MORE ABOUT THE GREAT CONTEST

Detailed Description of the Plan and Scholarships Offered.

REWARDS WORTH EIGHT THOUSAND DOLLARS

Since the first announcement was made last Saturday, Scholarships Have Been Added in Newton Collegiate Institute, School of the Lackawanna, Cotuit Cottages (Summer School), and Hardenbergh School of Music and Art—An Opportunity for Education Never Before Equalled—Educations, Covering Board and Tuition for Four Years in Some of the Leading Institutions in the Country, for the Work of a Few Short Months. Rules of the Contest—How to Begin and How to Be Successful. Full Description of the Twenty-seven Scholarships—What the Contestants Did Last Year—Residence Made No Difference—The Majority of the Winners Resided Outside of Scranton—Advantages of Beginning at the Beginning.

As announced one week ago, the Scranton Tribune will begin its third Educational Contest on Monday morning, May 5, 1902. This year's contest is to be much greater and contains many more scholarships than the two which aroused so great an interest in 1900 and 1901. The young people of Scranton, Lackawanna county and throughout all Northeastern Pennsylvania are invited to enter their names as contestants. This Educational Contest is open to all young people, of either sex, and the scholarships offered, from which the contest derives its name, are available in most instances to either young men or women. The idea of the Educational Contests has been received very favorably by clergymen, school teachers and leaders of thought in many walks of life, because its primary object is to help young men and women to help themselves, and it offers opportunities for them to secure advanced education without pecuniary expense to them. The scholarships are given absolutely to the winners. The only conditions that we make are that the recipients shall help us while we are helping them. We co-operate heartily with our contestants, and aid them in every possible way. The mode of operation is as follows:

Plan of the Contest. The special rewards, consisting of more than a score of scholarships in many different institutions of learning in this and other states, will be given to the persons securing the largest number of points. Points will be credited to contestants securing new subscribers to The Scranton Tribune. The contestant with the highest number of points will be given a choice from the list of special rewards; the contestant with the second highest number of points will be given a choice of the remaining rewards, and so on through the list. All subscriptions must be paid in advance. Subscriptions must be written on blanks, which can be secured at The Tribune office, or will be sent by mail. That is the substance of The Tribune's offer. All that is required is for young people to canvass for subscribers to The Tribune, and the ones securing the largest number will have a free and unlimited choice of the scholarships offered. This list of scholarships is so large and varied that they will suit any individual's desire for higher education. Among the number will be found collegiate, academic, technical, scientific, business, shorthand, musical, art, and almost every subject of study. Surely among such a diversity every one should be satisfied. The Tribune's Aim. The Tribune aims to still further increase its already large circulation by this means during the coming summer. It is the best and cleanest paper published in Northeastern Pennsylvania, and when it once finds its way into a family its merits will enable it to remain permanently. In order to Introduce it we seek the co-operation of ambitious, intelligent young men and women, and, to gain their help, will for a third time put into execution a plan that is sure to appeal to this class of workers. One point will be credited for every month's subscription to The Tribune; a three months' subscription counting three points, and so on up to a year or more, each yearly subscription counting 12 points. For example, a year's subscription, costing $5, allows credit for 12 points, whereas 12 monthly subscriptions, costing $6, also secures 12 points. Hence it is to the interest of contestants to secure long-term subscribers. In most instances, they should have little difficulty in securing subscriptions of three months, at $1.25, thereby being entitled to 3 points. Whenever a yearly subscriber is secured, the contestant receives 12 points and his total advances rapidly. This does not mean that there is any reduction in the price of The Tribune; any person, whether at present a subscriber or not, is entitled to the same rate providing he pays strictly in advance.

How to Begin. Each person who wishes to engage in this contest, upon signifying his or her intention, either by mail or by applying at the office of The Tribune, will be furnished with a book of subscription blanks on the day the contest opens, wherein will be set forth the rules governing the contest, how the points are to be counted, and a list of the special rewards, with their cash value. Each book of subscription blanks will consist of ten leaves, giving spaces for names of new subscribers. Each contestant must fill out one of these books before receiving another. Only one book at a time is to be furnished. Each contestant, however, while waiting for a new book, can still keep up the canvass, making a memorandum of all new names, and on receipt of the book fill it out and immediately apply for another. The Tribune will also furnish all applicants with sample copies of the paper for use in the contest, and all inquiries for additional information will receive prompt attention. If there is any point not covered in this article, do not hesitate to write for an explanation.

How to Be Successful. The book of subscription blanks will be accompanied with literature containing logical reasons why the friends of the contestants should subscribe, together with arguments for the contestants to present to their friends and others why they should subscribe for The Tribune. Read these over carefully. It will pay you to commit them to memory. You will then be well equipped with material for gaining their interest by convincing them of the desirability of becoming subscribers. Read The Tribune yourself. This will enable you to point out to prospective subscribers special features which will appeal particularly to them, such as local correspondence from towns where they formerly resided or have friends; the fact that The Tribune publishes more Scranton news than any other paper; that it is the only Scranton paper that receives the full service of the Associated Press, the greatest news-gathering organization in the world; that it is the largest and most reliable business house; its column for advertising purposes. Especially dwell upon the fact that The Tribune is a clean, reliable family newspaper, and that its news and advertisements can be depended upon without question.

All Will Be Paid. For those contestants who do not secure enough points to be entitled to a choice of scholarships there will still be something left to console them for their efforts. Their work will not be profitless, as they will each receive a liberal commission, fully as great as most canvassers or agents receive, 10 per cent. of all the subscription money that they procure. "Every laborer is worthy of his hire," and not one contestant who engages in this work and devotes his or her time for the benefit of The Tribune will go unrewarded. Rules of the Contest. 1. The special rewards will be given to the persons securing the largest number of points. 2. Points will be credited to contestants securing new subscribers to The Scranton Tribune as follows: One month's subscription 1 point Three months' subscription 3 points Six months' subscription 6 points One year's subscription 12 points 3. The contestant with the highest number of points will be given a choice from the list of special rewards; the contestant with the next highest number of points will be given a choice of the remaining rewards, and so on through the list. 4. Each contestant failing to secure a special reward will be given 10 per cent. of all the money he or she turns in.

5. All subscriptions must be paid in advance. 6. Only new subscribers will be counted. 7. The contestant who secures the highest number of points during any calendar month of the contest will receive a Special Honor Reward, this reward being entirely independent of the ultimate disposition of the scholarships. 8. Renewals by persons whose names are already on our subscription lists will not be counted. (A contestant can, however, secure a renewal from a person whose name he or she turned in originally.) The Tribune will investigate each subscription and if found irregular in any way reserves the right to reject it. 9. No transfers can be made after credit has once been given. 10. All subscriptions, and the cash to pay for the same, must be handed in at The Tribune office within the week in which they are secured, so that papers may be sent to the subscribers at once. 11. Subscriptions must be written on special blanks, which can be procured at The Tribune office or will be sent by mail. It must be borne strictly in mind that credits will be given only for new subscribers, fully prepaid, and also that after points have been credited to one contestant they will not be transferred to any other contestant, whether then on the list or who may enter thereafter.

What the Contestants Did Last Year. Miss Wilhelmine Griffin, of Providence, secured 1704 points, equal to 142 subscribers for one year each, and received an order for a four years' course in Swarthmore College, valued at $1,000. Garfield Anderson, of Carbondale, secured 889 points, equal to 72 subscribers at one year each, and received an order for a four years' scholarship in Lafayette College, valued at $1,000. Meyer Lewis, of Scranton, secured 856 points, equal to 71 subscribers at one year each, and received an order for a three years' scholarship in the Stroudsburg State Normal School, valued at $675. Henry Schwenker, of South Scranton, secured 823 points, equal to 68 subscribers at one year each, and received an order for a course in the Scranton Conservatory of Music, valued at $75. William Miles, of Hyde Park, secured 603 points, equal to 50 subscribers at one year each, and received an order for a scholarship in the Scranton Business College, valued at $75. Ivey Buckingham, of Elmhurst, secured 555 points, equal to 29 yearly subscribers, and received an order for a scholarship in the Scranton Business College, valued at $75. Miss Vida Pedrick, of Clark's Summit, secured 551 points, equal to 29 yearly subscribers, and received an order for a scholarship at the Scranton Conservatory of Music, valued at $75.

These Got Ten Per Cent. In addition to those receiving scholarships, the following persons each got 10 per cent. of the actual cash they turned in for subscriptions during the contest: Frank Kemmerer, Factoryville; August Brunner, Carbondale; David O. Emery, Wimmers; Arthur C. Griffin, Montrose; Miss Minnie Wallis, Carbondale; W. H. Harris, Hyde Park; Harry Freeman, Bellevue; E. J. Sheridan, Hawley; Miss Jennie Ward, Olyphant; Robert Campbell, Green Ridge, and R. Leo Huber, Scranton.

Residence Made No Difference. It will be noticed that the contestants were not confined to the central city, but were located in various places, some of which are quite a distance from Scranton. Besides those in Providence, Hyde Park and Green Ridge, some of the most successful competitors were in Carbondale, South Scranton, Elmhurst, Clark's Summit, Factoryville, Wimmers, Montrose, Bellevue, Hawley, and Olyphant. Last year a number of the contestants were employed in regular situations and devoted only their spare time to the securing of subscriptions. Yet they found time to work for themselves after business hours to good advantage. To achieve satisfactory results it is absolutely necessary that you go into an undertaking with your whole heart and a strong determination to accomplish something definite. Half-hearted efforts can never bring complete success. If you make up your mind to enter, go in to win and resolve to work faithfully, not for a day or a week, but until the very last hour of the contest. It is not necessary to go to another part of the city or to another town to begin your canvass. Start right where you are. You can get the largest number of subscribers in your home community, where you are best known. Your friends and neighbors will become interested in your ambition, and you can easily secure their subscriptions. Then you can branch out. Begin at the Beginning. There never will be a more opportune time for you to commence work than right at the beginning of the contest. Send in your name now as a contestant, and when the canvassers' outfits are sent out, prior to the first day, you will receive one. Then commence to solicit subscriptions. Call upon the influential people of your locality and tell them about the Educational Contest and your aspirations. They will be glad to do what they can to help you. After you have gotten the influential people interested, commence a house-to-house canvass. Call on everybody and get as many names as you can. Always carry your book of blanks with you in which to enter the names of subscribers. You wish then to have them at hand to read to those you are soliciting in order to convince them that their friends and neighbors are subscribing. If you send in your name now you will be among the first to receive the canvassers' outfit. Address your letter to "Contest Editor, Scranton Tribune, Scranton, Pa." The following made application yesterday to be enrolled in the list of contestants: William T. S. Rodriguez, 428 Webster avenue. Lynn Stark, Clark's Green. Bert Nolan, 733 Jefferson avenue.

DESCRIPTION OF SCHOLARSHIPS Syracuse University. Located at Syracuse, N. Y. There are two scholarships offered at this university, the successful contestants having a choice of one in the College of Liberal Arts or one in the College of Applied Science. In the first-named, three general courses of study are offered, viz., the classical course, the philosophical course, and the course in science. In the College of Applied Science, three courses also are offered, viz., civil engineering, electrical engineering and mechanical engineering. Syracuse University has a faculty of 163 instructors and lecturers. Prof. James Roscoe Gay, S. T. D., LL.D., Chancellor, is a graduate of Bowdoin College. The university campus contains eighty-four acres. There are five colleges organized and in operation. The general library contains about 47,000 volumes and 13,000 pamphlets; there are also professional libraries in each of the colleges. The university museums contain material for illustrating the subjects of geology, zoology, botany, chemistry and archaeology. Each of these scholarships covers full tuition for four years, at a value of $450 for each scholarship. Open to young men.

Washington School for Boys. Located at Washington, D. C. Admits any boy, of any age, without formal entrance examinations. This is a boarding school, and is an expensive school in the United States; its faculty is composed of teachers of the highest erudition, and the school caters to exclusive families. It is highly endorsed by public men, college professors and clergymen. It was founded to give physically and mentally handicapped boys a rounded education; to develop their physical, mentally and morally; to prepare them for higher education or for the duties of active life. Situated in the capital of the nation, it affords educational opportunities elsewhere impossible. The unit of the Washington School is the boy, and the number of scholars is limited, the special needs of each one are provided for, and a boy is never lost sight of because he is one in a crowd. This is the highest priced scholarship ever offered in our Educational Contests. It is for five years (or less, if the student should complete the course in a shorter time), and includes tuition and luncheon at mid-day. Cash value, $1,700.

Williamsport Dickinson Seminary. Located at Williamsport, Pa. One scholarship, for three years, covering board, tuition, furnished room, light, heat and washing. For a young man or woman. The courses included in this offer are either in the normal English course, course in science and literature, belles lettres course, college-preparatory course, classical course, practical science course, or the course in history and literature. This is an institution of high grade, with ample facilities for giving young ladies and gentlemen a superior education. The buildings occupy an eminence overlooking the city of Williamsport and are surrounded by beautiful shade trees. The grounds contain six acres. The buildings are of brick. There is a faculty of seventeen, headed by Dr. Edward James Gray, A. M., D. D., President. Libraries, gymnasiums and bowling alleys lend aid to the development of mind and body. The apartments are entirely separate from the others. Value of this scholarship, $750.

Dickinson Collegiate Preparatory School. Located at Carlisle, Pa. One scholarship, for two years, covering board, tuition, furnished room, heat, light and laundry. For a young man or woman. This scholarship admits to courses in either the classical, Latin-scientific or scientific departments of the school. This school is primarily a Methodist institution, but does not cater to or discriminate against any sect. This school was founded in 1783, and reorganized in 1877. Its success has been marked. It is under the immediate supervision of the President of Dickinson College, George Edward Reed, S. T. D.,

LL.D., who is President, ex-officio, and Fred Elliott Downes, A. M., Principal. These are aided by a strong and constantly enlarging faculty. During the past year a handsome new school building has been constructed at a cost of $60,000. Value of the scholarship, $750. Newton Collegiate Institute and Military Academy. Located at Newton, N. J. One scholarship, for two years, for a young man. This institution is under military organization and, in addition to the usual studies taught at preparatory schools, horsemanship is one of the features, the school having ponies and horses of its own, on which lessons are given in riding. This school offers instruction in all studies, from the primary to college preparatory. This scholarship includes board, furnished room, heat, light, washing, and tuition in all courses for two years, at a value of $360 a year, or a total of $720. Keystone Academy. Located at Factoryville, Pa. One scholarship for three years, including board, tuition, furnished room, heat, light and washing. For a young man or woman. The Academy has three courses of instruction, namely, a classical, an academic and a business and scientific course. Located so near Scranton this Academy scholarship should have special attraction for workers in the Educational Contest. Rev. Elkanah Hulley, A. M., is Principal, and the faculty includes twelve instructors. Lectures are given from time to time by speakers from this city and elsewhere. The Academy is non-sectarian. During the present year there are 148 students at the Academy, of which 95 are gentlemen and 53 ladies. The education is substantial, practical and rendered as far as possible from mere display. Value of this offer, $600.

Brown College-Preparatory School. Located at Philadelphia, Pa. One scholarship, for three years, with full tuition charges paid. For a young man. There are three courses taught in this school, namely, classical, scientific and business. It has an established reputation for thorough instruction and its methods are modern and progressive. This school has prepared students for forty-four different universities, including University of Pennsylvania, Harvard, Yale, Cornell and Oxford, England. While carefully training them in the necessary studies it aims to preserve and develop the individuality of the students. Five of its graduates—in three different colleges—were commended for their work on entrance examinations last June. The value of this scholarship is $600.

School of the Lackawanna. Located at 243 Jefferson avenue, Scranton. One scholarship, for either a young lady or gentleman. This school offers special advantages for two classes of pupils. For those who enter the lower school it has well arranged courses of study leading to graduation and college entrance; to those who come later it affords every facility for rapid progress. There are three levels of courses of study, the classical, the scientific, and the English and modern language courses. This scholarship covers the regular instruction in the upper school for a period of four years. The school aims to deal with individuals rather than with classes. It puts forth the utmost effort to meet the wants of each individual student. Prizes are awarded for English composition, general excellence in the classics, algebra, arithmetic, and for first-year work in Greek, Latin and German. Charles E. Fish, the Principal, took the degree of Bachelor of Arts at Harvard University with credit in 1880. He has conducted successfully private schools at Chicopee and Worcester and has been principal of Phillips Academy at Exeter, N. H., for five years.

Wilkes-Barre Institute. Located at Wilkes-Barre, Pa.—One scholarship, for a young woman. The aim of this school is to give to girls and young women a thorough training in all the essential branches of learning and in those subjects which cultivate the mind. The Institute was chartered in 1854 by the Presbytery of Luzerne; in 1876 it was reorganized and has since gained a firm and strong foundation of scholarship and character. The school has four departments—the academic, the preparatory, the primary and the kindergarten. It has a faculty of ten instructors, with Helene Wabster, Ph. D. (Zurich University), Principal. This scholarship covers a three-years' course in the academic department, with full tuition charges paid. Value, $275.

Cotuit Cottage. Located at Cotuit, Mass.—This is a summer school, and is in session for eight weeks, at its permanent home on Vinland Sound, near Cape Cod. Instruction is offered in all subjects required for admission to the leading colleges and scientific schools. The courses of instruction are for the benefit of students who have received conditions at the entrance examinations, who have postponed examinations until September; who by reason of illness or other causes, have deficiencies to make up; who wish to anticipate studies and save time in the preparation for college. In addition to the studies an enjoyable outing is given to students.

The Slag Roofing Book Is interesting. It states facts about the life, the fire-proof and other qualities of the Warren-Ehret Co.'s Slag Roofing. Better send for it. 321 Washington Ave.

who pass most of their time in the open air and in the indulgence of water-side recreations. This scholarship covers individual instruction, ten lessons a week, for eight weeks, and includes board and furnished room, and is of a total value of $280. Hardenbergh School of Music and Art. Located at Linden street and Adams avenue, Scranton—Four scholarships, embracing courses as follows: One year's course of forty weeks, one hour each week, private instruction in piano, under Mr. Sumner Salter, valued at $200; one year's course of forty weeks, two hours each week, private instruction in piano, under Miss Hardenbergh, valued at $120; one year's course of forty weeks, two hours each week, in regular classes, under Miss Hardenbergh, valued at $80; one year's course of forty weeks, two hours each week, in any regular art course, under Miss Hester A. Worthington, valued at $60. Total value of four scholarships, $460. For either young men or women.

International Correspondence Schools Five scholarships, unlimited, in any subject taught at the schools or in any department. These scholarships cover a multitude of courses, including architecture, marine engineering, locomotive running, chemistry, electro-therapeutics, telephone and telegraph engineering, civil engineering, mathematics, mechanics, languages, etc. The winners of these scholarships will have all books and instruments furnished free for the courses they select. The average value of these scholarships ranges at about $57, but the winners may select either higher or lower priced courses. For young men and women.

Scranton Business College. Three scholarships, unlimited, in either the shorthand or business courses, for either young men or women. The business course includes instruction in bookkeeping, penmanship, letter writing, grammar, arithmetic, spelling, and all essentials pertaining to commercial life. The shorthand course teaches a variety of necessities for confidential clerks aside from the usual requisites for phonographic students. The value of these scholarships is $75 each.

Lackawanna Business College. Two scholarships, in either shorthand or business courses, covering a year's instruction each. For young men or women. These scholarships are limited to a year each, have a sufficiently long life to enable any progressive student to complete a full course satisfactorily. Competent instructors in the different branches of instruction render aid in a way that is modern and far-reaching. Value of the scholarships, $85 each.

Scranton Conservatory of Music. Two scholarships, each good for piano instruction to the value of $75. This is the third year that we have used scholarships in this school, and have found a great demand for them. The Faeltzen system is the method of instruction. Course D in the Conservatory's catalogue is the course probably best suited to the majority of students, covering, as it does, the entire school year of forty weeks, the pupils receiving three lessons each week, but if a student prefers he may select any other course and receive lessons therein to the value of $75. For young men or women.

UNIONDALE. Special to the Scranton Tribune. Uniondale, April 4.—Mr. and Mrs. William Curtis, of Forest City, spent Sunday with the former's parents. In the death of Mrs. Ella Burritt, wife of Hon. Philo Burritt, our community has suffered a great loss. She was a kind neighbor, a generous hostess, a worthy friend, and of amiable Christian character. She was a prominent member in the Presbyterian church, and an official in the Ladies' Aid society for many years. She is survived by her husband, a son, Samuel Ellis, and a daughter, Mrs. G. P. Couch, of Carlsdale. Many are those who have experienced the loving, unostentatious kindnesses of the departed, and she goes to her rest blessed in the memories of all. Funeral services will be held at her former home at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Interment in Uniondale cemetery. The Easter exercises in both the Presbyterian and Methodist churches had their commendable features. The floral display and the excellent musical selections and renderings in the Methodist church, were of more than ordinary merit. The duet sung by Messrs. Newell and Foster deserved all the liberal encomiums bestowed. Miss Anna Burdick, of Scranton, was recently a guest at the home of 'Squire' Elijah Carpenter. Misses Myrtle Dimmock, Mary Leek, Bessie Firman and Pauline Coleman attended the closing exercises of school in Herrick Center, Thursday afternoon.
