IN THE CYCLE CLUB.

A Keen but Friendly Rivalry after the Office of President—Elect on Tuesday Night.

The members of the Carbondale Cycle Club have been discussing for several weeks the probability of the semi-annual election, which is scheduled to take place at the club house to-morrow evening.

As this is the eve of election there is an intense interest among the clubmen, perhaps a greater interest and activity than have ever been manifested in a club election. The presidency is the chief element of interest. The rivalry for this office while it is between only two candidates, Isaac Singer and Jacob Puchs, is keen with the most friendly.

The club is an important factor in the social life of Carbondale and to be at its head is no small honor. That the office should stir up such a friendly contest as is on is no small wonder. An exceptionally large attendance is looked for to-morrow evening. It is expected that the absentees will be exceedingly few. The retiring president, it will be recalled, is George S. Kimball, whose absence from the club, though not permanent, will be greatly felt.

Aside from the presidency, the only office for which the cycle men will have any choice to exercise is in the election of the board of governors. For the five places to be filled there are eight candidates, as follows:

President, Jacob Puchs, Isaac Singer; vice-president, Ralph Bennie; secretary, George F. James; treasurer, Frank Derby; board of governors (five to be elected) Dr. Day, Joe Gilford, George Kimball, C. E. Spencer, H. G. Likely, Dr. Wheeler, D. W. Humphrey, Harry Williams; auditors, P. O. Felts, Ray Clifford, E. C. Ely.

WAYNE POLITICIANS.

Party of Them Stop Here En Route to Susquehanna.

A party of well known active workers in Republican politics in Honesdale was in the city yesterday during the afternoon.

The Honesdale men took dinner at the American and left for Susquehanna in the afternoon, where they will attend the senatorial conference today. With them was William F. Kiefer, of Honesdale, candidate for state senator, in whose interests they were going to the conference. The other members of the delegation were L. M. Atkinson, district attorney; C. M. Hartz, ex-Sheriff E. H. Courtright, C. M. Hartz, treasurer of Wayne county; J. E. Robinson, N. B. Spencer, J. M. Sharpston. All of the delegation have many friends in Carbondale, who greeted them warmly during their stay. Mr. Spencer will be remembered for his activity in sports in which Honesdale and Carbondale teams were interested.

AMPUTATED HIS FOOT.

Brakeman William Douglas Operated on at Hospital.

William Douglas, the Delaware & Hudson brakeman who has been in a precarious condition at Emergency hospital for the past ten weeks, had the injured foot, which was the cause of all his trouble, amputated yesterday afternoon. He stood the operation well and appeared to be stronger last evening than before going to the operating room.

Douglas' foot was removed just above the ankle. As septic poisoning had developed, his salvation seemed to lie in amputating the member. This excellent would have been tried earlier if Douglas was too weak. The past week he rallied enough strength to encourage the surgeons to operate. Douglas now has a chance of getting well.

Withdraws After Active Work.

George B. Brown, who had been stopping at the Harrison house for a number of weeks while he was an on-rolling score of members in True Blue, left the city on Saturday to resume his work among the field force of the reorganizing accident order. Mr. Brown was known by many as "Captain Brown," having had

DRANK PARIS GREEN.

Charles Hull, Victim of Methodist Church Fire, While in Despondent Mood Takes Poison—Drank Only a Small Quantity.

While suffering on Saturday morning from aberration of the mind Charles Hull, the fireman who was so badly burned in the Methodist church fire, attempted to swallow the contents of a bottle of Paris Green. His attempt was unsuccessful, however. His sister, Lillian Hull, who had been observing her brother's strange actions for a day or two and had some apprehension, was at his side in a moment. Knocking his arm as he raised the bottle to his lips, Hull did swallow a quantity of the poison but it was not enough to cause him any harm.

Hull's act was the consequence it is believed of his physical suffering which the past week have kept him in considerable mental distress. It will be readily recalled that he was painfully burned in the church fire, sustaining injuries that caused the physicians to marvel over his surviving them. He has not fully recovered as yet, and is still undergoing treatment, without an abundance of means to meet the increasing expense. This circumstance of his condition and the fact that he was quite sick on Thursday and Friday with rheumatism are the explanations offered for his act. He was about the home of his parents on Dixon Hill and had not eaten anything since Friday morning and after waiting about the house for a few minutes he grabbed the bottle which his sister's fortunate presence prevented him from emptying.

The Paris green was kept about the house for the destruction of potato bugs.

THOMAS BARRETT, JR., DEAD.

The Sad Summons Came Saturday Forenoon.

When Thomas Barrett, Jr., was taken from Dr. Wheeler's hospital on Friday night, it was that he might die in his father's home. The young man, who had been long until the sad summons came, he passed away at 11 o'clock Saturday forenoon at the residence, 40 Fallbrook street.

The deceased was the son of Select Comptroller Thomas Barrett, of the First ward. Three weeks ago, he was taken with appendicitis and hurried to Dr. Wheeler's hospital, where he operated upon in the hope of saving his life. The delay before he was given over to the surgeons initiated against his chances of recovery. He made a splendid rally, but developments followed that were not quite unexpected, but never before met with in a case of this kind. For a couple of weeks he made a brave fight against death, displaying unexpected vitality and a fortitude rarely met with in one of his years. His case excited universal interest and sympathy and the announcement of his death on Saturday was received with deep regret in every quarter of the city.

The deceased was 19 years of age. He was born in Carbondale and spent his young life here. He was virtually in charge of his father's store, and his management indicated qualities that were not to be expected in a young man of his age. He was a model young man and his influence among his companions counted for a good deal. He was a member of the Knights of Father Mathew and the St. Aloysius society. His loss is an overwhelming grief to his father. Besides his parents, three sisters survive him. They are, Mrs. Michael Gilroy, Alice and Loretta Barrett.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday morning from the residence, No. 40 Fallbrook street. A high mass of requiem will be sung in St. Rose church, burial will be in St. Rose cemetery.

IT'S UP TO HONESDALE.

Carbondale Press Club Wants to Play Maple City Scrubs.

To fall back again on our friend, "Chuck" Connors, Honesdale was never "up against it" until now. Cause? The Carbondale Press club and the employees of the Evening Leader have formed a community of interests, as it were, one of the kind that, unlike the fraternal trust, can defy the United States attorney general. These combined forces (that sounds big) also defy a similar combination in Honesdale, to play a game of ball. It doesn't matter much where the game is played, but it must be understood that the Honesdale players be employees of the newspapers of Honesdale. Otherwise, the Maple City men might ring in Detective Life Smith's Waymart cracks. As we know too well the record of Life and his corps for catching things, we draw the line on them, as they might catch all the flies of our struggling batters.

We might make a heap of suggestions but there is one that we urge. We want to impress on the scribes of Maple City, Bethany, Damascus and Hawley, if you like, that it is a base ball game we intend to play, not the favorite Honesdale game of matching pennies or counting the trains that stop on their way through the Chestnut borough.

The Carbondale team's mascot, Gerald McHale—Gerald with the green suit—made so many good suggestions, that at a meeting of the Press club yesterday they were approved and adopted as rules to govern the hoped-for contest. They read something like this:

The first time the umpire—if he is a Honesdale man—gives a fair decision, he shall be bounced.

The first time a Honesdale player falls to kick against the decision of the umpire—if he is a Carbondale man—he shall be made to sort six pounds of "oil."

The first man on either side who makes a home-run shall be put out of the game.

Every man the pitcher strikes out shall be given a medal of honor—and the pitcher shall be retired to right field.

A pint of peanuts shall be placed at each base to induce the runner to get out if possible. If he makes the base safely, he shall eat the peanuts before endeavoring to make another base.

A batter getting five strikes shall take two bases; if he lets two balls pass without offering one, he shall be out; if he gets four balls, he shall bat again.

The basemen shall wear pillows instead of gloves.

The umpire shall not open his mouth wider than a walk.

Twenty runs or more for each club, shall be a game.

If the scorer keeps tally straight, he shall not be admitted to the banquet.

Any man crashing the umpire shall be credited with five runs.

The player who fails to make five errors in the first inning shall be considered incompetent.

If the fourth inning has not been completed by sundown, the game shall be continued next day.

EXCITEMENT ON SANDY FIELD.

Game Between Bobbin Employees—Score, 15 to 14.

Sandy's field was the scene Saturday of all kinds of excitement. After the employees of the Bobbin works had thrown aside their tools at the close of their day's work, and the clerks at the Hendrich Manufacturing company had placed the covers on their typewriters and laid aside their pens, all repaired to the field and began to don mitts and masks while an empire selected from the ranks of the onlookers cried "play ball!"

The game was a hot one while it lasted and each team's supporters had ample opportunity to root as they pleased. The game was to consist of five innings, but a tie made another inning necessary.

Purdum made a home run, Warren and Purdon each a two-base hit and Oliver glorified himself by making two triples.

The Bobbin works team won the game by a score of 15 to 14.

The playing positions of both teams were as follows:

Bobbin works—Jos. Billings, c.; H. Warren, Thos. Bates, p.; Ed. Purdon, Ed. Giles, 2b.; John O'Leary, 2b.; Harry Tolley, 1. f.; Isaac Matthews, c. f.; John Welden, r. f.

Opp. hands—Ray Oliver, c.; Herbert Wilson, p.; Claude Oliver, H. Holthorn, 1b.; Chas. Severance, 2b.; Mehin Tappin, 3b.; Wallace James, 1. f.; D. Thomas, c. f.; B. Thomas, Will Price, right field.

Two-base hits—Warren, Purdon; three-base hits—Oliver, two; home run—Ed. Purdon.

The New Shapes in La Vida Corsets Are Here Now

These models correspond to the new modes—wherever a radical departure has been made in the style of dresses, it is correspondingly mirrored in the new La Vidas. La Vida is the perfection of corset making. Each pair is manufactured entirely by hand—is full gored—bias cut—filled throughout with pure whalebone and manufactured from the finest grades of imported materials. There's a special La Vida Corset for each and every different build or figure. They are made for American figures and therefore do not require alterations as all French Corsets invariably do. As there is no import duty to be paid, it is easily possible for La Vidas to be 50 per cent. lower in price when equal in quality to French Corsets of the same standard.

JERMYN AND MAYFIELD.

The borough council met on Friday evening and spent about an hour in going over the exoneration list. The list, as usual, was a long one, and most of the exonerations recommended by the special committee were passed upon favorably. The bids for building the culvert on Second street, which were presented at the previous meeting, were again read. Thomas Hendricks made an explanation on his bid, and through some misunderstanding of the specifications had made a miscalculation. He desired to amend his bid by having it comply with the specifications, and this increased the amount of the bid from $25 to $38. It was afterwards discovered that neither of the other three bids were in accordance with the specifications, and it was therefore decided to throw out all the bids and readvertise for others.
