You cannot, if you value good health, afford to use cheap, low-grade, alum baking powders. They are apt to spoil the food; they do endanger the health. All physicians will tell you that alum in food is detrimental.

ESTATE MUST PAY IT BACK

DECISION IN MATTER OF FU-NERAL EXPENSE.

Judge Vosburg Rules That a Daughter Who Paid the Expense of Her Father's Funeral Is Entitled to Recover the Same from His Estate. Question Arose in the Matter of the Account of Joseph Stuart, Executor Under the Will of Charles Stuart, Deceased.

Judge A. A. Vosburg handed down an opinion yesterday in orphans' court in the matter of the estate of Charles Stuart, deceased. It is as follows:

publication, sec. leg., the account of Joseph Stuart, executor under the will of Charles Stuart, deceased, came up for audit before me at the orphans' court room, city of Scranton, county or Luckawanna and State of Pennsylvania, on Fri-day, March 21st, 1962, at 10 a. m., and at other subsequent times in accordance with contin-nances. It appears from the evidence that the testator lived with his daughter, Mary A. Collins, for some time prior to his death, and that after his decease, she, without consulting the executor, made arrangements for his burial, and paid the funeral expenses. She now presents a claun against the fund for distribution for the money so paid by her, amounting to one hundred and tweive dollars and five cents. The executor resists the allowance of this claim, for two reasons: First-Because he alleges it was a volunherefore it cannot be recovered back. Second-Because the claimant received from the testator prior to his death, a sum of money considerably arger than the amount now claimed.

There is no doubt that the general rule of law is that no implied promise to pay arises where a party makes a payment voluntarily, and without any legal liability or compulsion, in discharge of a debt or liability of another. Clark on Contracts, pp. 760-761-763. See Hehn vs. Hehn, 23 Pa., 415. Breneman's Appeal, 121 Pa., p. 648. But there seems to be an exception to this general rule, where funeral expenses are paid by members of the family, without consulting the executor. There are decisions which hold that in such cases an implied promise upon the part of the executor or administrator arises, to repay the person who makes advances of this character; and the reason for such an exception is very ap-

In most cases, no administrator is appointed in which an executor is named, this instrument is not usually read until the burial is over. Necessarily, therefore, some member of the family must make arrangements for the funeral, and in contracting a bill for the expenses thereof, it is perfectly just and equitable that he should be held to be acting under implied authority from the executor or administrator. In Francis' Est. 75 Pa., 220, the widow paid the funeral expenses and it was held that she was entitled to recover the amount so paid, from the estate. See also Williams an Executors (1887) 8, 9. Burke's Est. 34 W. N. C., 359. This disposes of the first objection. The second one is not fully sustained by the evidence, and I will not dwell upon it.

Another question arises, viz: Whether or not the orphans' court has jurisdiction to pass upon this claim, a suit having been brought to recover it in the court of common pleas. Ordinarily,, be-tween courts of concurrent jurisdiction, the one in which proceedings are first begun, thereby acquires exclusive jurisdiction of the subject mat-ter thereof. Ober vs. Gallagher, 95 U. S., 199. Cleveland vs. Eric, 1 Grant 212. Powers vs. Council, 116 Mass., St.

It has been held, however, that while the jurisdiction of the orphans' court and the court of common pleas is concurrent to establish a debt against an estate, (Pringle vs. Pringle, 150 Pa., 568), the jurisdiction of the orphans' court to as-certain the amount of the decedent's property and to order distribution is exclusive. Weimer vs. Karch, 153 Pa., 385. I am therefore of the

I therefore award the fund for distribution (af-ter deducting, as preferred claims, a counsel fee of ten dollars to the counsel for the executor for services at the audit, and the fees due the clerk of the orphans' court, of nine dollars), to Mary of the orphans' court, of nine dollars), to Mary A. Collins; upon the condition, however, that she first discontinue of record the suit in the court of common pleas, and file the certificate of the prothonotary that such case has been discontinued, with the clerk of the orphans' court, within twenty days from the filing of this adjustice. dication. If exceptions are flied to this report, then the claimant may withhold such dis-continuance until the said exceptions shall have been disposed of by the court, but shall not be entitled to receive from the executor any part of her claim hereby allowed, until the suit in the court of common pleas shall have been discon-tinued, and the prothonotary's certificate of such discontinuance duly filed with the clerk of this

EDUCATION IN PHILIPPINES.

The geography formerly used in the Filipino schools devoted one page out of two hundred to the United States and described that country as "one of millionaires, advertisements and eccentricities." Just now one of the eccenricitles consists in giving the Filipino children real education. The superin-tendent of public education in the Philippines, Fred W. Atkinson, writes in the Outlook:
"The majority of the school children come from ignorant homes, where there are none of the accessories and means of culture. A small but important class of Filipinos, those who possess wealth and culture, while not opposing popular education, favor plans for higher education. On the other hand, the masses, for whom elementary eduopinion that I may consider and pass upon this cation is intended, are ever in danger court of common pleas to recover it, but that said action should be discontinued upon the adjudication of the claim in the orphans, court, so that there may not be two recoveries of it.

thoughts. "In spite of these and other difficulties, all the superintendents and the great majority of the American teachers are enthusiastic and optimistic as to the ultimate outcome. A progressive spirit is being aroused in a considerable number of Filipino teachers, who are given, wherever there is an American teacher, daily instruction in English and in methods of teaching: and vacation normal courses are also being conducted. Modern 'textbooks and other school supplies, including furniture, are being distributed in large quantities. The American teachers are doing something to improve the appearance and hygienic conditions of chools, and grounds, and by this means, and by inviting parents to the schools on days of public exercises, are arousing local pride and interest. While there are exceptions, yet local co-operation is forthcoming. "Almost without exception, the teachers are satisfied, enthusiastic, and intensely interested in their work. They are willing to submit to minor discomforts, and are repaid by the satisfac-tion of feeling that they, in close contact, are the ones who exercise direct Massachusetts educational circles said Teaching the Philippines is the grandest kind of missionary work."

HEALTH OF MANILA. From the Manila Times, February 23.

The board of health returns go to show a very satisfactory condition of things in Manila from a sanitary point of view. Today the city is freer from sickness, in the form of contagious diseases, than it has been at any time in the last three years or since American occupation, and in all the city, up to the 21st instant, there have beeen only two cases of plague this year. January New York Grain and Produce Market being an absolutely clean month, so far as the fell disease is concerned, and the fact of there being only two cases this month, as compared with twenty-two, eighteen and thirty, respectively, for the same month in the past three years, is highly gratifying, and goes to show what good work the health authorities are doing in keeping the city clean, to contend with, however, in the rooted objection so many householders have to catching and turning over the rats found in their premises, in case a plague rat should appear amongst them, and their domestic quiet be upset by the board's cleansing and disinfecting process. Others object to inoculation, and waste half the time of the public vaccinators arguing the question. and causing considerable delay in their work, which is no light task. Chinos are generally the best patients in this regard, looking upon it as a huge joke, gotten up for their special benefit, and start to laugh and bare their arms as soon as they see the vaccinator coming, afterward jabbering and thus preventing sickness. They still have the same old difficulty like monkeys, as they compare the marks of the needle pricks on each other's arms. All the worst of the shacks have now been cleaned out in the walled city, and the work of exploration and inspection is going on daily, keeping the inspectors busy from morning to night. and the difference in the appearance of the city now as compared with even one year ago is most marked.

THE MARKETS

New York, April 14.—There was a feverish and excited close in today's stock market atter a day of varying sentiments. The earlier strength was not maintained, in spite of aide suvances of a few stocks and the course was gradually downward until the late dealings, when there was a general break all around. Prices had risen again after the tagging tendency under the stimulus of the extraordinary advances in some of the Grangera and Northwesterns. But the perception of realizing under cover of this strength, and the sensational advance to 123 in Louisville and Nashville unsettled sentiment again and led to the general unloading in the final dealings. There were some feverish and spasmodic railles, but the market closed feverish and irregular with a weak undertone. Much attention and aurmise were given to the Louisville and Nashville situation, and the disposition to be made of its control. Some hope is entertained that a community of interest among the southern trunk lines will be worked out as a result of the new control, which seems to have been acquired without any large railroad combination in view, but simply for speculative profits. The action of the stock today did not indicate any very definite prospect of settlement, the feverish flight of the stock indicating rather profound unsettlement and uncertainty of the speculative element. The remarkable rise in Northwestern Grangers was without explanation, unless it was the result of pure manipulation to further profit-taking at other points. The Chicago Northwestern stocks, St. Paul and Omaha, and the St. Paul stocks were marked up in a short period of trading from 2% to below Saturday and fluctuated at the last almost as wildly as Louisville itself. Total sales today, 985,700 shares. Heavy realizing in the Central of Georgia income bonds made the bond market unsettled and irregular. Sotal sales, par value, 28,005,000. United States 2's advanced ½, the 3's registered ½ and the old 4's coupon ½ on the last call.
