The Dwellings of Seven Residents of Hughestown Are Disturbed.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Pittston, March 26.-Seven dwellings on Center street, in a suburb of Pittston known as Hughestown, were disturbed about 8 o'clock tonight by the settling of the ground over abandoned workings of No. 8 colliery of the Erie company. The houses affected were occupied by John Norton, Linn Olmstead, Thos. Keating, Robert Drummond, Henry Schaltz, Eugene Carichner and Otto Dubwisky. The Spring Brook water main burst during the squeeze, causing considerable trouble. About three acres of the surface has been affected and the ground is still settling.
