Doctor Byers' Reception in Scranton Marked by Scenes Such as Have Probably Never Before Been Witnessed in This City---The Word Had Gone Forth---The People Knew That the Noted Specialist Was Here, Found That "Free" with Him Meant Absolutely Free, That Is, Entirely Without Cost or Assessment of Any Kind.

It was expected that Doctor Byers' liberal offer would cause a sensation. It was expected that those who had suffered hopelessly from chronic diseases and from deafness would seek him who had triumphed so marvelously over disease, and whose restoration of the sense of hearing had made his name famous. So it was not surprising that when the announcement was made that Doctor Byers would receive, examine, prescribe for, treat and furnish medicines to all who came FREE-absolutely without money and without price-the people were astounded.

The newspaper announcements were eagerly read and re-read. It could not be possible. There must be some mistake. People ran to friends and neighbors and questioned and discussed. It became the one topic of conversation. "Doctor Byers would not allow the announcement to be made that everything would be free unless he meant it," was the final conclusion, but there lingered in many minds the feeling that some mistake might have been made by the newspapers, that there had been some exaggeration because of misunderstanding.

Scranton had experienced "Free" doctors, "Free" treatment, "Free" consultation, "Free" medicines, but always there had been behind the "Free" some scheme to obtain money. It had been like free admission to a place where it was necessary to pay to get out. Because of these many unfortunate experiences, while Doctor Byers' honesty was not questioned, it was feared that the newspapers had too freely used the word "Free," omitting such limitations as the doctor would put upon it when he personally greeted those who came to benefit by his skill.

But even with this doubt about the full meaning of the word "Free," there probably was never before in this city such a gathering of those afflicted by Deafness and other diseases and conditions. There were old men to whom all voices and all sounds had been shut out for half a century; there were men and women of all ages, pale and thin, who had been told by doctors that life was a matter of only a few months; there were cripples hobbling with canes, or half carried by friends, whose lives had been made sad because of their misfortune; there were those with faces disfigured by those terrible diseases of the blood and skin-and they would all have come had it been to give their last penny for the treatment of Doctor Byers.

From early morning on Thursday began the assembling of sufferers and every moment of the day brought new additions. Friday and Saturday they came in increased numbers. And the people found to their wonder and surprise that no misstatement had been made in their profession, are qualified by the newspaper announcements of Doctor Byers' mission that "FREE" eduration the energous fees asked by most physical statement. meant exactly what was stated; that not one cent was asked or ac- icians, and considers them heartless and mercepted for anything, for consultation, for examination, for treatment, cenary. He has always protested against the for medicine; that Doctor Byers had no medicine to sell. No sooner did the people reach their homes than the word was passed from mouth to mouth that what they had read in the paper was true in finally they have paid hundreds of dollars without

Every day from now till May 11th will these people come, and they will meet the Doctor and be put by him on the highway to recovery, of a physician, where he has failed and not one cent will be received from any person for anything un- to benefit the patient, to return the der any pretext. There are no limits to this free invitation; it includes all those who suffer from any complaint and have failed of cure or relief. All will be examined, and all will be treated, and all will receive all needed medicines, and all absolutely free.

The Story of His Life.

Doctor Byers was born of Quaker parentage and during the early part of his life he was under the influence of that religious denomination. From early childhood the whole tenor of his mind seemed to be in the direction of relieving the sick. It might be stated broadly that he was born physician, and those natural qualities which go to make up all that is necessary to produce a successful physician were born in him,

The Power of Healing which he now possesse was first noticed by members of his own family, and this Power has developed and grown stronge as he has grown older.

Realizing that a natural gift could be improved upon by diligent study and research, he entered the Jefferson Medical college, of Philadelphia and graduated with honor. He also attended the various hospitals and clinics in Philadelphia, in cluding the Pennsylvania Hospital for Acute and Surgical Diseases, the Blockley Hospital for Skin and Ear Diseases and the clinics of Professor J. Solis-Cohen for Diseases of the Throat.

Thus it will be seen that Doctor Byers po the rare combination of the Power to Heat, to gether with the most careful medical training While at college he was constantly making orig inal research, and knowing that the human body was made up of minute cells, he discovered that disease was caused by the disorganization of these cells, and by restoring the cell life to its natural function the disease was entirely cradicated. Doctor Byers is a man of ample means, and very averse to notoriety. He is an educated physician with a Rare Gift. He desires to do all the good he can. He has never been known to retain a fee where he has failed to

Why Physicians Fail to Cure.

The reason that physicians have failed to curs in the past is because they have not understood the true cause of disease. They have empirically given remedies because they have been told by others or have read in medical works that such and such a remedy was good for such and such a disease. This is a theory based on a wrong foundation. All disease is due to a disorganization of cell life, and when the cell life is restored to its natural condition, health is the result.

Doctor Byers' Offices.

Doctor Byers has permanently located in Scranton, and his offices, occupying the entire second floor at 412 Spruce street, are the largest and most elaborately equipped physician's offices in the state. Every appliance for the auccessful treatment of disease is utilized in the cure of the sick. His treatment is not like the treatment of other doctors, where the sufferer waits patiently month after month, houing for relief, only to meet with failure. Doctor Byers' treatment acts almost instantaneously. After one treatment the patient says: "Doctor, I am so much improved. I feel like a new person." To try his treatment is to be convinced, It cures, and it cures with absolute sertainty. bsolute scrtainty.

Some of the Statistics He Gave. Forty Hours Devotion in Holy Rosary Church - Marriage of William S. Brain nd Miss Ella E.

Small or larger deficits in church reasuries at annual business meetngs are such common things that the Providence Presbyterian people at their annual congregational meeting last evening were quite overjoyed when the treasurer D. B. Atherton, completed the reading of his carefully prepared report with the announcement that every expense of the year had been met and that in addition six hundred dollars had been paid on a small indebtedness of twelve hundred dollars. About three hundred dollars had been the generous gift of the Laides' Aid society to whom was given a vote of thanks. The meeting last evening was opened by prayer by the pastor and was pre-sided over by Capt. D. B. Atherton. The trustees newly elected were: Capt. Dolph B. Atherton, John R. Atherton and Edward Roderick. John R. Atherton was made president of the board and Mr. Roderick treasurer. The meeting was largely attended. On Sunday morning last, Dr. Guild, preached the twenty-third annual sermon of his pastorate in the Providence church and gave the following statistics of the past year, mostly taken from the report of the session to the Presbytery: Total membership of the church, 495, 56 of whom were received during the last year. The church gave during the year $532 to Home Missions; $150 to Foreign Missions; Board of Sunday School workers, $69; General Assembly, $75; American Bible society, $24; Board of Education, $25; Board of Freedmen $34; to other boards of the church and general benevolencies and to congregational uses about $3.900, or a sum total of money raised for a year was five housand dollars.

The pastor also said that the Sunday school is in a more prosperous condition than for many years and that three months ago a missionary "home department" was organized having a
