TODAY THE TRIBUNE'S Great Educational Contest opens. Books of subscription blanks and full instructions were sent on Saturday to all contestants who have entered the contest during the past three weeks, and it is presumed that they will start their canvass for subscribers to THE TRIBUNE in earnest today. With such a large number of scholarships there is an opportunity for any active young man or woman to secure one. Nearly three times as many scholarships are offered as Special Rewards in this contest than were offered in the two preceding contests combined. Thirty-three Scholarships, ranging in value from $57 to $1,700, worth altogether Nearly Ten Thousand Dollars, are offered to the young people of Northeastern Pennsylvania for one brief summer's work.

The accompanying panel shows what these scholarships are in detail, and the following brief summary will give some little idea of what is in store for those who really make an effort to be among the leaders:

Summary of Scholarships

32 Scholarships are open to Young Men.
26 Scholarships are open to Young Women.

There are—

- 4 Scholarships in Universities.
- 9 Scholarships in Preparatory Schools.
- 5 Scholarships in Shorthand and Business
- 7 Scholarships in Piano Instruction.
- 2 Scholarships in Vocal Instruction.
- 1 Scholarship in Art.

5 Scholarships in any course by correspondence.

5 Scholarships cover tuition, board, room, heat and light.

1 Scholarship covers tuition, room, heat and light.

3 Scholarships cover tuition and incidentals.

6 Scholarships cover various expenses in addition to tuition.

With such a long list of Special Rewards, in institutions so varied in their instruction, there are great opportunities within the reach of all. The contestant who was in ninth place last year, and who failed to secure a scholarship because the list was exhausted, would be entitled this year to a scholarship valued at at least $600.

The institutions in which these scholarships are offered are too well known to need any commendation. It will be recognized that there are no better in the country and a scholarship of three or four years in any one of them will be a prize of which any young man or woman may be justly proud.

Special Honor Prizes

Something entirely new has been added this year in the way of honor prizes. Each month the contestant securing the largest number of points will receive a "Special Honor Prize." The first of these will be awarded on the evening of Saturday, May 31. The contestant who secures the largest number of points from now until 5 o'clock in the afternoon of that day will receive a handsome gold watch. The case is warranted for 20 years. This watch is now on exhibition in the window of Berry, the jeweler, 423 Lackawanna avenue.

This Special Honor Prize is entirely additional to the scholarship to which the successful contestant will be entitled at the close of the contest.

Now Is the Time to Enter

Although several of the successful contestants did not enter last year until the contest was well advanced, yet they had to work all the harder to win. The best time to begin is right at the start, when you will have an equal opportunity with the others.

Get your name near the top at the beginning and your friends will be more interested in helping you, as they will see that all you need is a little assistance to keep your position and secure a scholarship.

If you are familiar with the rules and conditions of the contest, cut out the coupon below and send it to the Contest Editor and you will receive a canvasser's equipment by return mail.

If you are not familiar with the plan, and would like to get further particulars, just drop a postal or a short letter to the Contest Editor and your request will receive prompt attention. Address all communications to

CONTEST EDITOR,
Scranton Tribune, Scranton, Pa.

To Parents: You are undoubtedly interested in the educational advancement of your children. THE TRIBUNE'S Educational Contest not only offers them an opportunity to secure suitable education in the foremost institutions of the country at little or no cost, but by entering the contest they will receive training that will be invaluable to them in after life. They will be taught how to meet people and to talk intelligently to them on business matters, and the experience gained will broaden them wonderfully.

TO THE CONTEST EDITOR SCRANTON TRIBUNE

SIR:—Please enroll my name as one of the contestants in THE TRIBUNE'S Educational Contest, and send me equipment as soon as possible.
