HAVE BURIED THE HATCHET. COMMON COUNCIL CONFLICT IS AT AN END. Calpin and His Colleagues Withdraw from the Fight for Control of the Lower Branch and Submit to Be Sworn in by Mr. Robathan to the Accomplishment of Cheer-proving Olive-branch Oratory—Committees for the Year Named by the New Chairman. Strife averted the reorganization of common council is at an end. An amicable understanding was arrived at since the last meeting and when the council convened last night Mr. Robathan, as chairman, and Mr. Morris, as clerk assumed the duties of their respective positions without opposition. Ex-Clerk Lynott was present among the spectators. Ex-Chairman Calpin went away back and sat down. When Chairman Robathan had prepared the meeting to order, Mr. Calpin rose to explain the action of himself and colleagues in giving up the fight. He said that he and his colleagues still believed they were right; that they had effected a legal arrangement and that they would win out if the matter was taken into court. In the interests of harmony and for the sake of the city's interests they had decided to withdraw from the conflict. Referring to some threat that came to Mr. Calpin's mind they would be compelled to submit by physical force, Mr. Calpin said he considered it an insult. They were perfectly honest in their opinion, he said, that they were in the right and felt it was a duty not only to themselves but to their constituents to assert their rights. He concluded by saying that there was no personal animosity engendered on his side by the unpleasant events transpiring since reorganization day, and himself and his colleagues had the utmost confidence in the ability and impartiality of Mr. Robathan as a presiding officer.

BELIEVED THEM HONEST. Mr. Robathan replied briefly, saying it was his firm opinion that Mr. Calpin and his colleagues were honest in their opinions and that the difference was an honest one on both sides. He too could say for the side he led that there were no bitter feelings left as a legacy of the fight. He asked for the hearty co-operation of all the members and trusted that the city would be greatly benefited by the work they would do during the coming year. Mr. Keller also spoke a few words of the olive branch order, and those of the newly-elected or re-elected Democrats had taken the oath from Mr. Calpin came forward smilingly and were sworn in again by Chairman Robathan. There was hearty cheering and many expressions of a good-natured kind attendant upon the obsequies of the hatchet.

TO WAIT ON RECORDER. Twentieth Ward Citizens to Protest Against Sewer Assessment—Ordinances Not All Illegal. A delegation of property owners from the Twentieth ward will wait upon Recorder Connell this afternoon and enter a protest against the sewer assessment which they believe to be the injustice of the sewer assessment recently made for Section A, of the Eighteenth sewer district. The assessment for this sewer was made by the city engineer in the manner provided by the city ordinance. Ordinance passed by councils within the last six months and under the provisions of the assessed valuation of the abutting properties as per the books of the board of city assessors for the fiscal year 1901. Objection has been raised to this method of making a sewer assessment if being described as unfair and unjust. The argument advanced in favor of it is that it would not be right to apply the foot front rule because of the fact that the sewer passes through undeveloped property, and the value of the urban and rural property is held that the owner of rural property should not be asked to pay as much in proportion as the owner of built up or improved property. An effort is being made to gradually break away from the method of having sewer assessments made by view and to substitute in all instances the method adopted in this instance—namely the adoption of the city assessment as the basis for the sewer assessment. In this connection it is interesting to note that the published statement that the city engineer had proposed to make a sewer assessment if being described as unfair and unjust. He is merely examining them carefully prior to the meeting held in view of the fact that no technical objections can be raised to them hereafter.

THE BISHOP'S LECTURE. Bishop Charles H. Fowler with his wonderful gift of language and his treasures of memory, spoke for two hours to a large and general audience in the high school auditorium last night about Abraham Lincoln and vividly those who listened could see the sad worn face of the colossal central figure, the stern cold personality of the great war secretary, the swift glimpse of the silent man of deeds of camp and field, and on a steady procession of the great ones who walked across the stage in the period preceding and during the Civil war. This is one singular gift of the great churchman. His hearers do not see the bishop. They forget even his voice, but as in a wonderful dream they see the grand subject in heroic proportions, living again through the burdensome years, and the sorrow, the misunderstandings and strain of a nation's peril. That is what was realized last night. The bishop, who spoke in a picture of the man of deeds of camp and field, and on a steady procession of the great ones who walked across the stage in the period preceding and during the Civil war. STORY OF LIFE OF LINCOLN. THE GREAT DELIVERER FROM DISEASE AND SUFFERING. Paine's Celery Compound Full of Life Giving Power and Virtue Is the Prescription of a Great Physician. It Has No Equal as a Spring Medicine. It should be well understood by the ailing, physically broken down, and diseased that the ordinary advertised remedies, sarsaparilla, tonics, and pills have never accomplished the glorious life saving work in springtime that has marked the history of that health giver, Paine's Celery Compound, which has cured such desperate cases of kidney disease, liver complaint, rheumatism, neuralgia, dyspepsia, and blood diseases. Paine's Celery Compound is the discovery of one of the ablest physicians that ever lived, and one of the strongest proofs of its worth and value is the fact that able practitioners prescribe and recommend it daily. It is this Paine's Celery Compound, dear sufferer, the great nerve feeder, the marvelous system cleanser, and digestive regulator, that we now strongly urge you to make use of at this season if you lack the strength of true manhood or womanhood. The young and old, the rich and poor extol its wondrous effects. Try its curative virtues without delay if you would be free from your ailments and enjoy life. A bottle or two used just now will cause you to bless Heaven that such a life giver was placed before suffering humanity.

In this connection it is interesting to note that the published statement that the city engineer had proposed to make a sewer assessment if being described as unfair and unjust. He is merely examining them carefully prior to the meeting held in view of the fact that no technical objections can be raised to them hereafter.

TO WAIT ON RECORDER. Twentieth Ward Citizens to Protest Against Sewer Assessment—Ordinances Not All Illegal. A delegation of property owners from the Twentieth ward will wait upon Recorder Connell this afternoon and enter a protest against the sewer assessment which they believe to be the injustice of the sewer assessment recently made for Section A, of the Eighteenth sewer district. The assessment for this sewer was made by the city engineer in the manner provided by the city ordinance. Ordinance passed by councils within the last six months and under the provisions of the assessed valuation of the abutting properties as per the books of the board of city assessors for the fiscal year 1901. Objection has been raised to this method of making a sewer assessment if being described as unfair and unjust. The argument advanced in favor of it is that it would not be right to apply the foot front rule because of the fact that the sewer passes through undeveloped property, and the value of the urban and rural property is held that the owner of rural property should not be asked to pay as much in proportion as the owner of built up or improved property. An effort is being made to gradually break away from the method of having sewer assessments made by view and to substitute in all instances the method adopted in this instance—namely the adoption of the city assessment as the basis for the sewer assessment. In this connection it is interesting to note that the published statement that the city engineer had proposed to make a sewer assessment if being described as unfair and unjust. He is merely examining them carefully prior to the meeting held in view of the fact that no technical objections can be raised to them hereafter.
