While Mr. Tillman was speaking, many of the Democratic senators left the chamber, his audience on the floor being largely on the Republican side.

Mr. Burton, of Kansas, vigorously arraigned Mr. Tillman for his utterances. He asserted that the senator who could defend slavery and government by the shotgun could not be expected to think well of senators who were trying to carry good government to the Filipinos. He was astonished that a senator in one breath should make an appeal for unsullied government in the Philippines and in the next should boast of crimes almost unparalleled in history. Mr. Burton followed with a warm defense of the government's policy in the Philippines, and became involved in a heated colloony with Mr. Rawlins, of Utah, because he had denounced some of Mr. Rawlins' statements as false. He paid a brilllant tribute to General Funston as one of the great heroes of the army.
