LITTELL-MERCEREAU WEDDING

Ceremony Was Performed at the Mercereau Residence Last Night. A wedding, which for the prominence of those most interested attracted unusual attention, was celebrated last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles La Monte Mercereau, 419 Quincey avenue, where their daughter, Josephine La Monte, was married to Professor Frank Bowers Littell, of Washington, D. C.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. S. C. Logan, assisted by Rev. Dr. C. M. Griffin. The marriage was witnessed by only a small company of the closest friends and was followed by a large reception, attended by representatives of the choicest social circles in this and other cities.

The beautiful rooms were elaborately decorated, the mantels, corners and much of the walls being hidden by rich greenery. This dining room was exceptionally effective with ferns and masses of pink roses. The ceremony was performed in the living room, where a large bay window formed an attractive setting.

The bride with her patrician face and fine carriage, made a charming picture in her bridal robes. She wore an imported gown of rich velvet, over white satin and chiffon. Her veil was fastened with orange blossoms. The maid of honor was Miss Grace Birdsall, who will herself be a fair bride in June. Her gown was of satin faced crepe de chine, in a soft yellow tint, and she carried a great bouquet of pink carnations. The best man was George H. Peters, of Washington. The ushers were Burton La Monte Mercereau, the bride's brother, and F. De Los MacGowan. The wedding music was played by Prof. Chance and Bauer's orchestra.

He is now professor of mathematics in the navy department with the rank of lieutenant, and is considered one of the foremost men in the nation in his particular profession. Last year he was in charge of the expedition which went to Sumatra for astronomical observations, and his knowledge of scientific subjects is so much is expected of his future career.

His bride, the only daughter of Mr. C. L. Mercereau, the senior member of the firm of Mercereau & Connell, is one of the most talented young women of this region. With every advantage of culture her attainments both in music and in literature, she has rare graces of eminent. ARGENTIS IS AT LIBERTY

JURY ACQUITS HIM OF FREDERICK'S MURDER.

Benefit of a Reasonable Doubt, Which Always Belongs to the Defendant, Is Supposed to Be Responsible for the Finding—Another Acquittal in a Police Case—Walking Delegate Found Guilty of Assault and Battery—Legally Sealed Prosecutor's Lips by Marriage.

A verdict of not guilty was returned yesterday morning by the jury in the case of John Argentis, charged with the killing of Harry B. Frederick at a house on Providence road, last Christmas night. The stress laid by the defendant's counsel, H. L. Taylor and C. Conroy, on the matter of reasonable doubt is supposed to have secured this finding. All through the trial they sought to make uncertain the identification of the defendant by Annie Hewitt, the girl who witnessed the affray, and all of the nine law propositions submitted to the court for transmission to the jury dealt with the legal principle of the defendant being entitled to the benefit of every reasonable doubt.

After receiving the verdict, Judge Edwards called Argentis before him and said to him that the jury had probably acquitted him on the ground of a reasonable doubt existing as to the identification, but had a verdict of guilty been returned it would not have been unwarranted by the evidence.

The police were positive they had Frederick's slayer when they arrested Argentis, and despite the finding of the jury do not propose to look further for a culprit.

Another acquittal in a police case, yesterday, which caused some surprise was in the case of the commonwealth against Arthur LaBar. On the night of March 3, two men were seen carrying a couple of sacks from the Lackawanna Mill and Elevator company's building at the Diamond crossing. In the morning it was discovered that the place had been broken into and two sacks of flour and $8.65 in change carried away. The money was taken from a shelf above the safe where it was customarily placed over night, because of attempts having been made to rob the safe.

FOSTER CONFESSED.

The next day the police received a "tip" which led to the arrest of William Foster, a boy living a short distance from the mill. He confessed his guilt, restored the flour, which was $1.35 was his share of the booty, and told that his accomplice was Arthur LaBar, a young man living on Blair avenue. When arrested LaBar stoutly denied all knowledge of the crime.

Foster went on the stand, yesterday, and told in detail the story of the theft. There was no cross-examination of his story, however, and the jury, it is supposed, heeded the behest of the law about looking with suspicion on the unsupported testimony of an accomplice. C. H. Soper and A. W. Berthoff represented the defense. Hon. John P. Quinnan and Assistant District Attorney Walker represented the commonwealth. The case was tried before Judge Savige.

A nol pros on payment of costs was entered in each of the five riot cases growing out of the trolley strike troubles on Lafayette street. The defendants were, Ellen Schell, Jennie James, Margaret Jones, charged with rioting, and David Jones and Joseph Reynolds, charged with assault and battery. Stephen Dyer was prosecutor in all five cases. The various other assault and battery and riot cases growing out of the strike are likely to be summarily dealt with.

The cases against Frank Kofchinski and Edward Shark, special officers, charged with extorting money from Old Forge saloon keepers, were put over until the next term, because of the fact that Kofchinski is a defendant in the McAuillie murder case set down for trial next week, and it was desired by his counsel that the testimony on the extortion cases should not go out to the community at this time, because of the time when he will be on trial for his life.

VERDICT OF GUILTY.

A verdict of guilty was returned in the case of E. Patterson, charged with assault and battery on Edward Walters. At the last term of court the trial resulted in a disagreement of the jury. Patterson is walking delegate of the Carpenters' union. Walters is a contractor. The latter was putting up a building for James Saville on Main avenue, near Lafayette street, and was employing several non-union carpenters. Patterson complained to Saville of this, and together they went to see Walters.

Patterson and Walters had some words which resulted in a personal encounter. Walters, who was not formally open until Monday morning, May 5, those who intend to enter should send in their names now or as soon as possible. Canvasers' outfits will be sent to those who enroll in the order of their names on our list.

A full list of the scholarships, with the names of the recipients, will be printed every morning. They will be found on the fourth page of today's Tribune. All applications to be enrolled and letters of inquiry must be addressed: "Contest Editor, Scranton Tribune, Scranton, Pa."

Judge Edwards refused to let him be tried on account of his years.

Not guilty but pay the costs was the finding in the case in which Patrick Scott of Carbondale, was charged with having slapped his neighbor, Mrs. Bridget O'Malley, because she said he was getting to be a dude since his father died and willed him $400.

A verdict of not guilty on payment of costs was entered by agreement in the assault and battery case of Raffaele La Morto of Danmore, against Vito Silco. In the case in which Richard Lewellyn, of Vandling, charged Mary Jane Willis with being a common scold, the jury found the defendant not guilty and divided the costs.

Little Smith was on trial at adjournment in Judge Kelly's court, on the charge of keeping a house of ill fame, in Oakford court, just to the rear of the cathedral. Le Roy Welch is the prosecutor. A number of women who were inmates of the place were called to the stand to testify to his character, but only two of them, Maggie Dimler and Annie Anthony, would admit that he was anything other than a decent boarding house. Superintendent of Police Day, Mrs. Duggan, of the associated charities, and Mounted Officer Perry testified that the house has a bad reputation.

Salvatore Capello, of Jessup, was acquitted of the charge of assaulting his bartender, Carlo Buciarich, and the prosecutor was directed to pay the costs. C. E. Daniels represented the defense.

VERDICT DIRECTED.

A verdict of not guilty was directed in the case in which C. L. Bizer was charged by Ellen McHale with the larceny by bailer of a $500 life insurance policy. It was alleged that Bizer was an agent for the company, issuing the policy, took it away to have amended and did not return it. Judge Savige said it was a case for the civil courts.

A settlement was effected in the false pretense case brought by Attorney H. L. Taylor against Peter Lipowicz. Lipowicz gave $500 to the attorney for one of his clients. When it was presented at the bank it was found he had no funds there.

A verdict of not guilty but pay the costs was directed in the case in which John Petrusky charged Frank and Pauline Lesnook with assault and battery.

The case of Matthew and Anthony Stroko, of Olyphant, charged by Joseph Keelle with assault and battery, was on trial at adjournment time before Judge Edwards. R. J. and J. J. Manning appeared for the prosecution and M. J. McAndrew for the defense.

John Henry Neary, who was convicted at a previous term of carelessly running down a child in Winton, was yesterday fined $15 and costs.

What! Does the Grim Spectre Follow You into the Joyous Springtime?

PAIN'S CELERY COMPOUND

Defeats the Work of Death by Removing Your Terrible Burden of Disease.

Are you still in suffering, misery, and despondency? Does the grim spectre, Death, follow you closely as the joyous springtime brings happiness and blessings to others around you? Are you still clinging tenaciously to false theories of physicians or friends who persist in assuring you that time, care, and the use of your present medicine will give you new health?

Be assured your present condition is a perilous one. The continuance of the medicine you are now using is a folly; you are simply trifling with life and wasting precious time. You should remember that while nature clothes the fields with fresh grass and flowers, and while the trees with a strong life are showing bursting buds and new foliage, that human beings—old and young—drop off in thousands in springtime.

Now is the time for prompt, decided, and practical action if life is to be saved. Prejudice and the erroneous theories of even medical men should be cast aside when the hand of death is upon you. It matters not what your social position be; the medicine that saves the humblest man or woman is surely the one adapted for the needs of the rich and those in high social positions.

Paine's Celery Compound has a record of life saving that no other medicine can equal. It has resulted in such an enormous number of cases where death was averted from the grasp of death when physicians and their most carefully prepared prescriptions failed in the work. If the suffering men and women of today could but see the happy faces and hear the kind words spoken by the tens of thousands who have been made well and strong by Paine's Celery Compound, it would soon dispel their existing doubts and fears.

Paine's Celery Compound is the only medicine that reaches the root of disease; it is the only agency that can remove your terrible load of disease. Unsolicited testimonials of cures pour in every day. Young and old constantly bear witness that rheumatism, neuralgia, kidney disease, liver complaint, dyspepsia, and blood diseases are banished permanently when Paine's Celery Compound is faithfully used for a time. Begin its use today poor sufferer; delays are dangerous.
