MAMENDMENTS DISCUSSED AT C.T.A.U. MEETING

First Quarterly Convention of First District Held in South Carbondale Under Auspices of St. Patrick's Society-Details of Meeting.

The quarterly convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence union of the First district of the Scranton diocese was held yesterday afternoon, under the auspices of the St. Patrick's Total Abstinence society. The meeting was held in the Powderly school on the South Side. The disagreeable weather did not lessen the attendance at the convention, but the delegates were rather slow in arriving, and it was found necessary to hold the entertainment before they came, in order that all of the remaining time might be given over to the business of the conference. The entertainment consisted of several very pleasing numbers, Nearly every one was encored, programme follows: Violin and plano duet, Marie and Gertrude Graham; recitation, Florence McHale; vocal solo, banjo accompaniment, John Challis; recitation, Margaret Gordon; vocal solo, Martin McKenna; vocal solo, Kathryn Flannelly; vocal solo, P. J.

The amendments to the constitution, which are to be presented at the annual diocesan convention were read by the secretary. A spirited debate over some of the sweeping changes that are advocated was entered into by John Reitly, John V. De Laney, John Killeen, Richard Kilpatrick, William Gilboy and Thomas F. Grady. Mr. Reilly who was a member of the committee on constitutional amendments, explained several of the points not thoroughly understood. William Gliroy, vice president of the diocesan union also spoke on the changes in the laws. The report of the committee was received. On motion of John V. De Laney. vote of thanks was tendered John Reilly for his good work in helping prepare the constitutional amendments. Mr. Reilly moved that a vote of thanks be tendered the newspapermen for attending the convention and fur-

DAILY BLOWS. Brought on Appendicitis.

If a person will continue to put a little poison in the body each day, for instance like a cup of coffee each morn ing when coffee acts as a poison, and i frequently does, the result will be an attack some day in some of the organs of the body. The little disturbances each day pile up and finally become a big disturbance.

Many cases of appendicitis have been brought on by coffee drinking. It first affects the herves of the stomach, and the disorder travels on down through the bowels and results in some kind of bowel trouble, frequently appendicitis.

A lady in Fredonia, N. Y., says:
"During me school life, both as a student and teacher I drank coffee regularly. Most of the time I knew the coffee was injuring me but did not feel like giving it up. First my nerves felt the effect and later on constipation developed, and after that, the last year I had severe attack of appendicitis. My doctor and friends agreed that these troubles were largely caused by coffee drinking.

While I was ill some Postum was sent me by friends. I supposed it was coffee and hesitated at the first cup, but when the difference was explained, and I drack as much as I cared for, with such good results, I concluded Postum was just what I wanted and have used it ever since. It greatly aids indigestion; is nourishing and refresh-

SWINGLE-HAM WEDDING.

Pretty Nuptials at Home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Benjamin.

Nuptials that were marked by pretty eremony was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Benjamin, on Laurel street, on Friday night, when Miss Helen Swingle, of this city, was united to Francis Ham, jr., of Peckville. The ceremony was solemnized by Rev.

D. W. Forrest, pastor of the Methodist church at Pittston, amid surroundings made beautiful by palms, ferns, blooming plants and cut flowers.

The ceremony was beautiful because of its simplicity. Owing to a recent death in the family of the bride, there was no ostentatious display. The bride was most becomingly gowned in steel grey Venetian, trimmed with white chiffon. She carried beautiful bridal

CITY OFFICERS TAKE SEATS TO-DAY

Hon. James J. O'Neill, Mayor-elect; City Treasurer Connor, and Controller-elect George W. Evans Will Go Into Office Today-Councils to Reorganize-The New Chairmen, John Davis, of Select, and W. H. Masters, of Common.

The government of the city will hange today, in so far as the officers who were elected in February will assume their functions.

The chief officers will be Hon, James J. O'Neill, who succeeds Hon, J. W. Kilpatrick as mayor; P. F. Connor, who succeeds himself as city treasurer, and George W. Evans, who will be the sucessor of Controller John F. Wheeler. These officers will assume office at 12 o'clock noon, according to the Act of Both councils will meet at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, when the new memers will be sented. These are D. W. Humphrey and James Soloman, in the select council, to succeed Thomas Battle and James Thompson, respectively. In common council, Abe Sahm and B. S. Clark will succeed John F. Loftus and William Collins: Henry Cook will suc-Thomas Murphy, and W. I Hunter and Hobbs will be successors to John Evans and John Masters.

The chairmanship of select council will go to John Davis, from the Third ward, unless the unexpected happens, and W. H. Masters will be chairman in common, F. Loftus will be elected clerk of common council, and City Engineer Kupp will be the choice again for that office. Neither of these are opposed for re-election.

On Monday night the councilmen will banquet at the Harrison house, as the guests of the heads of the departments A rarely interesting gathering is an-

The Tribune will make the guess, and it will be a safe one, that there will be no excitement whatever. A shrewd guess of how the offices will be disposed of is as follows: Chairman, John McCabe; treasurer, Morgan Thomas; secretary, Mr. McMillan. It might be safely guessed, too, that Jerry Clune will be re-elected steward of the poor farm. The election of a doctor for the poor farm will not be taken up this year. TWO LARGE FUNERALS.

Two exceptionally large funeral proessions passed through the streets of Carbondale, behind the late Dominick Barrett and Mrs. George Dawson. The former was laid at rest in St. Rose emetery, and Mrs. Dawson was placed in her sleeping place in Brookside. At the Barrett home on Canaan treet there was a great outpouring of friends of the young man who held him in tender remembrance and thus manifested their mingled sorrow and respect. In the attendance were many from out of the city. Conspicuous in the throng at the house and services was the number of young men who were strongly attached to the exemplary young man. There were companions of his early days and his associates when he grew into manhood and was an active spirit among them. At 2.30 the procession moved to St. Rose church, where the absolution was pronounced.

The Saturday Euchre club was enterained by Miss Alice Rashleigh at her home, on River street, Saturday afternoon. The occasion was one of much enjoyment. Keen interest was maniested in the play at the different tables, and when the anxiously awaited result was announced the victorious one was warmly congratulated.

The chief prize was taken by Mrs. George Mills, who displays a gold hatpin as the trophy of the afternoon. Miss Rashleigh proved a delightfully entertuining hostess.

The question, What do you weigh? is an important one, because weight and health of the body are intimately related. A certain height calls for a weight in ratio to that height, and any variation from that weight is a defect because it indicates a condition departing from the normal state of health. The scales are to the body very much what the barometer is to the atmosphere. When there is a falling barometer it forecasts storm, and often disaster. When there is a falling off in flesh, it shows an unhealthy condition and may be a forecast of serious disease. When a woman has a weak, run-down, played-out feeling, she very often finds her cheeks growing hollow and her clothes hanging loosely upon her. Under such conditions in the case of a woman the first inquiry should be as to the condition of the womanly health. For the general health of women is so intimately connected with the local womanly health that the natural thought, when a woman is losing flesh and failing in strength, is: Is there a healthy condition of the womanly organism? Generally it will be found that there is not, and many women have been equally surprised and pleased, after using

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of womanly diseases, to find the general health perfectly restored. There is nothing safer for any woman who is weak and run-down than to use the means of cure which have brought new health and strength to women

The great difficulty in persuading women to inquire as to the condition of the delicate female organism is that so many shrink from the indelicate examinations, the unpleasant quessigns; the brightness of the eye, the tint of the cheeks, the plumpness of the form, the lightness of the step, the cheerful disposition, all speak of health. You can't hide these signs of health in
