Only Three Days More

Of the Wonderful Period of Free Treatment, During Which Doctor Byers is Introducing to the People of Scranton a New System of Medicine--and by Which He Demonstrates its Superiority Over Other Systems--Sufferers from All Diseases Welcome to Take Advantage of the Opportunity Until 12 o'Clock Sunday, May 11.

The pledge Doctor Byers made to the public last of May, the pledge involving that wonderful invitation bidding all sufferers to visit him at his office and receive his advice, his medicines and his treatment free of charge, will be fulfilled to the letter.

This, notwithstanding the fact that the offices have been thronged to their utmost capacity, that the resources of his laboratory have been taxed to their complement, that the time and strength of Doctor Byers have been fully occupied, the promise will be kept, and kept literally, as all Doctor Byers' promises to the public are.

Just three days remain of this wonderful opportunity. All those who apply before May 11 will, according to the terms of the invitation, be entitled to receive and will receive consultation, advice, medicines and treatment for a period of ten days after the time of their application, absolutely and entirely free of charge.

For the benefit of those who have delayed to take advantage of this opportunity until the last, it may be made very clear that the lateness of their application does not deprive them of any of the benefit of the offer. They are entitled to ten days' supply of medicine and treatment absolutely free. Provided their names are recorded before May 11.

Next to the expression of surprise and gratitude of the hundreds visiting Doctor Byers the expressions most frequently heard are eager questions regarding what will be done after the close of Free Treatment on May 11, what charges will be made. Scores are asking every day: "If I continue my treatment after my ten days free are up, what will I have to pay?"

"What are Doctor Byers' charges, when he does charge?" Many have written into the office, saying: "Doctor, I do not want to take advantage of the Free Treatment, but I want you to treat me, and I want to know what you will charge me after the free treatment is over, so I can tell whether I can afford it or not."

The question of fees is never a very pleasing one for a physician to discuss, and Doctor Byers does not hold out low-sized fees as an inducement for people to be treated by him; indeed, his fees would hardly be considered low. Many of the people who have taken advantage of this opportunity of ten days free will need further treatment, however. Many of them have taken advantage of the treatment because it was free, not being able to afford to pay large fees for medical services. Doctor Byers does not desire to discontinue the treatment in any case where a longer period of treatment is needed. It would be manifestly unfair to continue the treatment of those now under his care at a low fee and charge new patients a higher fee. He has, therefore, decided for the first month of his practice in Scranton to maintain the LOWEST FEES THAT HAVE EVER BEEN GIVEN IN THE PRACTICE OF MEDICINE. This period of low fees will only obtain during the month of May, the first month of his practice here.

The Story of His Life.

Doctor Byers was born of Quaker parents, and during the early part of his life he was under the influence of that religious denomination. From early childhood the whole tenor of his mind seemed to be in the direction of relieving the sick. It might be stated broadly that he was a born physician, and those natural qualities which go to make up all that is necessary to produce a successful physician were born in him.

Realizing that a natural gift could be improved upon by diligent study and research, he entered the Jefferson Medical college, at Philadelphia, and graduated with honors. He also attended the various hospitals and clinics in Philadelphia, including the Pennsylvania Hospital for Acute and Surgical Diseases, the Blockley Hospital for Skin and Ear Diseases and the clinics of Professor J. S. Sells-Cohen for Diseases of the Throat.

He has never been known to retreat, and where he has failed to benefit the patient.

Why Physicians Fail to Cure.

The reason that physicians have failed to cure in the past is because they have not understood the true cause of disease. They have empirically given remedies because they have been told by others or have read in medical works that such and such a remedy was good for such and such a disease. This is a theory based on a wrong foundation. All disease is the result of a disorganization of the cells, and when the cell life is restored to its natural condition, health is the result.

Doctor Byers' Offices.

Doctor Byers has permanently located in Scranton, and his offices, occupying the entire second floor of 412 Spruce street, are now open and most elaborately equipped physician's offices in the state. Every appliance for the successful treatment of disease is utilized in the care of the sick. His treatment is not like the treatment of other doctors, where the sufferer waits patiently month after month, hoping for relief, only to meet with failure. Doctor Byers' treatment acts almost instantaneously in shortening the illness of the patient. "Doctor, I am so much improved, I feel like a new person. To try his treatment is to be cured. It cures, and it cures with absolute certainty."
