LOOPER THE LOOP.

Diavolo's Famous Act a Feature of Forepaugh's-Sells Circus.

Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' united shows are exploiting a feature this season which eclipses in point of sheer daring anything ever attempted in any arena. It is the famous Diavolo in his "looping the loop" on a bicycle, an act which created the profoundest sensation in New York city and Philadelphia.

Looping the loop is described as a dangerous and death defying, which is as near correct as words can make it. From the extreme height of the canvass dome Diavolo makes a thrilling descent down a narrow plane on a bicycle and the momentum thus gained carries him around the loop at a terrific rate of speed. At the top of the loop both rider and wheel are upside down and going at the rate of 40 miles an hour. It is a hair-raising act and one that all should see, as it gives a practical demonstration of the first scientific lesson of youth—the swinging in a circle of a bucket full of water without spilling. The date of the show here is Tuesday, May 20.

PROPOSED NEW YARD

Lot on New Street Will Probably Be Purchased for the Department of Public Works.

An ordinance will be introduced in select council tonight providing for the purchase by the city of a plot of ground on New street for a yard for the department of public works.

It comprises some 14,000 square feet and the company has offered it to the city for the sum of $4,000. An appropriation of $6,000 for the purchase of such a lot is included in the general appropriation ordinance for the present fiscal year.

The present yard used by the department of public works is a vacant lot in the rear of the Municipal building on which it is proposed to erect a central fire station.

It is proposed to use a house which stands on the New street lot as a residence for the custodian of the yard and to erect suitable buildings for the housing of the wagons, horses and paraphernalia in the bureau of highways and sewers.

Modern Railroading.

The New Jersey Central and Reading railroads have gained a name as leaders in railroading through the placing in effect of an hourly service between the cities of New York and Philadelphia. These new fast trains leave on the even hour from 7:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m., inclusive, and better equipped trains were never operated. The standard of excellence was long since established by these roads and all others following. All trains run direct to Reading Terminal, Philadelphia, and no change of cars will be necessary. The Reading route is a most picturesque one, and the roadbed is such that fast time can be made between the two cities without fail. A number of the trains will make the trip in two hours, and this Philadelphia service will be in addition to the Royal Blue service operated between New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington. The new locomotives and coaches are up-to-date, having been built especially for this service, and the Pullman Parlor Cars are from the latest models.

A FORMER SCRANTON BOY.

What the Postal Clerk's Magazine Says About Him.

The following from the Postal Clerk's Magazine concerns a former Scranton boy. He will be remembered best as the son of Mr. Cavney, an old-time merchant of Bellevue. He is a cousin of Senator M. E. McDonald and Foreman M. W. Walton of The Times:

But few men in the postal service have made for themselves the reputation enjoyed by Mr. H. J. Cavney, of San Francisco, Cal. He has always worked with but one end in view and that end was to assist in the emancipation of the post office clerks. A comparison of conditions as they are today with the very dark days of a few years back will best show how successful have been the efforts of Mr. Cavney and men of his kind. His active career in the postal office began in 1890, when he was chosen secretary of the San Francisco branch, No. 88, of the United Post Office Association. This association of post office clerks was then in its infancy and Mr. Cavney has done much to promote its growth as organizer for the Pacific coast.

In the year 1900, he was again elected Secretary of his branch. Owing to the amalgamation of the two national bodies, the branch number of San Francisco was changed to No. 8. He was one of the hardest workers in the movement to bring together the two national associations, and

TO MOTHERS

Mrs. J. H. Haskins, of Chicago, Ill., President Chicago Arcade Club, Addresses Comforting Words to Women Regarding Childbirth.

"DEAR Mrs. PINKHAM:—Mothers need not dread childbirth after they know the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. While I loved children I dreaded the ordeal, for it left me weak and sick for months after, and at the time I thought death was a welcome relief; but before my last child was born a good friend advised me to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I used that, together with your Pills and Sanative Wash for four months before the child's birth;—it brought me wonderful relief, I hardly had an ache or pain, and when the child was ten days old I left my bed strong in health. Every spring and fall I now take a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it keeps me in the best of health."

—Mrs. J. H. HASKINS, 3248 Indiana Ave., Chicago, Ill. — $5000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine.

Care and careful counsel is what the expectant and would-be mother needs, and this counsel can be secured without cost by writing to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass.

As a reward for his splendid services was elected third vice president of the consolidated bodies known as the United National Association of Post Office Clerks.

In the same year, he was chosen to represent his branch at the Atlantic City convention. Those who sat with him in that convention can testify to his splendid work as a delegate.

In the year 1901, he was chosen to represent the organization division of the U. S. A. P. O. C. and was successful in his efforts to build up the organization in the West. In the same year he was chosen as president of the San Francisco branch and established a splendid reputation as an executive. In this year, Postmaster General Smith visited San Francisco. The post office clerks paraded in his honor, and the success of the parade was largely due to Mr. Cavney, who acted as marshal.

In the same year he was selected by his branch to represent them at the Milwaukee convention. Mr. Cavney is endowed with wonderful ability as an organizer and this fact having become generally recognized, he was selected for the position of chairman of the organization committee for the entire country. To his excellent management of this office, to his untiring efforts, are we largely indebted for the enormous growth of the association during the past few months.

We are looking for more Cavneys.

BISHOP HOBAN AS A WITNESS

TESTIFIES IN THE ARDMAN INJUNCTION CASE.

Equity Suit Involving the Question of the Extent of Roman Catholic Bishop's Authority Over Greek Catholic Churches and Their Pastors in the United States—Grows Out of an Incident in Connection with the Assassination of President McKinley—Other Matters.

The injunction case against Rev. John Ardan, of Olyphant, in which the extent of the jurisdiction of Roman Catholic bishops over Greek Catholic churches in the United States is involved is being heard before Judge Edwards.

The hearing was begun yesterday morning in court room No. 1 and was attended by many prominent churchmen. At the plaintiff's table with Attorney Martin & O'Brien were Bishop M. J. Hoban and Chancellor J. J. Griffin of the Scranton diocese. At the defendant's table with Rev. John Ardan and his attorneys, W. J. Hand, Arthur Dunn, George S. Horn and H. L. Taylor were a number of Greek priests who have been in conflict with the Roman Catholic bishop of this diocese and who as a result of the conflict are now pastors of independent churches. One of these is Rev. Frank Hodur of South Scranton.

Another is Rev. Dr. Toth, of Wilkes-Barre, who was defendant in the case in which the supreme court of Pennsylvania decided that he as the pastor of a Greek Catholic church at Wilkes-Barre was under the jurisdiction of the late Bishop O'Hara, and that his excommunication by the bishop was regular and legal. Dr. Szlupas, the well-known socialist was another interested onlooker occupying a seat among the defendant's adherents.

Rev. James McLeod, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who recently engaged in a controversy on the Jesuits with Bishop Hoban sat through a part of the hearing. He and Bishop Hoban are close personal friends. Yesterday they met for the first time since their controversy. When their eyes met, they bowed smilingly to each other and as Dr. McLeod advanced the bishop arose with hand extended to greet him. They shook hands heartily and exchanged a few pleasantries.

PLAINTIFF'S TESTIMONY.

Both sessions of yesterday were taken up with the presentation of the plaintiff's testimony. Today will be devoted to the hearing of the defendant's side and possibly the arguments. The case may run into the third day.

The suit has its inception in an incident connected with the assassination of President McKinley. Rev. Ardan is editor of a Greek paper called the Swoboda which had a strong leaning towards extreme socialism. In an editorial on the death of President McKinley, Rev. Ardan gave expression to views tending to condone the crime of Czolgosch. The matter was brought to the attention of Bishop Hoban and he called the writer to account.

In response Rev. Ardan wrote him a letter demanding that his name be stricken from the roll of priests of the Scranton diocese. Thereupon the bishop replied that he was under the jurisdiction of the late Bishop O'Hara, and that his excommunication by the bishop was regular and legal. Dr. Szlupas, the well-known socialist was another interested onlooker occupying a seat among the defendant's adherents.
