IN THE FATAL EIGHTH.

Scranton Defeated at the Park Yesterday by the Lancaster Team. Two Local Men Played.

The fatal eighth again. Scranton lost yesterday afternoon because the team played like a lot of school-boys. Sullivan was on the sick list, so they put McGarry at third. He made an error, and Steinberg took his place.

Wiltse pitched a good game, but the support he had was not enough to send Scranton to the bottom of the league. Blakey didn't hit the horsehide as hard as in Wednesday's game, for the reason that McGlynn, the Lancaster pitcher, was practically invincible. He received gilt-edge support.

Scranton started the game by getting goose eggs in the first and second innings. Lancaster struck by Blakey, then the locals got two, and that was all the scoring they did until the eighth, when Logan knocked a two-bagger, and Steinberg smashed out a hot single, thereby scoring Logan. Scranton's hope of ever winning died in this inning, for errors by Blakey, Nickels and Stroh, combined with timely hitting, gave Lancaster the game.

The visiting team had two local men playing with them yesterday. They were Gileran and Ferris, and they put up a star game. The score:
