PENTECOST SUNDAY. Pontifical High Mass and Confirmation at Cathedral.

Pentecost was celebrated at St. Peter's cathedral yesterday morning with a pontifical high mass, and in the afternoon, with the administration of the sacrament of confirmation.

Right Rev. Bishop Hoban was assisted in the celebration of the pontifical mass by Rev. J. A. O'Reilly, as archpriest; Rev. P. E. Lavelle and Rev. Matthew Boyne, deacons of honor; Rev. D. J. Bustin, deacon of the mass; Rev. R. O'Byrne, sub-deacon, and Rev. J. J. Griffin, master of ceremonies.

A sermon on the gospel of the day was preached by Rev. Father Boyne. He argued that there could be but one true church as Christ is only once recorded as having commissioned disciples. The Roman Catholic church, he said, is the only one that can trace its origin to Christ and as Christ founded but one church, the Roman Catholic church must be the true church.

At the conclusion of the mass Bishop Hoban imparted the papal benediction and spoke briefly on the strike question, which is reported elsewhere.

Approximately 200 children were confirmed by Bishop Hoban at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. He was assisted by Rev. Fathers O'Reilly, Griffin, Lavelle, O'Byrne and Boyne. The bishop delivered an address to the children on the significance of the sacrament outlined for them the pious practices necessary to sustain them in a lively faith.

These children will receive their first communion next Sunday.

PROPHET TELLS OF DISASTERS

COUNTRY IS TO BE VISITED BY GREAT FAMINE.

It is to come in 1905, and None Will Escape Suffering Except the Elect. Atlantic City and Other Seaside Resorts Are to be Visited with Destruction, Because of Their Destruction of the Sabbath—Claims That He Has God-Given Powers of Seeing Into the Future.

The strange colored man from Philadelphia, who claims to have God-given powers of prophecy, and who has been preaching for the last two weeks in this city, delivered his farewell sermon last night in the Shiloh Baptist church, and prophesied dire disaster for this land three years hence.

The little room in the basement at the corner of Adams avenue and Mulberry street was crowded to overflowing with a mixed gathering. Colored persons, of course, predominated. Many of the whites seemed to be more than idle curiosity seekers.

One woman stood up when the prophet asked those of the unconverted who wished to be prayed for to rise.

Not some but all of the colored people seemed to have a deep and abiding faith in everything the prophet said.

They leaned forward in their eagerness to hear his every word and expressed their approval in frequent outbursts of "Amen," "That's right," "Praise the Lord."

The prophet himself is rather a difficult person to form an estimate of. He professes to have no very large amount of learning, and makes no pretense while preaching of knowing more than he does.

He seems sincere and succeeds, at any rate, in impressing countless people with his sincerity. His prophetic powers have been given him by God, he says, and his visions of future things generally come to him as he lies in bed.

Accompanying them is a voice telling him to warn the people of the impending danger.

MATTER-OF-FACT WAY. As he stood in the pulpit of the little church last night, and said with a naive simplicity, "I am a prophet and you may never hear me again, so listen to my message."

Many of the colored people gazed at him with a sort of awe. He made the statement with as much carelessness and lack of egoism as if he was simply saying, "I am a clergyman," or some other commonplace thing.

"I am a prophet," he continued, "and God has sent me to warn you of your danger. Three years from now a famine will sweep this land and the people who have denied God and who have heeded not His commands will suffer. The crops will fail and there will be droughts that shall cause the fields to burn up and the cattle will die for want of grass and water."

The millionaires who have ground the poor man under their feet and who have sucked his life blood will no longer ride in their automobiles and laugh at the passers-by. They shall wall and suffer from lack of food even as the rest. The poor man, too, shall suffer and shall perish from hunger, unless he has faith in God.

But God's elect shall be saved. He will sustain them and they will pass through unscathed. "I go from here to Atlantic City to warn the people there of the visitation of God's wrath which is about to fall on them. God is going to destroy all those seaside resorts on the Atlantic coast just as surely as I am standing here, because they desecrate His Sabbath and violate His commands. They shall be destroyed even as were Sodom and Gomorrah."

After the service the prophet held an informal reception and shook hands with a number of those present. To a Tribune man he stated that his ability as a prophet has been conclusively demonstrated on several occasions. He said he prophesied the Johnstown flood five years before it occurred and the Charleston earthquake as well. He has been making future predictions for over twenty years, he said.

"I warn you personally of this famine," said he as the Tribune man was leaving, "and I trust for your own sake that you'll be one of God's elect in 1905. If you are not you shall suffer."

COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES. A rule was granted, Saturday, on motion of Attorney John F. Stragg, to show cause why the subpoena duces tecum granted in the case of Hannah J. Lewis against William Van Gorder, should not be stricken off.

Mr. Stragg explained that the reason there was no appearance for the plaintiff was because he was engaged in court soon No. 3 when the case was called in No. 1.

Miss Minnie Trumpp, of this city, was granted a divorce from William Trumpp, by court, and she was married here in January, 1888. He deserted her in Philadelphia two years ago.

On similar grounds, Mrs. Ida Beynon secured a divorce from David Beynon, to whom she was married in Music ten years ago. A rule for a decree in divorce was granted in the case of A. D. Cramer against E. E. Cramer. Publication was directed in the case of Mary Bach against Michael Bach. A rule for alimony was granted in the case of Henry Schaefer against Pauline Schaefer. Publication was also directed in the case of Alice Hallock Barry against Thomas Barry.

He was also drillmaster of Company F for seven years, in which company he originally enlisted. Three years ago he organized the Young Men's Drill Organization at Wilkes-Barre, which is now the senior company of the First regiment, C. T. A. T. of A.

This regiment will go into camp at Lake Lodore on July 18, for eight days. It is the first genuine military organization to be formed exclusively of Catholic Total Abstinence workers, and the prospects are that its success will be instrumental in the formation of other similar regiments throughout the United States.

How many persons seeing Captain W. H. Burke, the sanitary officer, riding by on his horse would say that he is 25 years old. Surely no one but a Sherlock Holmes would be able to deduce it from his appearance.

As stout as the proverbial arrow, as active as a man of 25 years old, and as healthy as a horse, Captain Burke is one of the youngest, if not the youngest, old men in this city.

His hair and mustache are as black as coal and he can give a man about as tough a fight as he would wish for if necessarily demands. The captain is one of the oldest men on the police force both in years on earth and in years of service.

He has been sanitary officer now for many years and he has held the position with remarkable success. It is no sinecure as many imagine but a position which not only entails much work but which also requires good judgment and lots of it.

The success in old Mexico of men from the Lackawanna and Wyoming valleys will probably attract to that country many young miners who will leave here because of the strike. M. W. O'Boyle and John H. Foy, of Pittston, and Edward F. Blewitt, of this city, are examples of this success.

These men have constructed for the city of Guadaluajara a sewage system that is said to be the most perfect in the world. Guadaluajara is about the size of Scranton. It never had a sewer of any kind until the contract was awarded to O'Boyle & Foy. Under Mr. Blewitt's supervision a complete system of trunk and lateral lines was planned that will accommodate any kind of sewerage system.

It is understood that Mr. Roosevelt will take occasion to defend the administration's policy in the Philippines in a manner such as he has not heretofore attempted and will make the ground floor of the White House a Republican stronghold so that the government is upheld in the course it is pursuing in the Orient.

PRESIDENT PLANS BIG SPEECH. Will Deliver It at Pittsburg on Fourth of July.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Washington, May 18.—President Roosevelt is to deliver an address at Pittsburg on the Fourth of July, which, it is believed, will be one of the most important speeches he has yet made.

It is understood that Mr. Roosevelt will take occasion to defend the administration's policy in the Philippines in a manner such as he has not heretofore attempted and will make the ground floor of the White House a Republican stronghold so that the government is upheld in the course it is pursuing in the Orient.
