MONTROSE.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Montrose, April 29.—The Prohibition party of Susquehanna county met in convention at the court house in this place this afternoon. A total of about twenty-five delegates and visitors were present.

Rev. P. R. Tower, of Thompson, was elected chairman of the county committee; C. S. Bryant, of Jackson, was elected secretary, and Dr. A. E. Snyder, of New Milford, was chosen treasurer of the county committee.

Rev. W. C. Felden, of Birchardville, was elected chairman of the convention, and F. W. Lewis, of Thompson, secretary.

The following nominations were made by acclamation: For congress, F. H. Dickerson, of North Towanda, Bradford county; for state senator, Salmon P. Jones, of Wayne county; for sheriff, Benjamin Taylor, of South Auburn; for county treasurer, Edgar W. Bolles, of Fairdale; for register and recorder, C. W. Hathaway, of Ararat; for county commissioners, W. N. Judson, of South Auburn; Harvey Brown, of Jackson.

County Chairman Tower presented ringing resolutions condemning the liquor traffic and commending the prohibition movement and the Women's Christian Temperance union, of which organization several representatives were on the floor of the convention.

Alfred Bowell, of Herrick, and E. B. Smith, of New Milford, were nominated for representatives in the state legislature.

At a meeting to be held tonight in the court house, ex-Mayor E. D. Nichols, of Wilkes-Barre, will deliver a lecture, his subject being "Temperance in a New Light."

Chairman Tilden and Rev. James W. Raynor made spirited and eloquent speeches upon the great temperance issue and their remarks were loudly applauded.

FOREST CITY.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Forest City, April 29.—Rev. W. Hollinshed will make the address at the installation of Rev. T. W. Bowen, in the Nicholson Presbyterian church, tomorrow.

A number of our residents attended the concert of the Choral society in the Methodist church, at Dundaff, this evening. It was under the direction of Prof. A. P. Thomas, and the Orpheus quartette and Prof. Thiele, of Scranton, assisted.

The commencement exercises of the Forest City High school will be held in the opera house on Tuesday evening next. There will be sixteen graduates, and County Superintendent Moxley complimented them very highly on the excellent average made in examination.

Miss Amanda Tamblyn, of Scranton, was the guest of her cousin, Miss Mame Budd, the past week.

As yet no one has come to the rescue and volunteered to accept the Forest City tax collectorship. J. Freedman, who has been collector the past year, under appointment, has failed to qualify, and the office, which is supposed to be the most lucrative in the borough, is now going begging. The county duplicate is now ready, but as court has adjourned, no collector can now qualify until August, and the same condition of affairs will exist that confronted the borough last year.

Mrs. W. A. Lott and daughter are home from a visit with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. X. Reese, at Gibson.

The funeral of Dr. Sanford Niles, of Pleasant Mount, who died very suddenly in Mayfield, yesterday, will be held from his late home at 2 o'clock tomorrow. The doctor was a Mason and an Odd Fellow. He was one of the best known men in Wayne county.

DUNDAFF.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Dundaff, April 29.—William C. Givens is confined to his home with swollen feet and limbs. He is being attended by Dr. J. W. Edwards, of Clifford.

Eben Brownell has recently moved into our borough from Scranton. He occupies one side of the Joseph Slocum homestead. Mr. Brownell is a brother of Daniel Brownell.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hockaday are visiting friends and relatives at Scranton.

Rev. W. R. Tinker is expected to take the pastorate of the First Baptist church of this place on or about the first Sunday in May.

Thursday evening, April 24, was the scene of a very pleasant gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cobb, it being the twenty-first birthday of their oldest son, Abner. Quite a large company of friends and neighbors, mostly young people, were present, and all seemed well pleased with the evening's enjoyment. A sumptuous supper was served at about 10 o'clock. Music, games, etc., were also enjoyed. Those present were: Misses Della Snyder, Minnie Snyder, Nellie Evarts, Elyle Cobb, Verna Lee, Tressie Kenyon, Ora Hull, Flora Burdick, Florence Milliard, Gertie Spencer, Jessie Wells, Maggie Wells, Susie Wells, Susie Bigland, May Winters, Emma Winters, Maggie Winters, Emma Rounds, Miss Brown, Miss Oliver, Miss Utley, Martha Hawkey, Sarah Atkinson, Mrs. Bert Lott, Mrs. Belle Williams, Mrs. Emma Lee, Grace Cobb, Olla Cuddeback, Hattie Tinklepaugh; Messrs. Clarence Evarts, John Miller, Myron Mullineux, Willie Bennett, Edward Greene, Willie Ayres, Orin Lee, Curtis Lee, Lewis Lee, Roy Horn, Walter White, Grover Rivenburg, John Wayman, Allen Finn, Walter Whitman, Harry Sheridan, Hugh Williams, Sidney Fredercie, Mr. Jones, Charles Winters, Bert Lott, Joseph Lee, Walter Lee, Henry Snyder.

Poles are being distributed along the roadway from this place to Clifford, preparatory to putting in a local telephone line, which is a very good thing as far as it goes. The long-distance comes as near us on one side as Fern Hall and South Gibson on the other, only a distance of seven miles, and the new line should be connected and then we could say we had something. This matter has been agitated and talked of, and, in fact, some $700 raised to put the line through, but there is not quite enough money raised yet to finish the work.

In the death of John G. Wayman, which occurred on Saturday, the 26th inst., at 1 o'clock p. m., we lose another friend and neighbor. Mr. Wayman had been a long sufferer and during the last few days of his life he became unconscious. Mr. Wayman was 66 years of age and a widower.

Her Son's Life Saved by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"A neighbor ran in with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy when my son was suffering with severe cramps and was given up as beyond hope by my regular physician, who stands high in his profession. After administering three doses of it my son regained consciousness and recovered entirely within twenty-four hours," says Mrs. Mary Haller, of Mt. Crawford, Va. This Remedy is for sale by all druggists.

Rev. P. R. Tower occupied the pulpit at the M. E. church, Sunday morning.

Floyd Axtell, of Susquehanna, gave a fine temperance address at the Baptist church, Sunday evening. Mr. Axtell is one of the most promising young men of our county.

The graded school entertainment will be held at Messenger's hall, Friday evening, May 4. Admission ten cents.

MISS HARRIET M. JENKINS.

The photograph above is that of Miss Harriet Marjorie Jenkins, the young daughter of Rev. D. D. Jenkins, B. D., of Uniondale. She was one of this year's graduates in the graded school of the above place. Having obtained the highest marks in her examinations, she was the valedictorian of her class, with the subject "Lake and Life," and deserves more than a passing notice.

Physically she is not large, and as to complexion is a blonde, and is possessed of several interesting characteristics. She is an inveterate reader, having familiarity with a number of our standard authors. "Ben Hur" and the "Prince of India" she has perused twice, and is at present reading the Bible through systematically for the third time. She is a very thorough student, having a veritable passion for study. System has marked all her work, having had regular hours for home duties and those of the school room, never prosecuting her studies beyond the hour of 9 o'clock in the evening.

She has manifested considerable taste for English literature, algebra, civics and philosophy, having obtained high grades in all. In the face of her gifts and acquisitions she is extremely modest, making no effort at display, is slow to accept any position or honor offered to her, always believing that there is someone near who is better qualified and much more worthy.

She is persevering. This is evident in her being able to complete her course in spite of many great disadvantages. As a musician, having received her training from her mother and Prof. A. P. Thomas, of Carbondale, she has a promising future.

She is strongly inclined to a certain kind of Christian work. Visiting afflicted homes, where she can carry good cheer by her instrumental and vocal efforts in sacred songs, affords her the most pleasure. She much prefers this to any pleasure derived from the usual social gatherings of her young associates. Her ambition is to push forward to a point of higher education. She is held in high and loving esteem by all her teachers, schoolmates and the entire community.

TAYLOR.

The performance of the beautiful oratorio, "Judas Maccabees," given on Monday evening at the Calvary Baptist church, by the Taylor Oratorio society, under the efficient direction of Prof. D. E. Jones. The large church auditorium was taxed to its utmost seating capacity. The chorus was assisted by Bauer's full orchestra: Miss Lida Houser, violinist; Miss Lydia Hoskins, organist, and Miss Florence Richmond, pianist. The soloists were Miss Alberta O'Neill, soprano, Wilkes-Barre; Mrs. Lenore Thompson, contralto, Scranton; Mrs. D. T. Davis, tenor, Wilkes-Barre, and Messrs. J. T. Watkins and John W. Jones, bassos. The chorus singing was exceptionally fine and was worthy of commendation, which showed Prof. Jones' skill as a musical director. The production was one of the finest ever given here, and certainly speaks well for our singers. The performance lasted nearly three hours, and was delightful to hear.

The funeral of Sophia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Watkins, of Rendham, took place yesterday afternoon from the family residence, and was largely attended. Services were conducted in the house at 2 o'clock. Rev. J. J. Jenkins, pastor of the Nebo Congregational church, officiated. There were many floral tributes presented by friends and relatives and were most beautiful. Interment was made in the Forest Home cemetery.

Announcement has been made of the approaching marriage of William B. Thomas, a popular young man of this town, and Miss Morris, an estimable young lady of West Scranton.

ATTRACTIONS TODAY.

ACADEMY—Charles Leybourne's Bon Ton Stock company. Matinee and night.

Sandow.

One is the better prepared to accept the Sampson and the pillars story sine salo, after seeing Sandow perform as he did last night at the Lyceum. A little thing like pushing down a stone house would seem like light exercise for this modern man of muscle. Even some of the famed strong men that "used to live in Carbondale" and other such places would scarcely attempt some of the things Sandow did with comparative ease.

The feat that to the audience seemed the most marvelous was the climax act of his exhibition of finger strength, the tearing squarely in two of three full decks of playing cards. The first time he did it the cards did not tear squarely. He called for more cards and repeated the act to his own satisfaction.

Forming a bridge a platform was placed on his chest and atop this 710 pounds of dumb bells and six men were placed. A ninety-pound ball, attached to a chain a yard in length, was allowed to roll from Sandow's hand which held it at arm's length, the end of the chain being grasped in the hand. The "jerk" did not pull his hand down half-a-foot. A full-sized man lying prostrate on the stage was picked up by the belt, with one hand, and placed astride a horse.

An entertaining feature of Sandow's exhibition was his posing on a pedestal under a strong calcium light. His wonderful muscular development as displayed in the various poses brought from the spectators that extreme evidencing of surprise and wonder "Whew!"

Sandow, however, is not the whole show. His vaudeville company is one of unusual excellence. The Danm Brothers, comedy acrobats, are the best pair in their line of work who have come this way. A sketch, "Hooked by a Crook," by the Mason-Keeler company, is an exceptionally clever act, and there is a good musical turn by the Leslie Brothers. Cross and Halden, in songs and dances; Julie Ring, in songs, and two juvenile artists, the Little Pucks, do very creditable work. The performance closes with a living picture exhibition.

Sandow is playing an end-o-the-season engagement with E. Warner, the American representative of the famous London booking firm of Warner & Co. At the close of this engagement it is his intention to open physical culture schools in several of the larger Eastern cities, devoting a day a week to each city.

"Reaping the Whirlwind."

A strong four-act drama, "Reaping the Whirlwind," received a fine presentation last night, at the Academy, at the hands of the Bon Ton Stock company.

In the afternoon "All for Gold or Money Mad" was the attraction. This afternoon the company will present "The Little Vivendier."

"The Merchant of Venice."

The advance sale of seats for the return engagement of Modjeska and James, at the Lyceum theatre, on Thursday evening, opened at the box office yesterday morning. The play this time will be "The Merchant of Venice," in which Mme. Modjeska will be seen in her famous portrayal of Portia, which is claimed by William Winter to be Shakespeare's most feminine woman, and Modjeska's greatest artistic achievement. Mr. James, of course, will be seen in the role of Shylock, a striking contrast to the character of the wily Cardinal Wolsey, which he essayed here at the beginning of the season.

The present return engagement of these distinguished actors possesses a peculiar interest in the fact that it will in all probability mark the farewell appearance on the local stage of Mme. Modjeska, as she returns to her native Poland at the termination of the season and will make her future home in her native city of Cracow, where, at occasional intervals, she will appear in classic roles in the endowed theaters of Cracow, Moscow and Prague.

The production of "The Merchant of Venice" will be one of scenic splendor, and the supporting company is one of particular strength and general excellence. A large audience will doubtless assemble at the Lyceum on Thursday to witness Shakespeare's greatest comedy-drama, as presented by these famous artists.

"Bonnie Brier Bush."

One of the chief attractions of the dramatic season will be the appearance of Mr. J. H. Stoddart in "The Bonnie Brier Bush." The date of this engagement is Saturday matinee and night at the Lyceum. All of those familiar with the charming story of Ian Maclaren, as well as those who know Mr. Stoddart through his previous impersonations, can easily see why the piece made such a pronounced success in New York city. The critics there were all of the opinion that Dramatist James MacArthur has carefully preserved the atmosphere which forms the larger part of the beauty in the Kaleyard stories. However, it is in the character of Lachlan Campbell, portrayed by Mr. Stoddart, that the chief interest of the play centers. Campbell, it will be remembered, is a typical Scotch elder, who allows his narrow interpretation of his creed to take precedence over his love for his daughter.

The comedy element in the piece, too, is strong and persistent. Its chief exponent is "Posty," whose droll philosophy and witticisms form an excellent foil for the more serious portions of the play. The piece is staked and acted with that finesse which characterizes Kirke La Shelle's attractions.

"The Bonnie Brier Bush" made such a pronounced hit when seen here a short time ago that the Lyceum theater will hold two large audiences next Saturday. Seats go on sale tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

Blue Blood Burlesquers.

The Blue Bloods Burlesque and Vaudeville company and comedians and queens of beauty will begin a three days' engagement at the Star tomorrow afternoon. The living pictures are real works of art, rich in coloring, complete in every detail, and of such mammoth proportions as to cause astonishment.

The programme begins by showing the Blue Bloods on a trip to Paris. The music is original and very good, very different from the general run used by managers of burlesque companies. Some familiar and well known artists make up an olio that cannot be excelled, and is seldom equalled by any traveling organization.

The performance concludes with the Chinese operetta, "Wu Ting," a satire on "San Toy." Eva Mitchell as May McGuire, the Bowery Girl, late of the New York theater.

STAGE NOTES.

Estelle Darling is the new prima donna of "The Sultan of Sulu." She is claimed to be a discovery of Henry W. Savage. Her predecessor, Miss McKinney, has been transferred to "The Prince of Pilsen," now in rehearsal.

When Viola Allen starts next season with "The Eternal City" Edward J. Morgan will be her leading man. The new play ordered for Mr. Morgan will not be ready until about the first of the year, and his starring tour will start then.

Joseph Bulkley has obtained the dramatic rights of Catherine Catherwood's novel, "Lazarre." Otis Skinner and Aubrey Boucicault will undertake the dramatization of the book, with a view to producing a play for Mr. Skinner next season.

Maude Fealy has withdrawn permanently from William Gillette's theatrical company. Miss Fealy sailed immediately for this country upon the termination of her contract with Gillette and will play for eight weeks in a stock company in San Francisco.

"The Little French Milliner" recently produced in London, is an adaptation of "Coralie & Co." the shockingly curo comedy that was once produced in New York by Charles Frohman. The piece has caught on in London and is a big success.

Charles Frohman will star Bertha Galland next season in Paul Potter's "Notre Dame." The piece was originally written for Miss Galland, but had to be utilized by the stock company. William F. Owen, Frank Bangs and Frank Losee will be in Miss Galland's support.
