

OUR BOYS' DEPARTMENT

"The Little Gent" Boys' Shoe

It's stylish and it's made by a manufacturer who understands the leather qualities necessary for Boys' Good shoes.

Our 31 years of experience and progress enables us to say this to you truthfully—

"You'll fail to find elsewhere in this city such values and style assortments as we offer you in the Boys' and Children's Department of this store."

It has grown—it will continue to grow. It's interesting to us, and it's interesting to you, because there would be no growth without a good cause for growing. Each season's business is built up on the satisfaction of clothes sold the previous season. Mothers of boys fully realize the importance of thoroughness in make and material. It's our strict attention to each and every detail that has created the demand and increased the sales of our Boys' Clothes from year to year. We can't give here a list of all the styles and prices to be found in our Boys' department.

Sommers Trespass Case.

Joseph Sommers, of Old Forge, represented by Attorney Edward A. V. Thayer, some time ago brought an action of trespass against John Dubernas, also of Old Forge, for damages to his property, which, he alleges, had been occasioned by Dubernas in building a ditch from the latter's land to a point where the water flowed upon Sommers' premises.

The defendant was represented by James E. Watkins. The case was tried before Arbitrators Thomas Handley, Walter Besant and Palmer L. Williams yesterday in court room No. 2. It appears that Sommers and Dubernas own tenement properties on the opposite sides of Spring street, in Old Forge. In the summer of 1900 Dubernas constructed a ditch to carry off the water which accumulated on his property from springs along the side of Spring street. This caused the water to collect at a point in front of the Sommers property and from there it percolated through the ground into the cellar of his tenement house. The tenants moved out, because of continued flooding and because the water washed out part of the foundation walls.

Sommers brought an action in trespass against Dubernas for $2,000.

Dubernas claimed that the ditch did not cause the water to accumulate in front of the plaintiff's property, but that it accumulated naturally from springs in the immediate vicinity. All of the testimony was heard yesterday, and the case will be tried today.

Petition for Injunction.

R. M. Winton and Walter W. Winton, executors of the estate of Catherine Winton, deceased, yesterday petitioned the court for an injunction against B. E. Leonard and the Clock Tobacco company.

It is alleged by the complainants that they hold two mortgages, aggregating $18,000, given by B. E. Leonard, on two lots at Wyoming avenue and Pine street, on which is a large three-story brick building. Mr. Leonard formerly conducted a tobacco business there, but sold the business to the Clock company.

Mr. Leonard having defaulted in his payments on the mortgage an execution was issued against the property and the machinery contained in the building. It is alleged that the Clock company is removing the boilers and engines, which the complainants allege is the removal of part of the security of their mortgage, and they ask that court by injunction restrain the Clock company from further tampering with the property.

Wants $20,000 Damages.

Mrs. Charlotte Watkins, a former resident of this city, but now living at Paterson, is the plaintiff in a $20,000 damage suit against the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company, begun yesterday by Colonel T. R. Martin, of Wilkes-Barre.

Mrs. Watkins' son, William, a young man 25 years of age, was employed in the defendant company's locomotive repair shop in this city as a machinist. Last July he was working under an engine, when the supports gave way and he was crushed to death under the great weight of the engine.

It is alleged that the accident was due to the negligence of the company in failing to have the locomotive properly supported before allowing a man to go under it.

In Orphans' Court.

A special session of the Orphans' court was held yesterday by Judge A. A. Vansburg. The hearing on the citations upon A. J. Rogan, guardian of the five children of Bridget Rogan, deceased, was fixed for May 15, at 9 a. m., in open court.

The hearing in the proceedings to remove the executrix under the will of Frederick Simon, for incompetency, was fixed for May 11, at 9 a. m.

The hearing upon the exceptions to the widow's appraisement in the estate of Matthew Connolly, deceased, was set down for May 15, at 9 a. m.

The argument upon the exceptions to the auditor's report in the estate of Matilda Swingle was also fixed for May 15.

The audit in the estates of Nellie Ryan et al., minors, M. F. Wymbs, guardian, was set down for hearing on Tuesday, May 13, at 9 a. m.

A number of motions and orders in other estates were also made.

The next session will be held on Saturday at 10 a. m. The regular May term begins Monday.

COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES.

All of yesterday was consumed with the offering of checks and listening to the testimony of Charles W. Gray, in the Dean-Winton equity case. It will take several days more to dispose of the case.

Mulhern & Judge yesterday obtained a writ of replevin directed against Peter N. Haan and John Canavan for two gray horses, valued at $250. The horses were leased upon by Haan for a debt owed him by Tom Magnozzi. Mulhern & Judge allege that they, and not Magnozzi, are the owners of the horses.

The locomotives, cars and Pullman cars are the most modern, the roadbed is rock ballasted, and as only hard coal is used there is no smoke or cinders. Every train runs direct to Reading Terminal, Philadelphia, without change and many of them cover the distance in two hours. The Reading route by which the Philadelphia line is often known, is not only a short way to Philadelphia, but it is likewise the scenic route. This service goes into effect on May 13, but in no way does it impair the fast and elegant service of the Royal Blue line, which will run independently of the Philadelphia line.
