A pugilistic bout between "Jack" Kinnam, of Paterson, N. J., and Tom Quigley, of Luzerne, will take place in Dunn's hall at Exeter borough next Monday evening.

There is no doubt but that the hospital benefit entertainment will be a financial success, for already every reserve seat for Friday and Saturday evenings has been marked off, but few choice seats remain for the matinee Saturday afternoon.

Harry Yaseen, a well-known jeweler of this city, was yesterday acquitted by the court on the charge of receiving stolen property. Several months ago, Yaseen bought a diamond of May Tompkins, and a short time later John Irwin, of Canal street, Wilkes-Barre, appeared at the jewelry store and demanded the stone, claiming it had been stolen.

Frank Haines, of Scranton, has engaged stables at the West Pittston race track and will place his string of speculators this week.

Two Dugout Polanders were arrested yesterday afternoon, on a warrant sworn out by P. T. McGovern, the contractor in charge of the Canton hall, toilly road, against a party who charged the men with stealing planks, ties, spikes, etc. They were held under bail.

TUNKHANNOCK.

Special to The Scranton Tribune. Tunkhannock, May 1.—The ladies of J. W. Reynolds Relief corps gave a pleasant surprise party to Mrs. John J. Deane, at her home on Sloum street, Tuesday evening.

Prof. F. H. Jarvis and Prof. F. J. Herman, the two candidates for county superintendent, are very busy interviewing the school directors these days.

The Daughters of the American Revolution will go to Meshobon on Saturday, where they will be entertained at the home of Mrs. W. W. Woodward.

The ladies of the Monday club drove to Lake Carey on Wednesday, and were entertained by Mrs. James W. Platt, at their summer residence in Canton.

BRADFORD COUNTY.

Special to The Scranton Tribune. Towanda, May 1.—It is now reported that negotiations have been going on between the officers of the Pittsburgh, Binghamton and Eastern Railroad company and one of the wealthiest and most conservative banking concerns of New York, as well as with other railroad interests, which indicate that the affairs of the trunk line which proposes to cross Bradford and Tioga counties are in a much better state than the public believed.

Judge Fanning's decision has been sustained by the Supreme court, in his ruling in the case of Harris against the Mercer estate, which has been in the public eye.

Richard I. and a dog are near the brook which Priar Tuck and Robin Hood are crossing. Can you find them?

Miss Margaret Fox, a Towanda young lady, a member of the senior class at the Syracuse university, has been chosen class prophetess at the class day exercises.

CONTRASTING TENDENCIES.

Our Farms Are Subdividing, Our Great Industries Concentrating. From Andrew Carnegie's "The Empire of Business."

Labor is divided into two great armies—the agricultural and the industrial. In these diverse forces are in operation. In the former everything tends to a further restriction of land among the many; in the latter everything tends to a concentration of business in the hands of the few. One of the two great fallacies upon which "Progress and Poverty"—Mr. George's book—is founded, is that the land is getting more and more scarce with the growth of the population.

The exercises of commencement will occur June 15-19, inclusive. The seniors have already made their appearance in cap and gown, and look staid and grave enough.

club of the Mohawk and Hudson valleys, and the Greater New York club. Each of the four clubs was honored with a page in the college annual and the Scranton club was fittingly designated by a cut of a coal mine. The officers of the Scranton club for this spring are: President, James G. Bailey; vice-president, David W. Thomas; secretary and treasurer, Randolph Frothingham.

The exercises of commencement will occur June 15-19, inclusive. The seniors have already made their appearance in cap and gown, and look staid and grave enough.

When we turn to the other army of labor—the industrial—we are obliged to confess that it is always by the opposite law, which tends to concentrate manufacturing and business affairs generally in a few vast establishments. The fall in prices of manufactured articles has been startling. Never from each establishment in order that the minimum of cost should be reached. Hence comes the rapid and continuous increase of the capital of manufacturing and commercial concerns, five, ten, fifteen and even twenty millions being massed in one corporation.

ing many thousands yards of calico per day, and this necessary article is to be had for a few cents per yard. Manufacturers of steel make 2,500 tons per day, and four pounds of finished steel are sold for 5 cents. And so on through the entire range of industries. Divide the huge factories into smaller establishments, and it will be found impossible to manufacture some of the articles at all, the success of the process being often dependent on its being operated upon a large scale, while the cost of such articles as could be produced in small establishments would be two or three times their present prices. There does not appear to be any countervailing force to this law of concentration in the industrial world. On the contrary, the active forces at work seem to demand greater and greater output or turn-over from each establishment in order that the minimum of cost should be reached. Hence comes the rapid and continuous increase of the capital of manufacturing and commercial concerns, five, ten, fifteen and even twenty millions being massed in one corporation.
