of Statistics contains an interesting note on the imports and exports of merchandise of principal countries during the years 1890 and 1900. Among Lie countries whose imports or exports ex-cred $100,000,000 annually Japan and Canada show the greatest growth in both. The most noteworthy increases are shown in the following table:

Part of them were made in Germany because the tailoring there is so fine. The American makers are fine on plain styles, and we avoid the duty when we buy from them, so that the Eton Jackets and Covert Cloth Jackets are American.

The Covert Cloth Jackets will be more worn than almost any of the others. We

Eton Jackets of broadcloth for $10, of black cheviot for $7.50 up to $13.50, and

The Long Taffeta Coats at $15, with the sailor collars trimmed with lace, have the Paquin sleeve. At $20 the silk is better, and there is a little bit more work. At $35 the silk and lace and the making are all better. It's going to be a great tan-covert year: though long taffeta coats will be nearly as popular.

Women's Tailor-Made Suits

$10, $13.50, $18, $20 and $25

How a tailor can get London Twine, cut and work and press a suit into good style, have it finished nicely for $10, is a mystery. Yet here the suits are, and suits of cheviot, besides, if you prefer them, for the same price.

The present styles cost a great deal to make: there are fancy touches, and the cloths are much more difficult to make suits of than the heavier, which have been generally used before. So $10 buys a better suit now than it did a year ago.

The tailoring isn't extraordinary until you reach $20. At $20 it is good-good enough for anybody-probably as good as a tailor would put into a $35 suit if he made it to order. At $25 the tailor word is really fine, and above that the cost goes more into the material and the fancy trimmings than into anything else.
