Perhaps the Largest Funeral Procession Ever Seen on Carbondale Streets-Hose Companies and Railroad Men in Line-Burial in Brookside.

The late Frederick Mitchell was laid at rest in Brookside cemetery, yesterday amid the most impressive ceremonles that have been witnessed in this city in years. Perhaps the largest outpouring at a funeral in Carbondale in recent years marked the departure of this popular young man to his tomb.

The fire department of Carbondale was well represented. The Mitchell company, of which the deceased was an enthusiastic member and the Columbia Hose company, both in dress uniform were in the procession. Fire Chief Mc Nulty, was at the head of the Columbias, who led the procession. George Aunger commanded the Mitchells, nearly all of whom were present.

E. E. Hendrick Lodge, No. 91 Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen had a hundred men in line. Beside this representation of railroad men there were scores present, who had no connection with the brotherhood, but who were impelled to be present by feelings of warm friendship for the deceased.

The services were at the bereaved home, 42 Garfield avenue, at 2.30 o'clock, Rev. H. J. Whalen, D. D., pastor of the Berean Baptist church, officiated. Rev. W. B. Grow, assisted.

TIRED SALESWOMEN.

Employers Should be More Considerate. Mrs. Pinkham Asks Tired Women to Write Her for Advice.

In the vast retail establishments of large cities, many women are employed as saleswomen.

Men formerly held the positions that women now hold, and while women's organism is less strong than men's, they are expected to do the same work. Their duties compel them to be on their feet from morning to night, and many of them, in a short time, contract those distressing complaints called "female diseases."

Then occur irregularities, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, indigestion, leucorrhœa, general debility, and nervous prostration.

They are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues, and hopelessness.

In such cases there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pink-ham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. The following letters prove this. They also prove the value of Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

"I Can Work Every Day in the Week Now."

"DEAR MRS. PINEHAM :- I write this letter for you to publish for the benefit of poor, suffering women. Lydla E. Pinkham's Vegetable Com-pound has done me a great deal of good. I have taken three bottles and feel like a new woman. When I began the use of your medicine I was hardly able up; could not do half a day's work. I ached from head to foot, WES almost crazy, had those bearing-down pains, and stomach was out of order. Now all of these troubles have left me and I can work every day in the week and not feel tired."- MRS. JENNIE FREEMAN, 402 Pennsylvania Ave., Lima, Ohio.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham :- I have read with interest your advice to others so much that I thought I would write to you for I have been suffering for a long time. This I did some time ago.

"Now I can hardly find words to thank you for your wonderful Vegetable Compound and advice.

"I was in a terrible state, every part of my body ached, was very nervous, had hysterical spells. I think I would have become insane had it not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Your medicine has cured me and I cannot express my thanks." - Miss HATTIE DEGROAT, Succasulana, N.J. (March 8, 1901.)

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

No other person can give such helping advice to women whe are sick as can Mrs. Pinkham, for none have had such a great experience-her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice free-if you are sick write her-you are foolish if you don't.

The multitude was so great that the house was over-an so that the yard and the street in front of the residence held a crowd. Dr. Whalen found it necessary to deliver the eulogy from the threshold of the house, as the congregation outside was so large. A11 the elements to make a most deeply impressive ceremony were present and it is certain that Dr. Whalen's sympathetic voice conveyed more feeling to a gathering of this character than on this occasion

Dr. Whalen in his address pointed out the lessons of Mr. Mitchell's life and of his death. In touching on the demonstration of friendship for the departed, he suggested that as the Lord said "a man cannot gather friends unless he be friendly." The force of this truth was illustrated on this occasion. said Dr. Whalen, for there was no boys were bright, crisp and to the point such gathering as this since his coming to this city, in which he either participated or had any knowledge of. There was a quartette, Mrs. H. J. Whalen, Miss Sadie Watkins, Wilfred

Hobart, John Bone, who sang "Abide with Me." The floral pieces were magnificent and fittingly represented the feelings of the friends who presented them. The pall-bearers were chosen as follows:

Sam Farrell, Boyd Case, of the railroad crew of the deceased; John Bryden and Thomas Beddoe, of the brotherhood; T. F. Herbert, James F. Bates, of the Mitchells. The flower bearers were Edward Atkinson and James Bank, engineer and firemen of Mitchell's train; George Mannion and Edward Inch, of the brotherhood, MUST EAT SUGAR.

Why People Have a Strong Appellte That Way.

When food is properly digested and absorbed into the system, diabetes, dyspepsia and such disease do not occur. and if, after these diseases have at tacked the stomach and kidneys, the right kind of food is used, it will generally cure unless the disease has made too much progress.

A merchant in Young, O., E. D. Leedom, says, "Last August when I was in miserable health I was visiting at my daughter's up in Indiana. She prepared Grape-Nuts Breakfast Food for me, the first I every tasted.

I had diabetes and dyspepsia with sout stomach from almost everything I ate. Of course the doctor kept me from eating sugar, but I had an almost ungovernable appetite for it. After had been using Grape-Nuts every day for a short time my appetite for sugar was satisfied. I got the Grape Sugar from the food and it agreed with me perfectly.

My dyspepsia left and 1 began to sleep well at night. I have kept up the use of Grape-Nuts and feel like a new man all over. I liked it so much and h agreed with me so well that I said nothing to the doctor for fear he might make me stop it as he had most everything I tried to eat, but one day I told him it was the food I was using that improved me so much. He asked what it was and when I told him 'Grape-Nuts' he said there was no better food made. You are at liberty to make use of any part of this letter you desire for I am more than grateful for the good the food has done me."
