ARE AGAINST THE DEPUTY CONSTABLES

The Regulars Call the Attention of the Court to What They Believe Is a Great Evil.

The constables of the county have decided to try and do away with the injustices that frequently follow in the wake of the appointment of deputy constables, and yesterday their attorney, John R. Jones, informally called the attention of the judges of the court to esolutions recently passed by the constables.

As the resolutions were not part of any court matter, nothing was done with reference to them. They follow: o the Honorable the Judges of the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace of Lackawanna

The Constables' association of Lackawanna county respectfully informs your honors that this organization in regular meeting assembled, passed the following resolution, and humbly pray that the same may be concurred in by your honorable ecently appointed by some of the constables of our county, which appointments received the approbation of your honors under the provisions of Sections 113 and 114 of the act of assembly, approved April 15, 1834, which provide (Sec. 113) that: "No deputy shall be appointed by any contents." proved April 15, 1834, which provide (Sec. 115) that: "No deputy shall be appointed by any constable, either by general or partial deputation, without the approbation of the court of quarter sessions of the proper county first had and obtained, except the same be made specially, in some civil suit or proceeding, at the request and risk of the plaintiff or his agent," and (Sec. 114):

"In the event of the death, inability or refusal "In the event of the death, inability or refusal to act of his deputy, the constable of any township may, with the approbation of any one of the judges of the court of quarter sessions of the ame county, appoint another deputy, with full authority to act as such until the next regular sessions of such court, and, for the acts of such deputy, the constable and his sureties shall be liable as in other cases; and in every such case, the constables shall file a written copy of such deputation in the office of the clerk of the court of quarter sessions of each county," are non-residents of the ward or district where the constables so appointing, reside.

It frequently happens that a constable appoints a deputy who resides five or ten miles from the appointing constable, and in another municipal-ity altogether. It also frequently happens that one constable has several deputies scattered over the county, where the necessities of the case do not require the appointment of more than one deputy in his own ward. For instance, a man who seeks to be deputized by a constable in Scranton or Carbondale, or so far as this illustration is concerned the location may be extended to any part of our county, goes to the regular constable of his ward, who already has a faithful deputy, and requests such constable to appoint him his deputy. The constable upon conferring with his bondsmen, conclude that the applicant is not a suitable person to be trusted with the duties of such appointment, or perhaps the constable concludes that another deputy is unnece sary in his ward or district, and thus he to make the appointment; whereupon the disap-pointed applicant goes to a remote part of the county, and for a consideration purchases the deputation, petitions the court, and your honors not knowing these circumstances, appoint him a deputy-constable, and he thus becomes a fulldedged deputy, and returns to his ward and snaps his fingers in defiance of the regular constable and proceeds at once to deprive the constable and his regular deputy of the business of the ward in which the constable was elected and to which they are justly entitled.

It is true that it is the fault of some of our we are glad to say they are but few. The great majority of the constables throughout our county deprecate such a practice, and are looking for a remedy. We believe that the remedy lies with the court in requiring that a person seeking the appointment of deputy-constable should be a resident of the ward or district of the constable deputizing him, and that this should appear in his sworn petition. The provisions of the law in this behalf were obviously intended as we are nformed by our counsel to equalize the business of the constables; to secure to them at least the business of the ward in which they were elected, and to enable the court to appoint depules whenever necessity required it.

The appointment of a deputy-constable, we are advised, rests upon public necessity. If the constable of the ward can attend to all the legal business of his ward, no deputy is necessity of Frederick she was an inmate of a sary. If he cannot, then public accessity requires that a deputy be appointed. It seems to us that public necessity does not require the appointment y a constable of Scranton of a deputy residing n Carbondale, or the appointment of a deputy residing in Scranton, by a constable of Carbon-dale, or the appointment by a constable of Mos-cow of a deputy residing in Waverly, or the appointment of a deputy residing in Mescow, by a Waverly constable. We do not mean to be understood by singling out these places, that the constables thereof have been guilty of this pustice; the names are simply used to illustrate the practice which we condenn. the practice which we condemn.

In some of our wards there are a number of deputy-constables concerning whose deputation or appointment the regular constable of the ward knew nothing, and yet the people of his ward seek to hold him responsible for the malicasant e of such deputies whose only object in being appointed in many cases is to victimize the we who may be unfortunate encounter to tall at a very may be unfortunate enough to fall as prey to their avarice. If the court should refuse to ap-point a deputy-constable who does not reside in the ward or district of the constable deputizing him, and appoint only those who do reside in such ward, and then hold the constable and his bondsmen strictly responsible for the acts of his deputy (as in law we are advised they are responsible), the evil of having non-resident deput Fouth Scranton, who left this city about a year ago just before a warrant was sworn out for his arrest on the charge of embezzling $100 from the installment house of Gately & Fitzgerald, has been arrested in Austin, Pa., and Constable the ward or township of the constrible deputizing blitchell left yesterday to bring him back to this him, us was decided in ReiApplication of Jacob Ellman for the appeintment of deputy constable. but that recently this practice has not been

FOR MURDER OF FREDERICK

t Is Alleged That on the Morning Allen, on Providence Road, He ldge, of Northumberland county, in Shot and Fatally Wounded Harry B. Frederick - Defendant Was Positively Identified by Miss Anna Hewlitt.

John Argentis, a young Italian, was put on trial yesterday for the murder of Harry B. Frederick before Judge H. M. Edwards and before the noon adjournment a jury had been secured. When adjournment was taken in the afternoon the prosecution's evidence was nearly all in. Argentis is charged with shooting Frederick on the morning of Dec. 26, 1902. He is defended by Attorney Cornielus Comegys and H. L. Taylor. Assistant District Attorney W. Gaylord Thomas has charge of the prosecution and is assisted by Attorney A. W. Bertholf, who appears as private counsel for the Frederick family.

The jury which was secured at the morning session comprises the following citizens: James Cobb, farmer, Greenfield; Robert Campbell, gentleman, Carbondale: Thomas Walton, miner, Scranton: David Foley, farmer, Covington: Armit Thomas, letter carrier, Scranton: W. W. James, farmer Yostville; J. P. H. Raynor, teller, Carbondale; Thomas M. Griffiths, miner, ermyn; A. D. Van Gorder, photogra-Scranton: Anthony Gillespie anitor, Scranton; James Leonard, jr., laborer, Scranton; Patrick McCann, miner, Scranton.

Attorney Bertholf opened the case for the prosecution at the afternoon session and Dr J. J. Roberts, former coroner, was the first witness examined He testified to having made a post mortem examination of Frederick's body. Death was caused, he said, by a bullet wound in one of the kidneys constables that makes this practice possible, but Dr. John B. Corser, who attended Frederick before his removal to the hospital testified regarding the nature of the wound. County Surveyor M. vere true and corect.

THE STAR WITNESS.

Anna Hewlitt, the prosecution's chief witness was next sworn. She testified that she was 18 years old and that her home is on Brick avenue, though she of Frederick she was an inmate of a disorderly house kept by Nellie Allen on Providence road but had left it to go to Charlie Thiel's house in the entral city. Just before Christmas she went back to live with the Allen over half the sum. The rule was granted. Scanwoman.

Frederick came to the house on Thristmas eve. to see her, she said, and remained all that night and all the next morning. He went to his home on Blair avenue for his dinner but returned again in the afternoon. In the nouse on Christmas night besides herself and Frederick were the Allen woman, Will Knott and third man called "Jim." whose last name she did not know. All the party drank a great deal of beer.

About 1.30 o'clock the Allen woman complained of being sick and sent Knott to get some medicine from Dr. Corser. She and Frederick stayed in the sitting room and on a lounge in this apartment lay "Jim" who was very much intoxicated. About 2 o'clock or thereabouts she heard a knock at the door and thinking it was Knott and the doctor, picked up a lighted lamp and went to the door to let them in. She stepped out of the sitting room into a small hall and from there into the main hall. When she opened the front door a man, whom she identified as Argentis, bounced in and pushed inside the second hall, telling her not to be frightened, she screamed for help and tried to shut the door of the inner hall in Argentis' face but didn't succeed.

LET LAMP FALL.

In the confusion she let the lamp fall. Frederick came to her assistance from the sitting room with a bottle in his hand. He drew this back as if to strike Argentis but the witness said he would have struck her had she not stayed his arm with her hand. As the bottle fell to the floor Argentis opened fire with his revolver and fired three shots, the last of which struck Frederick. He and his companion then ran away. She went Frederick to Dr. Corser's office and the latter advised that the injured man be removed to the hospital, which was done. He died a few days latter.

On January 2, she was taken from the county jail whither she had been committed for being an inmate of a disorderly house, to the North Scran-ton police station where Alderman Fidler was conducting a hearing in the case of two men arrested for following women. She positively identified one of these men as Argentis and said yesterday that she knew he was the man because she had seen him near the Allen house on several occasions. There were a dozen other Italians in the room at the time. On cross-examination she denied that she had been promised anything by the linen, linoleum, bar fixtures, chairs, two police if she would identify Argentis. cash registers, safes, hotel omnibus, Lieutenant Palmer, Patrolman F. F. Ross and Alderman Fidler denied having promised the girl anything but admitted that she had a seat in the sta-tion house near the cell in which Argentis was confined. Miss Hewlitt depled that she had noticed who was n the cell because of the darkness Court adjourned when Alderman Fidler

OTHER CRIMINAL CASES.

Three courts will be in session all of this week. Judge H. M. Edwards is in of Dec. 26, While Trying to Force the main court room; Judge John P. His Way Into the House of Nellie Kelly, in No. 2, and Judge C. R. Sav-

The matter will come up at argument court. William Carpenter did not appear to prosecute James Mack and Daniel Lenahan, of West Scranton, and a verdict of not guilty was taken by direction of Judge Savidge. William Snyder was tried before the same judge, charged with carrying concealed weapons. Miss Carrie Buchner was the prosecutrix. The parties live at Petersburg, and the case was the outgrowth of a neighbors' quarrel. The jury was out wrestling with the case at adjournment.

Ira Bohner was tried before Judge J. P. Kelly, in No. 2, charged with larceny by bailee by Henry Bonn, jr., now of Wilkes-Barre, but formerly engaged in the music and jewelry business at Olyphant, where he was manager and director of a band. It is alleged by Bonn that he bought four horns for members of the band, but that the band broke up before he received his pay. He wanted the horns, and Bohner refused to give up his and was consequently arrested.

The defense was that the horns were purchased with the funds of the band. and that when the band ceased to exist, Bohner, as a part owner of the instruments, believed that he had as much right to the instrument as any one else and decided to keep it until such time as there was some proper person to turn it over to. The case was given to the jury at adjourning hour. Attorneys Joseph Gilroy and C. E. Daniels appeared for the defendant, and Assistant District Attorney Gramer for the com-

A WORD ABOUT DALY.

Old-Time Actor Says Something of the Inimitable Dan.

The following note received yesterday by Manager Duffy, of the Lyceum, is significant of the regard the stage folk have for droll Dan Daly, who comes to the Lyceum tonight with Lederer's famous "New Yorkers":

My Dear Mr. Dufy.

Don't hesitate in recommending Dan Daly and his great company in "The New Yorkers." Dan himself stands alone in his line. The most droll comedian in musical work and a big favorite always in the leading New York theaters, Besides this, in his company will be found number of actors who have from time to time been leading lights in other organizations, and a Mr. Daly always insists on a good supporting company, his performance you can certainly prom ise to be one of the season's features, and should he missed by any one. I am, Yours very truly, Frank Soppling, Andrew Duberstine and William Taraskiewicz, three boys from Dickson City, were arrested yesterday by Special Agent Stephen Dyer, of the Scranton Railway company, on the charge of obstructing the company's tracks and throwing stones through car windows on March 29.

TWO VOCAL SCHOLARSHIPS

THE EDUCATIONAL CONTEST HAS A NEW FEATURE.

Opportunities in Voice Culture Are Offered Under the Instruction of Alfred Wooler, the Well-Known Tenor Soloist-A Whole Year's Tuition Offered to the Young Lady or Gentleman Who Desires to Begin or to Round Out Their Musical Educations-The Instruction Will Be Private-Mr. Wooler's Musical Career-Applicants Should Send in Their Names Now So as to Be Ready When the Contest Opens.

Nearly every morning for the past week or ten days The Tribune has announced additions to its original list of twenty scholarships until yesterday morning they numbered twenty-eight. Today there is a further addition, and the two new scholarships we announce this morning comprise something entirely new and altogether different from anything we have before offered in our Educational Contest.

We take pleasure in announcing today that we have completed an arrangement with Mr. Alfred Wooler for two scholarships in voice culture. Mr. Wooler is recognized as one of Scranton's leading vocal teachers, having made a thorough study of voice culture and singing in Europe and in this country. Mr. Wooler came to Scranton a little over eight years ago to take the solo tenor position at Elm Park church, and shortly afterwards he opened a vocal studio. He has earned the reputation of being a most conscientious and painstaking teacher, who brings about the best results in a comparatively short time. Among his pupils are some of the best singers in Scranton, as well as several vocal teachers who are receiving special instruction.

Mr. Wooler, in addition to his marked ability as a vocal soloist and teacher, is broadly cultivated in other branches of music, having completed the studies of Harmony, Counterpoint, Canon Fugue, Form and Composition under eminent theorist, Dr. Clarke, Mr. Wooler's latest songs and plano pieces are rapidly gaining for him an international reputation as a composer of high-grade music. His principal teachers were Mr. Robert Bradley Bradford, Yorkshire, England; Mr. William Courtney, New York. Wooler is a graduate in Harmony (1897), Counterpoint and Musical Composition (1899) under Dr. Hugh A.

Clarke, University of Pennsylvania. Mr. Wooler takes great care in the cultivation of proper breathing, tone, development, evenness throughout the entire compass of the voice, enunciation, artistic singing and the redition of solos. The two scholarships are as follows:

One full year's course in vocal instruction (private lessons), forty weeks two lessons per week, valued at $80; one full year's course in vocal instruction (private lessons), one lesson per week, valued at $45. These latest scholarships well round out the incentives to ambitious young people to enter this year's Educational Contest. Nearly every phase of study is included. In music there are special attractions, no less than nine scholarships in various musical institutions in Scranton being on the list; there are two universities represented, nine pre paratory schools of high grade, one military academy, five in local bustness colleges, one in art, and it is pos sible that the list is not yet complete How any young person can hesitate to take advantage of these offers and work for his or her own advancement in higher education is incomprehensible All that is required is that the young person who wishes to win one of these scholarships must work for us during the coming summer; devoting their spare time to helping themselves through helping us. The full rules and particulars are printed daily on the fourth page of The Tribune.

Any one may enter the contest at any time. All letters of inquiry and applications for entry should be adlresed to "Contest Editor," Scranton Tribune, Scranton, Pa.
