Wall Street Review.

New York, May 22.—Today's stock market was extremely irregular throughout and closed with that tendency rather emphasized. The same stocks changed their course in some cases and the prevailing disposition of the speculation was hard to distinguish, and was in fact much confused and mixed. The auxiety over the coal strike was rather deeper, on account of the implied threat of the engineers, irremen and pumprunners in the anthracite mines to come out unless an eighthour day is granted them. This would bring the struggle to an acute stage, as the safety of the mines is dependent upon this work being done. Some of the steel stocks were heavy in tone as a result of the effect of the coal strike, which is beginning to be felt in that industry. This did not prevent a jump of 10 points in Lackawanna and a late spurt in Delaware and Hudson. The culmination of the recent extended rise in Canadian Pacific and its sharp reaction naturally had some sympathetic influence upon the rest of the market. There was no news to account for the set back, any more than there has been to account for the rise and the movement seemed to be due principally to speculative profit-taking. The late break in the stock to below 133 helped to unsettle the close. A break of 6 points in Ann Arbor preferred was probably the result of the settlement of control of that property. The United States Rubber stocks suffered from the poor financial showing of the company for the past year. St. Paul offered a strong leadership for the grain carriers but it was not followed with avidity and Union Pacific was rather persistently heavy, off-setting the effect of St. Paul's advance of 2%. The news from the crop region was considered encouraging. Another center of strength was Amalgamated Copper. The meeting of support for silver is a benefit to the smelting stocks. The speculative interest in small railroads keeps alive and was fostered today by the rumors of the acquisition of the Columbus, Shawne and Hocking in the interest of the Wabash,

Of course we make money—our prices couldn't be so low if we didn't. It's the unsuccessful store that has to make its prices high.

Black and White Materials for Knights Templar Decorations

We secured too pieces of Fine Black Lawns, 30 inches wide, that are worth too a yard, which we will sell at 50 a yard. White Muslin, 30 inches wide, at 50, 60, 70 yard. White Cambric 50 yard. At these low prices every one can decorate profusely.

Men's Summer Shirts

The usual way is to have only the neck fit exactly in a shirt—only two sizes of bodies for all sizes of shirts. One size is too big for a a 14 or a 15 %c man, the other is too small for a 15 or 17 man.

The Connolly & Wallace way is to have the shirt all over correspond to the size of the neck. This makes us get all our shirts made especially for us, and while we are going to this trouble you may be sure we make a great many other changes which you will recognize when you wear the shirts $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00—Not a few at each price, but a great many.
