TO RECOVER SIX DOLLARS

Poor Board to Proceed Against ex-Director P. A. Rivenburg's Bondsmen for the Principle Involved.

Other Poor Board Matters.

The matter of the deficiency of ex-Secretary P. A. Rivenburg, of the old poor board, amounting to $6, was taken up at last night's meeting of that body and was disposed of by the board instructing its solicitor, Attorney H. C. Butler, to proceed to recover from the bondsmen of Rivenburg. Rivenburg's shortage is for alleged supplies obtained from the farm during his term and for which he made no return. The auditors it was found the surcharges against him. He is the last of several old members, likewise charged, who has failed to settle. The amount is only a trifle, but the board is going to press the suit in order to be consistent.

The roving character, ex-Alderman Patrick Grier, who has so often been heard from through being picked up by charitable institutions, was heard from again in a communication sent by the poor authorities in Somerset county, this state. Grier, who has been an inmate of the almshouse there for about six weeks, is ready to start for home, or at least has left the institution. He represented to the authorities there that Carbondale was his home, that he always lived there and was away only "a few months at a time," while "on a tramp," that he owned property in Carbondale and paid taxes there. He made an affidavit to that effect. A bill for his board and clothing, amounting to $17.54, was sent for payment.

The board decided the ex-alderman had no claim on the poor department, and laid the communication on the table.

A bill from City Treasurer Conroy for $250, for three years' rent for the rooms occupied by the board, was put on the table until the next meeting. There was a question as to one year's rent.

George B. Stone, who represented the Sharpless separator, appeared before the board to endeavor to place one of the separators in the poor farm. The proposition was put over until the next meeting.

After approving of a number of bills, the meeting adjourned.

BREAD DYSPEPSIA.

White Bread Makes Trouble with Some People.

Loading up with white bread and starchy cereals is quite sure to ultimately bring on some disorder of the bowels, and is frequently the cause of appendicitis.

The starches are not digested in the upper stomach but are treated in the duodenum and from there on down through the whole length of the bowels. Consequently, if too much starchy food is used, particularly white bread, trouble is likely to set in. White bread does not contain the diastatic principles which nature placed in the wheat berry to help digest starch, but the white flour miller leaves that part out.

Grape-Nuts Breakfast Food was perfected purposely to supply the starch of the cereals and the other parts intended by Nature for use, and presents them to the body in a form that will easily be digested. In fact they are predigested by a natural means during the process of manufacture, so that one can get all the energy and value from that sort of food without overloading the organs.

"A man from Brantford, Ont., says: 'For the first twenty years of my life I lived out of doors, then I took up my present employment, which is indoors, and requires the exercise of the brain rather than the body.'

Gradually a languid feeling took possession of me, which developed into dyspepsia and later into constipation. These conditions continued for several years in spite of pills and laxatives without number. After a time I began to suffer from great lack of vitality and from time to time with gramps in the bowels which usually laid me up for three or four days. Finally the physician discovered that I was on the point of appendicitis. After one of these severe attacks, about six months ago, a neighbor brought in part of a package of Grape-Nuts to try, and I noticed good results from the first, and have continued to use the Food in place of white bread and cereals I formerly used.

I have gained considerably in weight, feel much better than I have in years, my complexion has cleared up, digestion is good, and I have not had a cramp since starting; but more important than all else, I notice a distinct clearness of mind sustained by an energy and nerve force that I have not known before.

I have learned an exceedingly valuable lesson in living and will not, hereafter, load myself down with food requiring too much bulk to supply a sufficient amount of nourishment as I used to. This lesson in moderation in diet, and knowing how to select proper food is worth everything to me." Name furnished by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

THEIR GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. William Atkinson Have a Felicitous Celebration.

A felicitous event was celebrated at the home of Mrs. A. E. Isgar, of River street, yesterday, the occasion of the fiftieth marriage anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Atkinson.

The eventful day was marked by a family gathering which convened at 10 o'clock in the morning and continued until 6 o'clock in the evening. The home was resplendent with decorations, palms, ferns, amulax and cut flowers in profusion, being arranged with artistic taste. The scheme of decoration was yellow and green, the former being a symbol of their golden anniversary, the latter of the ripe affection of youth which still united them. The tables were more resplendent with silver, cut glass and flowers.

The morning hours were sacred to the family, who spent a delightful half day with the happy couple whose years were filled with so much marital bliss. A happy incident was the presentation of a purse of gold that came from the children. These were: James H. Atkinson, of Philadelphia; William G. of Susquehanna; Edward F., of this city; Mrs. Joseph Hammerle, of Wilkes-Barre; Mrs. A. E. Isgar, Mrs. George F. Mills, and Mrs. William Thomas, of this city; fifteen grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Other substantial presents were also received by Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson. At noon dining was enjoyed. In the afternoon numerous friends called to offer their felicitations and their wishes for continued happiness. A luncheon was partaken of during this period.

Mr. and Mrs. William Atkinson are among the city's most highly esteemed residents. The former was born in Selside, England, on September 27, 1825, and came to America in 1849. He located in Clifford township. Hannah Hurd was born in Sopbergh, England, on May 11, 1834, and with her parents came to this country in 1844. They located in Greenfield township. On March 14, 1852, the couple were united in wedlock in Greenfield township by Rev. John H. Tompkins, a Baptist clergyman.

In 1860 Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson came to Carbondale and took up their residence in a house which then stood on the old Jordan property on Dundaff street, just north of Salem avenue. Later they removed to their present location on River street. On July 3, 1861, Atkinson entered the employ of the Delaware and Hudson company, with whom he remained continuously for thirty-six years and until his retirement from active work. He was one of the most faithful and trusted employees of the company and was in the enjoyment of esteem of his superiors and fellow workmen. He was for many years foreman of the car yard gang.

BRAKEMAN DOUGLASS INJURED

Falls from Top of Moving Train. Foot Badly Bruised.

William Douglass, of Canaan street, a freight brakeman on the Delaware and Hudson road, fell from the top of a car yesterday, the train having passed unknown to him. While his right foot was badly squeezed he is exceedingly grateful that he is alive, for the experience from which he emerged with the comparatively slight injuries, was one of those which had a big element of luck.

The crew was switching cars at Moosic when the accident occurred. Douglass was in the middle of the train and in such a position that he could see neither the engine on the rear end. Just as he was stepping from a gondola to a box car, the train parted and Douglass fell between the divided train. No cars passed over any part of him, but his foot caught on the flange of the wheel and was badly bruised and cut.

Dr. D. L. Bailey was called to attend Douglass after he reached this city on the 7:04 evening train and was taken to his home. The surgeon found no bones broken, though the flesh was badly torn. Douglass will not lose his foot, the doctor believes.

Before he became a brakeman, Douglass was employed as coachman for Superintendent C. R. Manville, of the Delaware and Hudson.

CLOSE OF MISSION.

Four Weeks' Period of Devotion at St. Rose Church Ends Tomorrow.

The mission services which have been in progress in St. Rose church for four weeks, under the direction of the Redeemptorist fathers, will come to a close Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

This, the final week, has been given over to the unmarried men of the congregation, and, like those that preceded, was marked by unexampled devotion and fervor. The evening services and instructions, and the early morning mass, at 5 o'clock, have found the congregation of zealous and fervent young men that was highly edifying. Aside from those who were ill, there were but a few souls in the large congregation who failed to grasp the exceptional advantages of grace that the mission offered.

The closing ceremony, which commences at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, will be an impressive one. After the sermon, the men, with lighted candles, the symbol of faith, will renew their baptismal vows, which contain the renunciation of Satan and all his powers and the belief in the teachings of the Catholic church. Then the blessing of the church, of the pope and the missionaries will be bestowed. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will close the service and the mission.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

Fifth Sunday in Lent. Sabbath school at 9:30 a. m.; services at 10:30 a. m. Sermon on St. John, 3:14. The fiery serpent upon a pole, the type of Christ's crucifixion.

Lenten services on Thursday evening at 7:30.

All attending will find a cordial welcome.

Changes at American House.

Landford Williams, of the American house, had work started yesterday towards carrying out the changes that will take place in the hotel after April 1. Re-papering of the parition wall between the hotel proper and the room occupied by the Electric Light company's office was begun. After the first of April, when the light company vacates, the room it now occupies will be made ready for the hotel cafe, which is now located at the rear of the fice. Where the cafe is now located, will be utilized as a sample room. This was the arrangement which was in vogue just after the hotel was re-built. There will be two entrances to the cafe, the main one from the street, the other from the hall of the hotel for the accommodation of guests.

ATTENDED A "SUGAR LICK."

Carbondale Young Men Enjoy an Evening's Frolic at Dundaff.

A quartette of young men from this city, Boyd Oliver, Curt Lee, Rex Nicholson, Willis Wilson, Fred Gleason, had a great evening of fun on Thursday night at the home of O. T. Hall in Dundaff, where a "sugar lick" was held.

A "sugar lick" is an indispensable feature of the maple sugar season. So soon as the sap begins to run, the mind, in the rural towns, turns to sugar parties and of these the "sugar lick" is the most popular. The significance of the "lick" is that you get a bowl or saucer of warm maple syrup, fresh from the vat of boiling syrup. The warm syrup is stirred until it sugars and is then eaten, with that relish that everybody whose palate is tickled with new maple sugar. This relish is so keen that one is tempted to lick the platter clean, like Jack Sprat and his wife.

In the assemblage at the Hall home the country folks about were well represented. A delightful evening was spent. Games that city folks know nothing about, but are the thing in the country, made the night a merry one. A feature of the evening was a solace solo by Fred Gleason.

Those present from Dundaff were Misses Flora Burdett, Gertie Baker, Ethel Baker, Teana Perry, Ora Howell, Maud Allen, Gertie Spencer, Florence Millard, Nina Tinker, Grace Millard, Gertrude Phillips, Messrs. James Brown, Grover Rivenburg, Roy Moon, James Tinker, John Wayman, William Hatcher, Arthur Lee, Raymond Allen, Arch Davis, Walter White.

RETURN OF A FAVORITE.

Campbell Stratton, Formerly with Bennett & Moulton, at the Grand on Monday.

Campbell Stratton, who is leading man in the Schiller Stock company, which opens a week's engagement at the Grand on Monday afternoon, is an old Carbondale favorite. He was here last with the Bennett & Moulton company, and attracted a host of admirers, particularly among the attendants at the matinee performances. He will be greeted by many friends on his return Monday.

The opening bill, Monday afternoon, will be "Woman's Enemy." The evening attraction will be the "City of New York." Tickets are now on sale, and the prices are 10, 20 and 25 cents, at night, and for the holiday matinee; all reserved seats, 20 cents; gallery, 10 cents. Two hundred ladies' 15 cent tickets will be sold for Tuesday night only.

The attractions the rest of the week are: Tuesday, "Monte Cristo," Wednesday, matinee, "Dora Thorne," Wednesday night, "Heart of Fire," Thursday, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," Friday, "Daughters of the Poor," Saturday, matinee, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and Saturday night, "Jesse James."

THE NEW TROLLEY LINE.

Supposed Surveyors for the Road Coming Towards This City.

A corps of surveyors supposed to be working in the interest of the new trolley line that promises to be a factor in the city's activities, are making measurements in the southern end of the city, presumably along the proposed path of the road.

The re-appearance of the surveyors has awakened speculation as to how the new line will enter Carbondale. It seems certain that it will come up through Brooklyn, but this is only guess work as to the terminal in this city. The old story about the link site at South Main street and Seventh street, as being the coveted spot has been revived like all the other poorly founded rumors. No one can say, with the least degree of certainty, where the road will enter the central part of town and where it looks now will be located, for the promoters of the road are discreetly silent and are holding the surveying corps under the most sacred silence. About the link site, it can be said that no options have been sought, but the Antiracite building which was also talked of as a possible site.

TRIED TO GET "FLORODORA."

Manager Byrne's Persistent Efforts to Secure This Attraction Hardly Successful.

Manager Byrne, of the Grand, has made earnest and persistent efforts to book the great musical hit, "Florodora," for an appearance at the opera house before the end of this season. He has had considerable correspondence with Fisher & Ryley, the owners of the production, but it looks now as if "Florodora" will not come this way this year, at least.

Yesterday Mr. Byrne received a letter from this theatrical firm saying that owing to the way in which it was necessary to book the show, it was feared that it could not come to Carbondale. This would indicate that the patrons of the Grand will not hear the beautiful melodies of "Florodora." In "The Runaway Girl," which will be here on Saturday, April 19, Carbondaleans will have a great treat. Many discriminating theatre-goers regard the latter as highly as "Florodora."

A SORELY AFFLICTED FAMILY.

Daughter of Frank Fitzsimmons Dies, While a Son Is Just from the Hospital.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fitzsimmons, on Canaan street, is sorely afflicted. A week ago, their daughter, Frances, was taken to Emergency hospital to be treated for indigestion. On Tuesday, the son, Willie, about 10 years old, was taken to the hospital, suffering from an injury to his eye, by running against a barb wire fence. Wednesday, the girl was removed to her home, and last evening she died.

The daughter's death was quite sudden and somewhat unexpected, which, coupled with the other child's injury, makes the family's sorrow one of poignant grief. The girl had been sick about a year, but indigestion, and when she became much worse she was taken to the hospital. This course was of little avail, and when it was realized that the treatment was of no avail, she was taken to her home, where her death speedily followed. The boy, whose eye was injured, was taken home from the hospital yesterday.

The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence, on upper Canaan street. Burial will be in St. Rose cemetery.

The warm-hearted sympathies of the community go out to Mr. and Mrs. Fitzsimmons in their sorrow.
