that they were drunk and that they made a loud noise in the station house. Patrolman Thomas said O'Dowd told him that he "ought to be shot down like the Boers."

He put the charge of "drunk" on O'Brien because his previous experience with drunken people led him to believe that they were all drunk.

Mrs. O'Dowd, an attractive young woman, testified in her own behalf. She said she and her husband, together with Mr. and Mrs. Crandall, came down from Olyphant on Wednesday night to go to the theatre. They attended the performance at the Academy of Music, and after the play her husband said that he wanted to go to "Toxie" Jones' place to see about returning some linen for his saloon in Olyphant. She didn't know the character of the place and went in with the rest of the party. They went to the back room, where they remained for two hours, while her husband had a conversation with Jones. She was served with beer, as was also Mrs. Crandall. She drank no intoxicants, she said.

WENT TO STATION.

All four left for the Delaware and Hudson station after 1 o'clock to take the train home, but were told it had gone, and started back to the Coyne house to stay over night. They decided to go back first to Jones' and see if they couldn't strike a better bargain. They again went into the saloon, going upstairs, and remained there until 6 o'clock, when she (Mrs. O'Dowd) complained of being tired. Her husband told her and Mrs. Crandall to go to the Coyne house and get rooms, promising that he and Crandall would follow at once. Mrs. O'Dowd thought Patrolman McMullen was taking her and Mrs. Crandall to a hotel at first, as she told him she was seeking one, and became greatly agitated when she learned she was under arrest.

Her husband corroborated her testimony, denied that she was drunk or that anyone else in the party was intoxicated, but admitted having "said things" to the officers because of his rage at seeing his wife arrested. He said that he had several hundred dollars in his pocket, but was not allowed to leave a forfeit for the party at the station house. He, himself, but recently came to Olyphant and had no knowledge of the character of "Toxie's"

CITY'S CREDIT GOOD.

Number of Inquiries Regarding the Proposed Bond Issue.

That Scranton's credit is a No. 1 is proven every day by the number of letters being received asking information regarding the coming issue of bonds, despite the fact that no advertisement of the proposed issue has appeared as yet in any of the financial papers. It can be seen from these that there will be no dearth of subscribers. When the bond ordinance comes up again in council, an amendment will be offered, providing that the bonds shall be free from all taxes, which the city shall agree to assume and pay. A number of those who have inquired about the bonds have indicated that they will not be taken up if the state tax on loans must be paid by the holders.

IT IS NOW UP TO RECORDER

GAS FRANCHISE ORDINANCE IS PASSED.

At Last Night's Meeting of Select Council It Received the Necessary Number of Votes—Went Through Common Some Time Ago—Recorder Vetted Ordinance Creating Office of Police Surgeon in Each Police District—Appropriation Ordinance Referred to Committee.

Select council last night passed on third reading the ordinance granting a franchise to the Consumers Gas company. At the last meeting it was amended and passed on second reading. When it came up last night Mr. Clemens took the floor and made a vigorous speech against the policy of giving franchises away as was being done in this case. The council was then polled and the ordinance passed by the following vote:

Yeas—Rose, Finn, Castello, Morgan, Regan, Maloney, Melvin, Wagner, Schneider, Shea, Schuler, O'Brien and McAndrew. Nays—Merriman, Oliver, Clemens, O'Malley, Childress—5.

Mr. Cosgrove refused to vote. The ordinance has passed common council and is now ready for the recorder's consideration.

The common council ordinance providing for the appointment of a police surgeon for each police district of the city was returned with a veto from Recorder Cornell. The veto was sustained. The recorder's communication reads as follows:

To the Honorable, the Select and Common Councils, City of Scranton, Pa.

Gentlemen: I herewith return without my approval the ordinance, No. 15, 1901, an ordinance providing for the appointment of a police surgeon in each of the police districts of the city of Scranton, fixing their salary.

In my opinion the provisions of this ordinance are not for the best interests of the city. I have in consideration a plan for the establishment of both the police and the bureau on a civil service basis, which I propose to submit to your honorable bodies during the coming year. In the event of this being done it will be advisable to have a physician and surgeon in connection with the bureau of health, who will be paid to give his time not only to the work ordinarily coming through the station houses, but also to the general care and supervision over the health of the members of both bureaus. I am, Very respectfully yours,
W. L. Cornell, Recorder.

OPPOSITION TO ORDINANCE.

The appropriation ordinance came over from common council and was referred to a committee for consideration. Other common council ordinances introduced provide for a night watchman at Green Ridge street, Delaware and Hudson crossing; for sidewalks and gutters on Brick avenue from West Market street to William street.

The recent flood incited a resolution from Councilman Schneider, directing the city engineer to prepare a map showing the channel of the river in 1860 within the city limits and its present channel. The director of public works and chief engineer were also directed by another resolution to investigate the cause of the overflow of the Ninth district main sewer and recommend a remedy.

Other resolutions direct the chief engineer to give an estimate of the cost of a sewer to drain the territory lying between Ravine street and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Diamond track and between the embankment north of Providence road and the Lackawanna river, said plan to show the course of the several sewers, directing the director of public works to notify the owners of lots along Providence road and Carbon street to open gutters. These were all approved.

Another resolution adopted by council directs the city solicitor to commence judgment for the sum of $294.50, being the amount of fines collected from Charles H. Major and others who were arrested in the club house at Lackawanna and Adams avenue some months ago. An appeal from the summary conviction before Police Magistrate Howe in these cases was taken to court and the justice was reversed. The city must now refund the money collected as fines. Common council also approved of the resolution.

PARK REGULATIONS.

An ordinance introduced by Councilman Clemens provides regulations for the government of the parks of the city and penalties for the violation of the regulations.

On second reading, ordinances passed for two electric lights in the Eleventh ward; for grade of Taylor avenue; for basin at Jackson street and Rebecca avenue.

Besides the gas franchise ordinance, the following passed on third reading: For payment of the claim of M. F. Wylms; for the erection of three fire alarm boxes in the Twenty-first ward; for an electric light at Wyoming avenue and Phelps street.

STORM HAS ABATED.

Traffic Is Being Reopened on the Trolley Lines and Steam Roads.

Making Schedule Time.

It ceased snowing about 5 o'clock yesterday morning and there followed a bright, sunny, though not warm day. The snow was then cleared up with most of its immediate predecessors.

The Scranton Railway company had all its available men with cars and sweepers at work all night and all yesterday. By midnight they had succeeded in opening up the Dunmore Suburban, Peterburg, Green Ridge People's, Green Ridge Suburban, South Main and Laurel Hill lines. Today if not tomorrow the Lackawanna, Washburn, Luzerne, Bellevue, Stone, Stone, South Side, Providence and inter-urban lines will be opened.

The effects of the snow storm on the railroads entering Scranton was not as serious as was generally expected. Trains were run yesterday nearer to schedule time than on any day during the past week.

The Bloomsburg division of the Lackawanna railroad, which was tied up by the snow storm, had been reopened yesterday and trains were run through to Northumberland. This division has been affected since last Friday. The regular running schedule will be in force this morning.

Operations were resumed yesterday at the Bellevue and Dodge collieries, and at all the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western washeries, and it is expected all the other collieries will be in operation this morning.

The total depth of the snowfall was 12.8 inches. This is not considered sufficient to occasion any serious swelling of the streams, even if there should be a sudden thaw. The forecast for today is fair, with increasing cloudiness towards nightfall.
