The second piece, as the title suggests, is a melody accompanied by simple chords as well as by independent melodic phrases. The third piece is less definitive, imaginative (and suggestive) than the second. But it is similar in construction.

Bonadi, G. "La Belle Amazone." D flat, G flat, and A flat major, 4-4. Ten pages, Allegro brillante, A piece de concert, with generously large effects. Octaves abound in many applications, especially in the right hand. Biedermann, A. J. Six pieces for grade An exceptionally useful set of pieces for a grade that is not over-supplied. Sudds, W. F. "Merry Bohe-mians." In A minor, 3-4, four pages, Allegretto con entusiasmo. Somewhat of mazurka character, but broader in general conception than that familiar form, and not wholly confined within its rhythm. Strelezki, Anton. plano duets. Excellent for the artistic training of two students of similar at tainments. Very desirable recital numbers. Bartlett, Homer N. "A Dream of the Dance." In E flat and B flat major, 8-8 and 3-4. Five pages. Tempo di Valse lente. Thoroughly musical, refined, and interesting, and of value as a study in sustained melody. Bartlett, the annual concert of the band was Homer N. "Prayer at Eventide." In E flat major, 4-4. Two pages. Andante religioso. It will be used for its musical quality and for the excellent study it offers in legato playing. Sudds, W. F. Among new songs recently published by the Oliver Oitson company we note: Barrell, Edgar A. "O God, Be Merciful to Me." Medium voice in D flat, (E flat, or a flat to F). A simple and not difficult church song, moderate in range belonging to the emotional class of sacred music. Frey, Adolf. "Bow Down Thine Ear, O Lord." High voice in E flat (d to g). A fine sacred song, earnest in spirit and churchly in style Adapted for use in churches of all denominations. McCoy, W. J. "To the Raindrops." High voice in F (d to g). Would make a charming encore number. McCoy, W. J. "At the Garden Gate." high voice in F (F to g). A bright little song of a man and a maid, best suited in style and treatment for a soprano, though it might be used with effect by a light tenor. Arsini, Giusep-pe. "Perhaps!" (Forse!) High voice in E sharp to g sharp). Italian grace of melody and fluent vocal writing, combined with technical skill, make this a very attractive song. Useful both for concert use and in teaching. Arens, Franz X. "When the Land was White with Moonlight." High voice in G (E flat to a). Also for medium voice is cast in a large mold; the melody is broad and flowing. there are well-contrasted emotional effects, and the vocal part will give the singer much pleasure. At a regular meeting of Bauer's band, held on Tuesday evening last at their quarters, on Wyoming avenue, several matters of importance to the organization were acted upon. As a fund raiser, discussed. The members decided to give their fifth annual concert in April at the Lyceum theatre. The band members at present are badly in need of uniforms. A committee has been appointed to solicit bids from our local tailors. The prospects are that the contract will be let immediately, as soon as the bids are in, and the firm chosen, so that when the band turns out in May to the Grand conclave of Knights Templar, in this city, they will not only furnish good music, but look trim in a new uniform

John T. Watkins is unusually busy these days, with nearly one hundred pupils on his list, a choral society to direct in connection with the Newman Magazine and Historical society, and the Elm Park Sunday school chorus of forty voices. He is to sing the bass solos in the Taylor Oratorio society's production of "Judas Maccabens," in which his solos are "Arm, Arm, Ye Brave," "The Lord Worketh Won-"With Plous Hearts and "Rejoice, O Judah." A concert for the Ply-mouth church, Hyde Park, and assisting the Home for the Friendless managers in the work of arranging for their benefit concert at the new armory, April 3.

The following musical selections will be rendered at the morning and evening services tomorow at Elm Park church, under the direction of J. Alfred Pennington, organist and choir master. MORNING.

Your Suit Or Overcoat For Spring

Those men who can afford the prices of the best custom tailors, and the gentlemen who sacrifice a large amount of money on an idea---the idea that because their clothes are made to order they are better than the best readymade; or those who wish to have it known that their clothes were made by So-and-So, the swell tailor. All of this class of dressers we are gradually but surely winning to our proved "Atterbury" System of ready-to-wear clothes.

Many new features are shown in our Spring Styles that are original. The cloth patterns are selected and the qualities have been tested for their durability. Prices
