Acts Pleasantly: Acts Beneficially: Acts truly as a Laxative.

Syrup of Figs appeals to the cultured and the well-informed and to the healthy, because its component parts are simple and wholesome and because it acts without disturbing the natural functions, as it is wholly free from every objectionable quality or substance. In the process of manufacturing figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinal . virtues of Syrup of Figs are obtained from an excellent combination of plants known to be medicinally laxative and to act most beneficially. tions are very encouraging for a large rose this summer. A lack of amusements from which the town has heretofore suffered will soon be supplied hrough the combined efforts of "The Lakeside Country club," now in the fourth year of its prosperous existence, and the newly organized "Montrose Athletic association." Base ball, golf, tennis, foot ball, croquet, etc., will all be available on superb grounds, to all guests, while delightful hops, held in the cool and airy club houses of the Country club will add to the drawing attractions.

Rev. A. W. Cooper, late of Dalton. preached his initial sermon as pastor of Montrose Methodist Episcopal church before large congregations. It is too soon to form an estimate of Mr. Cooper as a preacher or as a pastor, but taking his sermons yesterday and his appearance as a guide, it is believed that in securing him as their pastor, our Methodist friends have drawn a prize. The retiring pastor, Rev. H. B. Benedict, leaves on Wednesday for his new charge at Owego bearing the affectionate regard and best wishes of the people of Montrose.

Rev. A. L. Benton, D. D., for twenty years the beloved pastor of the Presbyterian church in this place delivered his farewell sermon yesterday at the morning service. His theme was "God's Providential Card" and from his text, Matthew,6:30 he evolved a master-ly discourse and spoke touchingly of his relations with the Montrose church and people during his long pastorate, At the conclusion Dr. Benton in pursuance of the request of Presbytery, declared the pulpit of the Montrose church vacant, and until a new pastor is elected there will be no preaching except by such ministers as may be secured by the session of the church. Dr. Benton has indeed worn well, and no pastor ever left a church, who was more strongly fortified and entrenched in the hearts of his people than is Dr. Eenton. Throughout coming years, he will be missed from the community. but himself and wife will be daily carried upon prayerful lips to the Throne or Grace and the care and blessing of the Great Shepherd will be devoutly invoked. The many Montrose friends of Miss Della Moore late of Scranton, learned with sincere sorrow of that lady's death.

Mrs. Caroline B. Watrous celebrated the sixty-seventh anniversary of her berth today. She is enjoying a fair degree of health.

Modieska-James.

The engagement of Madame Modjeska and Louis James, aunounced for next Thursday even ing, promises to outrank in both popular and ar tistle importance any event of the present theatrical season. While the public have seen sev cral elaborate Shakespearean productions in recent years, no presentation of a Shakespearean play during the past decade will compare in its associations with great players with the coming performance of "The Merchant of Venice," which these celebrated artists are to appear, The artistic possibilities of the alliance ap pealed to both players with greater force than the promise of gain, especially in view of their well-known financial standing. Since the death of Mr. Booth, Mr. Louis James has been regarded s pre-eminent on the tragic stage of this com

try. Added to his splendid accomplishments, Mr. James has a personality which has won him a large and loyal following: In bringing these critists together, it is not too much to say that Managers Wagenhals nd Kemper have rendered a distinct service to the drama in America.

The sale of seats opens this morning at 9 o'clock at the box-office, and a large advance sale is predicted.
