The Crowning Effort In Superlative Values

The fact is conceded that for years past the progress of our Cloak and Suit Department has been an unbroken series of successes with each succeeding season. Year by year has witnessed improvements at every point essential to the pleasure and profit of our patrons, and during the present season, notwithstanding that the floor space of this department has been doubled, we have been taxed to our utmost to keep pace with the never-ceasing flow of appreciative buyers, the number of which puts the trade of all former seasons completely into the background.

This being the fact, our original season's purchases proved totally inadequate to meet the requirements of our business, and we were once more forced into the market with the result that we have

SOUTH SCRANTON NOTES.

Contemplated Changes in Hickory Street Presbyterian Church—In Honor of Her Birthday.

The contemplated changes at the Hickory Street Presbyterian church were brought to a head at the last special meeting and the plans have been placed in the hands of a committee, headed by Louis Schumacher as chairman. The other members who will aid in having the work pushed to a speedy completion are: William Hammen, sr., Henry Spruks, John Freuchtel, sr., and Casper Fisher.

The principal changes will be made on the interior, where the side galleries and organ loft will be removed, so as to secure the full value of the side window light, which so far has been obscured by the gallery, making the interior so dark that the lights had to be burned frequently.

A new gallery, however, will be put in place, so that as many as before can be seated. It will be at the Hickory street end, and built semi-circular, similar to the new parish house gallery. The walls will also be renovated and painted in a much lighter shade, and the inside will be made much more bright and cheerful. The intended improvements will cost in the neighborhood of $5,000.

Celebrated Her Birthday.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry, at 1240 Willow street, was invaded a few nights ago by a party of friends, who had learned in some way that it was Mrs. Henry's fifty-first birthday. Although taken by surprise, the host and hostess proved equal to the occasion, and served the visitors with an appetizing supper, which was followed by dancing, and dancing was kept up until midnight.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. Henry, Mrs. Mordock, Mrs. Winnan, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Greenwald, Mrs. Vail and the Misses Fred Miller, Grace Winman, Lydia Henry, and Violet Springer, Messrs. Murphy, Springer, William Winnan, and Matthewson.

IN HARNESS

"Get up!" The mother smiles at the baby's excited eagerness and pretends to quicken her pace. In the sweet service of this first-born little one she has not yet learned that what is now play may become earnest and her whole life dominated by a baby cry. "Get up!" When she is snatching a few minutes' rest from her household labors she will have to get up to answer the scream which tells of some childish mishap. When she has sunk into slumber at last, weary of the day and its trials, baby's wail will again demand that she get up and minister to his needs. And so she lives her life. Child follows child and to each in succession she sacrifices rest and sleep. For each she slaves a little more ardently. And when worn and faint her feet move slowly, some childish need will re-echo the old cry, "Get up!"

The mother who rears a family and slaves and labors for them will surely lose her strength and fall off in looks unless she makes a proper provision for self-preservation. It needs no argument to prove that the strength the mother gives to the child she bears and nourishes must be replaced if she is to preserve an even balance of health. It is also plain that the mother who begins life for two must have health for two. The problem of motherhood is how to offset the strain and drain of maternity, and be the healthy mother of healthy children.

This problem is solved for those who use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a preparation for maternity, and as a tonic and nerve to promote a quick recovery. "Favorite Prescription" tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces refreshing sleep. It gives great muscular strength and elasticity, making the baby's advent practically painless.

"I am thankful to the friend who first recommended your medicine," writes Mrs. Annie M. Brook, of Smithfield, Fayette Co., Pa. "We have a twelve-pound baby, three weeks old. I took three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' before baby came, and the time was only one hour and a half. Have had five children, and have always had a severe time, lasting two or three days, and never was able to do any work for about two months afterward. Now I am doing all the work for four children. My friends say I look better now than ever before. We told one of my sisters to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which she did, and when her child was born the time of suffering was very short. She has better health now than since her marriage, some two years ago. We cannot praise Dr. Pierce's medicines enough. I thank you for the kind advice you gave when I wrote to you. Whenever I see other women suffering I tell them about your wonderful medicines."

Many women make a very slow recovery after maternity. In spite of all that can be done the strength does not come back. In such circumstances the remarkable tonic effects of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription are perfectly proved. Recovery is quick and prompt and with it comes a strength unknown before. This is the common experience of mothers who use "Favorite Prescription," which is not a mere temporary tonic but a real strength-giving medicine. For nursing mothers it excels all malt beverages and stimulants, increasing the flow of the nutritive secretions and giving the mother strength to give her child.

"My baby came the latter part of October, and is a fine boy; weight about nine pounds," writes Mrs. Annie E. Hagerman, of West Philadelphia Street (Eberhart), York, Pa. "Am sure he would not be what he is had it not been for your 'Favorite Prescription.' He really is a very strong child. I have been feeling fine since taking your medicine. Have not the pain around my heart, and nerves have been a great deal better. Uterine trouble was all the time I was taking your medicine. I cannot recommend it too highly. Have told my friends about it, and one of them said she was going to write to you at once. I took twelve bottles before baby was born and two afterward."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a reliable woman's medicine. It is a purely vegetable preparation and contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine nor any other narcotic. It cannot disagree with the weakest constitution. "Favorite Prescription" perfectly and permanently cures the diseases which weaken women. It establishes regularity, dries encumbering drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All letters are held as strictly private and the written confidences of women are guarded by the same strict professional privacy observed by Dr. Pierce and his staff in personal consultations with weak and sick women at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The dealer who offers a substitute for "Favorite Prescription," does so to gain the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines. His profit is your loss; therefore, accept no substitute.

THOUGHTFUL MOTHERS will find much to interest and instruct them in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This great work contains more than a thousand large pages and over seven hundred illustrations, and is sent FREE on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing ONLY. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the volume in cloth binding, or only 21 stamps for the book in paper covers. Address Dr. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.
