

The News of Carbondale.

FOUR MORE PARENTS WERE PROSECUTED

John Jones, Patrick Barrett, Mrs. Hall and L. V. Arnold Proceeded Against by School Board.

The Carbondale school board has made another move towards enforcing the compulsory education law, carrying on additional prosecutions to bring about the end of the truancy.

Last night in Alderman Burke's office four more parents were brought to task for alleged neglect in sending their children to school as required by the Farr act.

The parents were John Jones, Wilson Valley, Patrick Barrett, Powderly road; Mrs. Hall, 105 South Church street; L. V. Arnold, Canaan street.

All of the four were charged with not having their sons at school. Mrs. Barrett and Mrs. Hall could not satisfy the alderman that they had done all that they could in keeping their truant children at school, and each was fined two dollars and costs.

In the case of L. V. Arnold, there was a continuance until Friday night, for the reason that City Solicitor Stuart, had been retained by Mr. Arnold to defend his rights, but could not be present at last night's hearing.

Attorney H. A. Butler, the school board's solicitor, was the prosecuting officer. The school board was also represented by Secretary Kerwin and Director W. B. Evans, members of the committee to whom has been entrusted the duty of enforcing the school law.

Their presence and interest at the meeting indicates the resolution and determination of the board to continue the prosecutions of the violators until there is a reasonable observance of the compulsory educational act, or at least until the unnecessarily high number of truant boys is reduced.

Constable Edward Neary served the warrants.

Honedale is credited with saying that Carbondale never had a base ball club in a series of games. When any Maple City enthusiast talks that way, it gives us the impression that he has been on a low diet.

If the Maple City writer set forth the claims above for a ping-pong team we would necessarily have to give in to him, but when the subject is base ball we rise to our feet and set forth a team that has in the past seasons, will this season and for all coming seasons, win out against the village on the other side of the mountain.

We admit they have always had good nines in the Maple City, but we always had better ones. A representative team of Honedale defeated Carbondale two games in one season, but those defeats were caused by the non-appearance of several players from this city.

Each season, as a matter of custom, Honedale claims to have the championship team between that city and Wilkes-Barre in the amateur ranks. Their claims can be attributed to pipe dreams far in no way, since our manager can honestly lay claim to being champions, even in the farm section.

We venture the opinion that a team from the district near Lake Lodore could defeat the wind-charged blowers in a series. There is no real fun in defeating Honedale on paper. The real fun is when the two nines, one representing this city, and the other being the chosen players of the Maple City meet on the diamond and the latter uniform wearers sneak back to tall grass and blame the umpire.

STRICKEN AT WORK.

Carmentha Tallerego Is Prostrated While at Work in the Coalbrook Breaker—Dies of Paralysis a Few Hours Later.

There was somewhat of a commotion in the Coalbrook breaker of the Delawarean and Hudson company yesterday forenoon, when one of the employees fell over at his work, apparently lifeless.

Carmentha Tallerego was the man's name. He had been stricken with paralysis. The stroke completely prostrated Tallerego as he carried a load of coal out of the breaker to his home on Forty-second street.

He made no rally, whatever, and expired in the afternoon, a few hours later.

Tallerego had been in apparently good health, and took his place with the other slaters without betraying any sign of his impending fate. He was 48 years old, and had lived in Carbondale a dozen years. His wife survives him and four children, one son and three daughters. Two of the latter are married.

The funeral will take place Friday afternoon. Services will be held at the Church of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel, commencing at 3 o'clock. Burial will be in St. Rose cemetery.

ALDERMAN WEDS COUPLE.

An Interesting Ceremony in Office of Alderman William Morrison.

There was an interesting ceremony last evening in the private office of Alderman William Morrison, of the Third ward.

The cause of justice is fought for, was transformed for the time, and instead of the customary tales of sorrow and trouble, vows of the marriage ceremony were heard.

The genial alderman officiated, and with as much sunshine and grace as befitted the occasion, the bride and groom, who were made happy by the words of the alderman, were Miss Olive Phelps, of Susquehanna county, and William Robbins, whose home is in Carbondale, where he has many friends.

Beside the bride stood the bridesmaid, Miss Myrtle Phillips, of Eighth avenue, while P. Flannery, of Sand street, was at the side of the groom as best man.

The bride wore a buff colored gown, with trimmings of pink silk, and had a hat of the same color. The groom wore a tuxedo, and she looked quite charming while the alderman went through the ceremony, amid her numerous blushes.

The groom was in evening dress. When the nuptials were over, the bride looked as happy a newly-married wife as the one who might be surrounded with a wedding party. Instead of the simple, impressive rites that were so gracefully solemnized within Alderman Morrison's private office, which was quite acceptable for the ceremony, congratulations followed with the bride and groom left with grateful thoughts, after receiving the good wishes of the smiling alderman.

The pretty nuptials, which were witnessed by quite a gathering of young folks, were celebrated at 4:30 o'clock by Very Rev. T. P. Coffey, V. G. The bride was attended by Miss Mary Dixon, and Daniel Runyon, both of whom were at the church to wish them God-speed in their journey through life.

Mr. and Mrs. Fallon have a host of friends in Carbondale, a large number of whom were at the church to wish them God-speed in their journey through life.

THE LIBRARY OFFER AGAIN.

Another Contribution to the Carnegie Project Discussed.

The offer of Andrew Carnegie to establish a public library in Carbondale under certain conditions has been prolific of some discussion pro and con.

Among those who took a deep interest in the project, as one opposed to it, was Rev. F. J. C. Ehringer, pastor of the St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Rev. F. J. C. Ehringer, pastor of the St. Paul's Lutheran church, recently Rev. Mr. Ehringer met with an article that seemed to confirm his judgment in the matter, and he sends it to the Tribune for publication.

"As evidence that I do not stand alone in my opinion about what I call the Carnegie library mania—the 'Trojan horse' I designated it—I take leave to offer an excerpt from the Milwaukee Germania as follows.

Rev. F. J. C. Ehringer. "Andrew Carnegie's self-confession at a banquet in the New York Author's club house. He energetically protests against counting him amongst the philanthropists, saying he has been high enough to lay claim to such a pretension.

"We find such a protest well in order and consider it as a true and a proper confession of his conviction that he is not to be counted among the class of real philanthropists.

"Establishing his libraries, under conditions involving the expense of maintenance is only one of the 'sports' and 'hobby-horses' of the millionaires after they have squeezed out the heart blood of the poor man. A single asylum of benevolence for the poor would do more good than all Carnegie's libraries. And all the volumes of the world's literature cannot cover and lift the curse, sticking, pasting and cleaving to the unrighteous Mammon.—St. Luke, xvi. 9."

FUNERAL OF SISTER MAURICE.

Impressive Service of the Dead in St. Rose Convent Chapel.

The funeral of the late Sister Mary Maurice, took place yesterday, the departed sister being laid to rest in the eternal sleep of the dead beside her sisters in religion in the plot in St. Rose cemetery, amid the impressive burial service of the Catholic church.

The service of the dead, while ordinarily impressive, was made so on this occasion, when St. Rose convent chapel was filled with the dark-robed sisters, and the altars were overhung with the mourning black.

The solemn high mass of requiem was sung, commencing at 9 o'clock. Very Rev. T. P. Coffey, V. G., was celebrant; Rev. George Dixon, deacon; Rev. Walter A. Gorman, sub-deacon; Rev. Bernard O'Byrne, master of ceremonies.

WEDDED AT TRINITY.

There was a pretty, though quiet, wedding in Trinity chapel last night. The principals were from the Belmont section of the city, where they are well-known. The bride was Miss Elizabeth Swinglehurst, and the groom William Emmett. They were attended by Miss Anna Wilce and James Swinglehurst, brother of the groom.

The bride and groom were most becomingly dressed. The ring ceremony was followed.

The nuptials were celebrated at 8 o'clock, and immediately afterwards the bridal party was driven to the Swinglehurst home, beyond Simpson, where a reception took place. The couple will go to housekeeping at once.

HUSBAND SORELY ACCUSED.

Joseph Kusavitch, of Richmondale, charged by his wife with shooting at her.

Joseph Kusavitch, of Richmondale, was accused by his wife, in Alderman Jones' office last night, with terribly abusing her and of shooting at her several times for the purpose of putting out her life.

Kusavitch, who is regarded as a desperate character, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Constable Neary, after leading him a lively chase and making a resistance that forced the officer to use his enormous strength and finally to use the handcuffs. In order to bring his prisoner to the city jail.

EVER GET "FULL?"

On Other Things Than Liquor.

It is profitable for anyone to study food in order to regulate the health, not with medicine but by building up healthy nerve centers with good food.

It was about this time I came home from school, broken down physically, and mentally. I only weighed 120 pounds. At my earnest request mother began serving Grape-Nuts every meal.

"In five weeks I weighed 135 pounds, a gain of 15 pounds, and I feel so strong that I have been able to do from 10 to 15 hours of hard work daily. My mind has never seemed so clear before and I am thoroughly convinced that there is no food like Grape-Nuts to produce health and a strong and clear brain."
