

It Must Be

quite a satisfaction to wearers of Samter shoes to realize that they are not now marked down to half the price originally paid for them. Shoes that are marked up are to be marked down, across shoes and slippers come in 100 styles, every leather and men always at the lowest margin above cost, 25-50.

We do not have shop worn sales. Even with daily shipments from our factories we find it difficult at times to empty the phenomenal demand for shoes. They therefore bear good money with age.

INAUGURAL DAY IN CARBONDALE

Yesterday Was a Day of Changes in the Government of the Anthracite City.

HON. JAMES J. O'NEILL SECOND TIME MAYOR

P. F. Conner Becomes City Treasurer for the Third Consecutive Term. George W. Evans, City Controller. In the Reorganization of Councils John Davis Elected Chairman of Select and W. H. Masters Chairman of Common—A. F. Loftus Chosen City Clerk—There Was No Opposition for Any of the Offices Which Made the Election Uneventful—Scenes About the City Hall—Councilmen, Old and New City Officers Banquet at Harrison House—The Poor Board Reorganizes Without the Least Friction as Solely Forecast in The Tribune. The Men Who Took Office Yesterday.

The change in the officials who will be at the heads of the different departments of the city government took place at noon yesterday.

The change gives Carbondale a new mayor, Hon. James J. O'Neill, who once before, just six years ago, was the city's chief executive. The city, likewise, has a new controller, George W. Evans. No change was made in the office of city treasurer, T. F. Conner succeeding himself in that office, thereby achieving the distinction of being the only city treasurer of Carbondale who has held office for three consecutive terms. The retiring officers are Hon. John W. Kilpatrick, mayor, and John F. Wheeler, controller.

An important part of the day of changes was the reorganization of councils. This was effected by the election of John Davis, an old member from the Third ward, as chairman of select, and W. H. Masters, who has been regarded as the Republican leader in common council, was elected chairman of the lower body. A. F. Loftus was re-elected clerk of common council. These elections were as forecast in The Tribune, and were carried out without incident, as none of the three candidates had opposition.

In connection with the chairmanship of select council, it might be mentioned that there was a possibility of a contest. There was a suggestion to put over the permanent organization until the meeting in the evening, but the quiet, yet firm, insistence of the supporters of Chairman Davis was successful in having the election take place at the morning session, resulting in the choice of their candidate.

The last official act of Mayor Kilpatrick before turning over the city's reins in his keeping to his successor, Mayor O'Neill, was at noon, when he wore in City Controller George Evans; John D. Davis, chairman of select council; W. H. Masters, chairman of common council; A. F. Loftus, clerk of common council.

In the evening, all of the city officers and the retired ones, the councilmen and those who left office when reorganization took place, banqueted at the Harrison house.

In City Hall Corridors.

The corridors of city hall began to take on an air of activity about 9:30 yesterday morning. The new members came into take their oaths of office, while the older members walked in and out of the offices indulging in good-natured rivalry at their future associates on the council floor.

Mayor Kilpatrick was in his office early and administered the oath of office to all the incoming officers. The first to subscribe was Byron S. Clark, new common councilman from the Second ward. Shortly after 10 o'clock Hon. James J. O'Neill, the new mayor, came into the mayor's offices. He had his accustomed smile of good cheer and his characteristic easy go as he approached Mayor Kilpatrick at his desk and declared his readiness to take the oath of office. When Mayor Kilpatrick disposed of the formality, City Treasurer Conner, who was with Mr. O'Neill, took the oath of his office for the third consecutive time. During the rest of the morning, up to noon, the new councilmen kept coming into the mayor's office until all had been sworn.

First Meeting of Councils.

Though 10 o'clock is the hour designated in the act for the assembly of councils for reorganization, it was a quarter after the hour when old select council met and adjourned sine die and it was near 10:30 when common council met for the last time.

Select council was called to order by the retiring chairman, Dr. W. W. Fletcher. The other members present were Messrs. Mannion, Battle and Davis. Victor Thompson, from the Sixth, one of the council members was not about the council in rooms during the day. Mr. Battle, the other retiring member was present. There did not seem to be a great deal of interest manifested by the public for there were not more than a dozen present in the spectators enclosure.

No business was transacted at this session, as everything had been cleared away at the last meeting. The few minutes that the session lasted was taken up in the exchanging of compliments. Chairman Fletcher, after calling order, claimed the attention of the council in a brief, but earnest talk, in which he warmly thanked his colleagues for their uniform courtesy and cordiality in sustaining the chair. He closed by assuring the members that he held the kindest feelings for them.

Mr. Battle paid a nice tribute to the retiring chairman and Mr. Mannion also recognized the courtesies of Mr. Fletcher during his term of office. City Clerk Noon likewise joined in the recognition paid to the retiring chairman. When the exchange of pleasantries ceased the last meeting of the old council came to an end.

Common Council Meeting.

The old common council convened at 10:20, Chairman Collins, one of the retiring members, presiding. The reading of the minutes of the last meeting was the only suggestion of routine business. Mr. Thompson inquired about his misused and neglected license ordinance which never came from committee, and was informed that it died in the clerk's office.

Mr. Masters, in a neat speech moved for a vote of thanks to Chairman Collins for his courtesies. The vote, carrying the motion, was heartily given and the resolution was ordered spread on the minutes.

Chairman Collins acknowledged his thanks to his colleagues, declaring it had been a pleasure to preside over the body, the members of which treated him with uniform courtesy. Mr. Collins also heartily thanked the members of the press for their courtesies also the heads of departments. At this juncture the old council was dissolved.

Councils Reorganize.

The first to reorganize was common council, the members taking their seats at 10:45.

The new members who presented their certificates were B. S. Clark, Second ward, who succeeds John T. Loftus; Henry Cook, Fourth ward, successor to Thomas F. Murphy; George Hobbs and W. L. Hunter, Sixth ward, who succeed John Evans and John Masters; Abe L. Salm, Second ward, successor to William Collins, and Alex. Kennedy, Fourth ward, who succeeds himself, were absent on account of business.

Mr. Thompson named W. H. Masters, who was in the chair, for temporary chairman. The motion, seconded by Mr. Stone, was unanimously carried. A. F. Loftus, the old clerk, was nominated by Mr. Stone as temporary clerk. On motion of Mr. Nealon, the temporary organization was made permanent by a viva voce vote. After the old rules and the time of meeting of the last council were adopted, the attention of the council was called to the fact that it was 11 o'clock when select council convened. Of the new members, James Solomon, Sixth ward, successor to James Thompson, was present. D. W. Humphrey, Second ward, who succeeds Thomas Battle, was absent, owing to his doing jury duty in Scranton.

On motion of Mr. Solomon, seconded by Mr. Barrett, John Davis, of the Third ward, was made temporary chairman. When Mr. Davis took the chair, he was made permanent chairman on motion of Mr. Mannion, seconded by Mr. Barrett.

A resolution, presented by Mr. Fletcher, was adopted. It was an acknowledgment of the good work, as councilmen, of Messrs. Battle and Thompson, the retiring members. The rules of the old council were adopted. On motion of Mr. Mannion, seconded by Mr. Solomon, a resolution was tendered the retiring chairman, Dr. W. W. Fletcher.

Just before council adjourned, the new chairman, Mr. Davis, heartily thanked the members for the honor bestowed on him, making an earnest talk in his knowledge of the council's indulgence until he could familiarize himself with his new duties, and suggested that he did not fear his colleagues, as they were his brothers and, like him, liable to mistakes. It is easier to be critical than correct, and if he makes mistakes they would be of the head and not the heart.

There was a short meeting of common council last night, at which the bond of Controller Evans was received and accepted. It was for $1,500 and has as sureties, Marcus Frieder and Robert Edwards. A requisition was granted to the Mitchell Hose company for a set of Barry collars.

Select council also held a short meeting. The controller's report for the year was received and placed on file.

The bond of City Treasurer P. F. Conner for $20,000 with M. F. Connor, P. A. Carroll, Charles Covanough, Michael Moran, B. A. Kelly and John J. McNulty as sureties, was referred to the city solicitor; also the bond of Controller Evans.

The resolution granting the Mitchell Hose company requisition was concurred in, and the councilmen then adjourned.

NO CONTEST IN THE POOR BOARD

John McCabe, Chairman; Morgan Thomas, Treasurer; James McMillan, Secretary; Jerry Clune, Steward—Elected Without Friction.

As forecasted solely in The Tribune yesterday, the Carbondale poor board at its meeting last night reorganized for the coming year by electing the following officers:

President—John McCabe.
Treasurer—Morgan Thomas.
Secretary—James McMillan.

The old steward at the poor farm, Jerry Clune, was re-appointed and his wife, Mary Clune, was again named as matron. Attorney H. C. Butler was re-elected solicitor for the board.

As also indicated in The Tribune, there was no contest over any of the offices. The programme that had been agreed upon some days ago by the majority of the board was carried out without any friction. Former Chairman Morgan Thomas was not present, owing to illness, but his vote was not necessary. Messrs. McCabe, McMillan and Williams standing together on each proposition that was voted on.

Mr. Lynch and Mr. Burke were in the class that is known as a hopeless minority. There was no roll-call on any of the offices voted for, and there was no nay from either Mr. Burke or Lynch, so the election of all the officers will be regarded as unanimous.

Chairman McCabe appointed the following committees:

Purchasing—James F. Burke, Morgan Thomas.
Farm—James McMillan, Harry T. Williams.
Lunacy—Harry T. Williams, John McCabe.
Finance—James F. Burke, James McMillan.

Mr. Lynch was named on the lunacy and finance committees, but he declined to accept either place. The chairman then named himself on the first committee and Mr. McMillan on the other. The meeting was exceedingly tame, and did not realize any of the excitement or contest that was looked for some weeks ago.

John McCabe, who is the new chairman, was the treasurer last year. He was the leader, it might be said, in the movement to economize the affairs of the district, which was carried on successfully the past year.

Morgan Thomas, the treasurer, exchanges place, as it were, with Mr. McCabe, having been the presiding officer last year. The new secretary, James McMillan, has never held office before. He will be assisted by former Secretary Williams.

THE NEW OFFICIALS.

HON. JAMES J. O'NEILL, who enjoys the honor of being mayor of Carbondale for the second term, is one of the city's most gifted sons. Not only does he enjoy the highest confidence and esteem of every citizen of Carbondale, but he also enjoys the same distinction abroad, holding an eminent place among the men of this valley.

PATRICK F. CONNER, who enters upon the third consecutive term as city treasurer, has proven himself a master of local politics. He holds a commanding place in the community.

GEORGE W. EVANS, who created a big surprise in the spring election by the manner in which he ran ahead of his ticket, has been secretary of the Carbondale board of health, filling the office most satisfactorily. Mr. Evans is one of the influential young men of the town.

JOHN DAVIS, who was unanimously chosen chairman of select council, has had a most creditable term in council, serving his constituents as faithfully as his duty seemed to him. He is a man of exceedingly plain, simple ways, and as he stated in his acceptance speech yesterday, his "mistakes are more likely to be of the heart than those of the head."

W. H. MASTERS, who becomes chairman of common council, has been regarded as the leader of the Republican forces in that body. His work, both as a councilman and at the head of his party, made him the logical candidate for chairman.

A. F. LOFTUS, who is again clerk of common council, was unopposed for the office because council was so satisfied with his record that no other name would be considered. Mr. Loftus is cashier in the Erie freight office.

THE DAY'S NEWS IN CARBONDALE

Carbondale joined in the rejoicing that was general yesterday in the valley over the settlement of the street car strike. It was the one topic of conversation during the early morning, and when The Tribune's readers saw the news they received it with grateful spirits and discussed the fact of the settlement with joy. The city has suffered more than any town between here and Scranton, and when the people pondered over the good news, they felt that the way was made clear for a booming spring trade. It gave a tone of confidence that has been sadly missing in the business life of the community for the past six months, and it paved the way for activity in all circles.

The cars were liberally patronized during the day, a refreshing contrast to the past few months, which made the city seem quite deserted. The patronage is bound to pick up, and when the Forest City line is opened, one will feel that the city is back to its wonted place in life and activity.

The line to Forest City will not be opened for a few days, as the tracks are covered with mud and dirt, and the wires need repairing here and there.

Death of Solomon Nichols.

Solomon Nichols, a highly esteemed resident of this city, passed away at Emergency hospital, Sunday night. He was admitted to the institution about seven weeks ago. For over a year he had been suffering from pneumonia. He was 64 years of age, and had made his home in this city during the greater part of his life. He was unmarried, and is survived by one sister, Mrs. J. W. Turner. The funeral services will take place at her home on Laurel street, this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Charles Lee will officiate, and interment will be made in Maplewood cemetery.

Ladies' Temperance Legion.

At the regular meeting of the Ladies' Temperance Legion, the following young ladies were elected to office: President, Miss Marion Mills; vice president, Miss Jessie McClint; superintendent, Miss Blanche Dolph; secretary, Miss Mary Holmes; treasurer, Miss Grace Powell; organist, Miss Carrie Geary; chorister, Miss Minnie Wallace.

The legion meets regularly each week at the Congregational church, on Friday at 4 p. m., or as soon after school closes as the children can get there. It is certainly a great opportunity for children to be taught along the line of temperance and other lines of importance to them, and parents would be prudent to see to it that their children are present at each meeting. With such a competent corps of officers and teachers, there must be good results. There will be no charges, except a penny collection to be taken up at each meeting.

Attended Funeral.

The following members of the Knights of Columbus attended the funeral of their late brother, T. J. Clark, in Archdiocese, yesterday: R. H. Kovale, Thomas A. Kirkwood, Frank R. Devers, M. T. Burke, Patrick J. Boylan, Andrew Brennan, E. H. W. Burke, John O'Rourke, R. J. Kibbellen, J. B. Gilford, Mathew Norton, M. R. Campbell, Timothy Gilliool, Jeremiah O'Hearn, Michael J. Moran, Thomas A. Walker, James A. Burke, John H. Hartie, M. J. Murphy, John W. Grant.

of the Methodist church, on Terrace street at 7 o'clock, Rev. A. F. Claffee officiating. There will be a wedding supper at the home of the groom on Dixon hill, which will be attended by the near friends of the family.

Funeral of William J. Davis.

The funeral of the late William J. Davis, which took place yesterday afternoon, was marked by an exceedingly large attendance, which attested the number of friends and the respect and esteem which the deceased enjoyed.

Services were conducted in the Berean Baptist church, of which Mr. Davis was a deacon and a faithful toiler in the work of the congregation. Rev. Dr. Whalen and Rev. W. B. Grow officiated. Dr. Whalen paid a splendid tribute to the memory of the deceased.

Several beautiful floral pieces were about the casket, those from the "Berean Men" and the Foresters being most conspicuous. Interment was in Maplewood cemetery.

The pallbearers were: John Matthews, John Edwards, William Jones, A. J. Madison, Daniel Davis, Nicholas Moon, Sr., and the flower bearers, George Ward, William Schell, George Zimney, William Bates, James Solomon, John McComell.

Mr. Fessenden left Saturday for his new appointment at Mansfield and Toga, one of his last kind acts before severing his connection with St. James' was a donation by him to the congregation of the sum of $33 to be used for mission purposes.

Taking Desperate Chances.

It is true that many contract slight colds and recover from them without taking any precaution or treatment, and a knowledge of this fact leads others to take their chances instead of giving their colds the needed attention. It should be borne in mind that every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and makes the system less able to withstand each succeeding cold and paves the way for more serious diseases. Can you afford to take such desperate chances when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of colds, can be had for a trifle? For sale by all druggists.
