A BIG SEASON ASSURED. Lodore Will Be the Mecca for Excursionists the Coming Season. All indications point to Lake Lodore as the most popular of all excursion resorts for the fast-approaching season, and to even surpass its immense business of last year. The individual excursionist prefers a lake resort, and the scenic beauties of Lodore itself, its far-spreading grove, incomparable dance pavilion, its merry-go-round, the delight of the children, its well-equipped kitchens, clean oven, refreshment booths, spaulding ball grounds, naphtha launches, steamer, large excursion boat and varied other amusements render it a summer paradise, and at the same time the most profit-making resort for churches and societies. There are some splendid dates left, for the privilege of which please apply to W. L. Fryor, district passenger agent, Delaware and Hudson Railroad, Scranton, Pa.

WILL HELP MINERS. Central Labor Union Committee Will Assist in Conduct of the Strike. Clerks and Union Cards. At yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Central Labor union, the executive board was instructed to meet at once and formulate plans for assisting the executive board of District No. 1, United Mine Workers of America, in the conduct of the recently inaugurated strike. A resolution was passed urging recommending every union man in the city to demand a union card from the clerk from whom he purchases goods in any store, and to refuse to purchase goods from any clerk who cannot produce such a card. The executive committee was instructed to make one last effort to bring about, if possible, a settlement of the strike. If such a settlement is not effected, it is announced that "drastic measures" will be adopted by the union. A special committee was appointed to bring about an adjustment of the difficulties existing between the street car men and the Scranton Railway company. It was reported that the stonecutters' strike has been settled and the union scale of wages adopted by the Carucci Stone company. It was also reported that the strike of the structural iron workers employed in building bridges along the line of the Lackawanna and Wyoming Valley railroad has been settled to the satisfaction of the union men. It was decided to have the several locals affiliated with the central body vote upon the matter of having an excursion or a parade this coming Monday day, the delegates to report their decision at the next meeting.

REVOLT IS NOT IN EVIDENCE. FOREIGN SPEAKING MINERS NOT DESERTING. The Reported Meeting for the Purpose of Lining Up the Revolutionists Fails to Materialize—Polish Miners Meet in South Scranton and Declare They Are with the Union to the End—Bishop Hoban Speaks Briefly on the Strike—Trying to Prevent Local Famines. If there is a revolt of any appreciable extent among the foreign-speaking members of the mine workers' union, said revolt has thus far succeeded in preventing itself from being unearthed. That three men, purporting to represent 3,000, published a card Friday, saying they and those they represented intended to revolt, is true. It is also true that they gave it out that a big meeting would be held on the South Side, Saturday, to line up the revolutionists. If it is true that there are more than three men in the movement, and that even these three had a meeting Saturday, the fact remains to be disclosed. Saturday it was given out that a meeting was to be held in the Independent Polish church, last night, and supposition would have it that at least something tangible was to come out of the stories of the foreign-speaking miners' revolt against the union. It developed that the meeting was called for the purpose of celebrating the one hundred and seventh anniversary of the Polish constitution, and that the strike question only came up incidentally. After the meeting got through with the strike question, however, there was no guessing as to where the Poles of this congregation stood. Speeches were made by Rev. Frank Hodur, pastor of the church; Editor Dangel Langovsky, of the Straz; Rev. F. Merek, of Plymouth; Anthony Schlosser, of Duryea, district committeeman of the United Mine Workers, and Rev. A. Szemanski, of Wilkes-Barre. Each spoke in denunciatory terms of the "stray sheep" who had circulated the report that the Poles intended to desert the union, and each speaker was cheered to the echo. The meeting unanimously and enthusiastically adopted resolutions directing Committeeman Schlosser to bear a message to John Mitchell that the Poles were with him and the union to the bitter end. BISHOP HOBAN SPEAKS. At the conclusion of the pontifical high mass at the Cathedral, yesterday morning, Bishop Hoban spoke briefly regarding the strike in an advisory way. He said: "Whether or not the miners acted for the best is not for me to judge. At all events a strike has been declared and it is for me to long struggle. I deem it proper to appeal to you, as Catholics, to be on the side of law and order, no matter what contingency may arise. I am not a prophet, but I can tell you that this strike will last, but unless the unforeseen happens it will likely be a long and a bitter struggle. Five or six men seated about a table in New York city are discussing the strike which may grievously affect all of Pennsylvania, and other states as well. They are powerful, and united. They have considered well the consequences of a miners' strike, and probably have prepared to fight to the bitter end. Consequently it seems that a long strike is inevitable, and if there is a long strike there will be hardships and suffering. Men are hungry and their children are crying. They are the more susceptible to the prompting of demagogues who would urge them to deeds of violence. There are in this and the other mining districts socialists of the lowest type who for God and say there is no hereafter, who invariably endeavor on occasions of this kind, to provoke disorder. I admonish you to heed them not, but be on the side of law and order. I, as well as you, hope the miners will win, though I have my doubts as to their winning. However I sincerely trust and pray they will gain something. I ask you who are thrown out of work, not only miners, but all others—railroadmen, shop hands and the like—not to rest quietly at home waiting for the end of the world, but to seek some employment. Do not let yourself be forced to eat the bread of charity, from the hands of those who may cast it up later to you and your children. Live economically. If the strike should last for six or seven months, how many of the miners could stand it? In concluding, the bishop asked all who were thrown out of employment to take the total abstinence pledge at least while the strike is on, and urged all Catholics to pray for the Holy Ghost, whose feast was being celebrated, should direct the hearts of both employers and employed to do all things for the best, that the day might soon come when we would all live together like brothers. MERCHANTS TO MEET. The wholesale and retail merchants are to have meetings tomorrow to discuss the question of suspending credits during the strike. The wholesalers will meet in the afternoon and the retailers in the evening. Three hundred commissions for coal and iron police for the companies operating in this region have been issued from Harrisburg. Steps have been taken by various retailers to prevent a local coal famine. The People's Coal company, operating the Oxford colliery, has made a proposition to its employees to work three days a week, agreeing to deliver the coal only to domestic consumers in Scranton. The employees have transmitted the proposition to the district executive board of the United Mine Workers. It will be acted upon when President Nichols returns. The Gibbons Coal company which operates a small mine in South Scranton has made a similar proposition. This company furnishes coal to a number of industries, hospitals, churches and public schools. Kearney & Co. who furnish the largest silk mills with culm, made application, Saturday, to the Mine Workers union for permission to hire ten miners to shovel culm from the dumps into wagons, for delivery to the mills. The committee who happened to be at headquarters gave this permission with the understanding that it might be revoked by the executive board, when it has its next meeting. The culm is to be screened at the mills. It is a poor fuel but is better than none. The Mine Workers' union is desirous that the mills shall keep at work, as many of the miners' daughters are employed there. Large numbers of foreign miners are going back to their native lands to await the end of the strike. All are impressed with the idea the strike will last six months, and have accordingly arranged to be away that long. Not a few of them are young men who propose to bring back a wife with them and assume the dignity and emoluments of a boarding house keeper. It is estimated that fully 5,000 Poles, Hungarians, Italians and the like will have departed from Scranton and its immediate vicinity before the week is over. INTERVIEW WITH MITCHELL. In an interview in Hazleton, Saturday, President Mitchell said: "I have not yet received an appeal from any of the three anthracite districts to call a special convention of the national organization. In fact I have not yet had time to receive such an appeal which would require at least a few days for it to reach me. "I have decided to make my permanent headquarters in Wilkes-Barre, but I will move around. I will be in Hazleton, Scranton and Shamokin, as I propose to move around through the field during the strike. My mail will be addressed to Wilkes-Barre, in which city I will make my permanent stay. "I do not know how soon I will be in readiness to leave here. I may get away tomorrow night or Monday morning, or there may be some matters to detail me here for a few days, but I hope to be able to leave Monday morning at least."

COLORED ODD FELLOWS. Sosthones Lodge Celebrates Fifty-seventh Anniversary of Grand United Order Yesterday. The members of Sosthones Lodge, Grand United Order of Odd Fellows, the colored organization, celebrated the fifty-seventh anniversary of the order's formation yesterday afternoon in Guernsey hall. Sosthones lodge comprises among its members nearly all the representative colored men of the city and they turned out in large numbers yesterday afternoon. The majority of them were clad in black coats and wore high hats. They marched to the Delaware and Hudson railroad station where they met Rev. Mr. Bumary, pastor of the African Methodist church at Wilkes-Barre, who was the guest of honor and the speaker of the day. A procession was formed and Rev. Mr. Bumary was escorted to the station where a large number of other interested colored people and members of the Household of Ruth, the female branch, had gathered. Worshipful Master M. B. Howard presided and there was some exceedingly good singing by a special choir of the members which occurred on the stage. Rev. Mr. Bumary, who is a speaker of more than ordinary ability, made an address on fraternal organizations in general and the Grand United Order in particular. The latter organization, he said, is the first fraternal organization ever formed among colored men and is the only organization which represents in its membership the very best that is in the American negro today—both intellectually and morally. He based his remarks largely on the book of Genesis, "Am I my brother's keeper?" and declared most emphatically that every man's life has an effect on other men's life and that Odd Fellowship is based upon the laws of nature in that it seeks men to become useful and to assist one another to themselves but to other men also. The government, he said, guarantees men certain rights among others, the pursuit of happiness, but it does not guarantee happiness. "Odd Fellowship," said he, "is a fraternal and beneficial organization, the benevolent, social and moral nature of its members." He exhorted the Odd Fellows present to be true to the principles of the order. "There are a whole lot of people," said he, "who think that when once they're in Jesus they can never get out no matter what they do and there's a whole lot of Odd Fellows who think when once they get initiated that they'll always be Odd Fellows regardless of what they may say or do or fail to do." Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. S. Bentley, pastor of the Howard Place Methodist Episcopal church, who also made a few remarks. ANOTHER AGREEMENT. Result of Saturday's Conference with General Manager Silliman. A committee representing the ex-striking trolley men had a conference with General Manager Silliman Saturday morning and secured his signature to a supplementary agreement dealing with the extra list and some other minor matters. The articles of agreement, seven in number, were as follows: 1. Men that were turned in since the strike will be placed on the extra list and take their turn. 2. Extra list to be kept as before strike. 3. The men having runs that refuse to work for any reason are to be put on the extra list. 4. Any regular man missing his run is to go to the foot of the extra list at the time he reports for work for that day. 5. Any extra man catching a dog on his turn on extra list is to hold such dog until the general change of the regular man returns to work. 6. Any man catching the line car or construction car will hold it the same as a drag until the car is taken off the line. 7. The men holding to the foot of the extra list and work his way to the top of the list, and when the car goes out again the first man on the list will catch the drag and hold it the same as the regular man, and so on. 8. George Fry will be reinstated when he returns to work. The agreement was drawn up by the various grievances the men have recently been meeting about. RECEPTION AT "LOWLANDS." Every one in springtime should give attention to the purifying of the blood, the bracing of the nerves, and the regulating of the digestive apparatus. This is the special time when old people need a tonic and strength giver—something that will restore them to that condition of health that conduces to make old age happy, cheerful, and bright. Old people should carry home with them today—not by-and-by—a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound. It will certainly banish the rheumatism and neuralgia that help to make life a misery; it will drive out of the system all impurities and make the life stream flow fresh and pure; it will banish weakness and all languid feelings, and impart the vigor and activity that mark youthfulness. It is the only medicine that will fully meet the needs and expectations of all in declining years. Mrs. Mary E. Burgess, an estimable and highly respected resident of Clemens, Cal., finds Paine's Celery Compound her stay and helper in advancing years; she writes as follows: "I am 72 years old, and in the past have not been well; I had spells of weakness and headache. A friend of mine told me to try Paine's Celery Compound; I got a bottle and it helped me very much. It gave me a good appetite and made me strong and happy. I think there is nothing like it. My husband has taken it, and it strengthened him. Now when we do not feel well we get a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound and it saves us doctors' bills."
