Funeral of Morgan Lewis from His Late Home on North Lincoln Avenue. Meehan Arrested.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon over the remains of the late Morgan J. Lewis, who died Saturday, after a brief illness. The services were conducted at the late home of the deceased, at 217 North Lincoln avenue, and were in charge of Rev. Hugh Davies, pastor of the Hyde Park Welsh Calvinistic Methodist church. He was assisted by Rev. David Jones, pastor of the First Welsh Congregational church. Both clergymen spoke highly of the deceased. The choir of the Hyde Park Welsh Calvinistic Methodist church sung several appropriate hymns. The funeral offerings were numerous and attested to the great love in which the deceased was held in by all. Interment was made at the Washburn street cemetery. The pall bearers were William J. Jones, John Evans, James Davies, David Jones, Isaac Smith, Walter Davies, Abraham Thomas, flower bearers were Messrs. William Evans and Henry Evans.

Meehan's Remarkable Temerity.

R. G. Meehan, of North Sherman avenue, the other evening had the temerity to thrash his mother-in-law. He succeeded, to some extent, in doing so, but the mother-in-law sought the aid of John J. Davis, constable of the Fourth ward. Meehan was captured and taken to the West Side police station last night. He will be given a hearing this morning at Alderman John's office.

Scranton Choral Society.

The Scranton Choral society will hold its final rehearsal in St. David's hall this evening. All the members should be present. With a full attendance of the membership, a great deal can be accomplished in point of working out expression. Last Sunday evening great progress was made and friends of the choir were highly pleased with the excellent renditions of the difficult test choruses.

Troublesome Young Men.

Young men, ranging in age from 16 to 25, have been causing the police much annoyance lately by nightly collecting in crowds and standing for hours in front of business places on North Main avenue. The profane language of the young men, and singing of ribald songs, has caused the proprietors of these business places great annoyance, and also great loss of business.

Eldested Preparations.

The national eldested Friday in the new armory has been the cause of remarkable interest on this side. The several Hyde Park choirs that have been organized to participate are rehearsing nightly with might and main and it is an assured fact that West Scranton will participate largely in the prize contest.

The Scranton Choral society, under Prof. Lewis Davis, is making determined efforts in perfecting their singing of the competitive selection.

Events of Today and Evening.

West Side come, Improved Order of Hosts, will hold a social session this evening in the rooms of the Robert Morris lodge. Hon. T. Jefferson Reynolds will deliver an oration, and Catero Fred Robinson will serve refreshments. The Alumni base ball team will play a new team, called the Actives and captained by Thomas Harding, at Athletic park this afternoon. The Scranton Choral society will hold a rehearsal this evening in St. David's hall. The juvenile choir of the Tabernacle Congregational church will rehearse this evening in the church. They will compete for a $15 prize, on the selection, "The Night Bell."

Watch Was Recovered.

Frank Hill, of Park Place, who was arrested Monday night, charged with the larceny of a watch, belonging to a frequenter of a North Main avenue hotel, was released in the court yesterday morning. The evidence was insufficient to hold him on the charge of larceny, but he was fined $3 for being intoxicated. The watch was found later in the rear of the hotel, and the owner can secure it at the Jackson street police station by identifying his time-piece.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES.

The Colonial club held a meeting last evening in Washington hall. Mrs. J. T. Granacher, of North Bromley avenue, recently entertained a number of her friends, in honor of her birthday. She was the recipient of many valuable presents. At Lakes Lodge, Friday afternoon, one of the greatest games of ball of recent years will take place, when the Alumni base ball team, West Scranton's pride, will cross bats with the Crescents, of Carbondale. The game is for $25 a side. In St. Leo's rooms, last evening, St. Paul's Pioneer corps held their weekly drill. This drill was one of particular interest, in that the young men appeared in their new caps and lances. All the members were present and many friends who had been invited. The Junior and Intermediate leagues of the Embury Methodist Episcopal church will give a house-warming party at the new parsonage Thursday evening. Owing to the large crowd expected, the reception will take place in the basement of the church. Ice cream, cake and strawberries will be for sale. The public is cordially invited.

ARMENIAN CHARACTER.

He Has an Indestructible Tenacity of Faith in Himself. If the Greek is characterized by his intelligence, by his worship of plastic beauty, and his dream of a harmonious and noble life, the Armenian is characterized by an indomitable attachment to his traditions and national beliefs, and by the worship of a simple and laborious life. The family among Armenians has preserved the rigid purity and the pious discipline of the ancient patriarchal conditions. The Armenian church is perhaps that one among all the others which has best preserved the simple spirit of the church founded by Jesus. It is this passion for simplicity which has sometimes brought the Armenian into opposition with the Byzantine spirit, devoted as this is to the magnificence of theology and to a luxurious and refined art. The Armenians were the promoters of the iconoclastic movement of Byzantium, and there are yet some Armenians who constitute the nucleus of that modern sect of Paulicians which contains the germs of some of the principles which later became the basis of the Protestant church. I have pitied his tenacious faith in itself at the head of the characteristics of the Armenian race, and, in fact, nothing else is so strong with us as this attachment to the native soil and to its ethnic traditions, and the resolve to defend these to the death. The great Cornelle, without knowing it, paid a compliment to the race in choosing to magnify Christian heroism, an Armenian figure, Poly-eucte. Against the Roman as against the Arab, against the Turk, the Armenian has always shown the firmness of Poly-eucte and his spirit of sacrifice. Quite recently, during the massacre, when the Turks tried to force the Armenians under threats of death to embrace Islamism, the whole race manifested the spirit of Poly-eucte. Hundreds of girls threw themselves into the rivers and over precipices to escape apostasy and shame, and aged priests have been seen with stoical courage, preferred to be killed outright or roasted at a slow fire, rather than to renounce the faith of their fathers.

KILLED BY THE CARS.

Harry Snyder was Run Down by a Freight Train. Harry Snyder, aged 22 years, a resident of 191 North Washington street, Wilkes-Barre, met with a shocking accident last evening on the Delaware & Hudson railroad in front of the Green Ridge passenger station, and died soon afterwards at the Lackawanna hospital.

He was on his way to Carbondale, where he expected to secure employment, and was standing at the Green Ridge street crossing waiting for a freight train to pass. Some of the cars were being switched from the end of the train onto a side track, and Snyder, who was watching the engine, stepped on the track directly in front of the train being switched. He was knocked down and dragged beneath the wheels—a distance of 200 feet.

When rescued the young man was alive, but both legs were crushed and his body badly bruised. He was carried into the train dispatcher's office and the Lackawanna hospital ambulance summoned. Amputation of the legs at the hips was necessary, and he died while being operated on. The remains were prepared for shipment to his home in Wilkes-Barre.

DIAMONDS IN ALASKA.

Geological Conditions Similar to Those of Kimberly District. From the San Francisco Chronicle. The reported finding of a number of small diamonds on a tributary of the Yukon in the rough east of Cape Nome suggests that Alaska may ultimately become as famous as a diamond field as it now is as a producer of the precious metal. The first microscopic examination of the ruby sands of Cape Nome, in which the auriferous deposits in that district lie, was made by ex-State Mineralogist Henry G. Hanks, who at the time declared his belief that some small lustrous crystals contained in the sand were diamonds. These crystals were microscopically minute, but they bore all of the characteristics of the precious gem in the rough. If diamonds have been found in the neighborhood of Golofin Bay, and the crystals discovered by Hanks in the ruby sands of Nome were

POVERTY IN ENGLAND.

Late statistical reports contain the startling statement that 30 per cent. of England's 27,000,000 people are living below the poverty line—that they lack the mere necessities of decent and healthful food and shelter.—National Magazine

HOW BIRDS MIGRATE.

From Woman's Home Companion. Many of the smaller and weaker birds, like the fly-catchers, vireos, virens, kinglets and bluebirds, in order to avoid their enemies, the hawk's and the owl's, by night, stopping for rest and food in the daytime. The larger and bolder ones, like the hawks and crows, and those of extremely rapid flight, like the swallows and humming birds, migrate fearlessly by day, and there are some, like the Canada goose, which travel just when they choose, by day or night. Migrating birds usually fly at a height of one to three miles, and this enables them to see the rivers, the mountain ranges and the coastline. By these they direct their course, the old birds remembering the way they came before, and the young ones following.

"HELP" IN CALIFORNIA.

From Good Housekeeping. Many a housewife in the West hopes ardently that the exclusion act may not be renewed, for the unrestricted immigration of Chinese would solve the domestic help problem of the West. There are a great many more kitchen waiters for Chinese and Japanese boys to fill them than there are competent boys, and the maid-servant is growing scarcer and more scarce as women find out how much more useful than a maid a man is in the kitchen. To begin with, there are so many more things that a man can do. Very often the housewife and her daughter do not object at all to doing the chamber-work, save on sweeping and window washing days, but they do object to watering the garden, which is a six months' duty during the dry season in the West. Here the Japanese or Chinese is most handy. If there is a little gardening to do, he does it after he is through in the kitchen; a man always looks better than a woman as a waiter, and often he looks after the family horse in addition to his other duties. Of course, he is through in the kitchen: a man always cooks and are now paid $8 a week, and frequently a schoolboy earns $5. Good cooks in the families where a second girl is employed and the family keeps up some style, are paid from $8 to $10 a week. The best cooks are Chinese; the best waiters, Japanese. Often the "second girl" is a Chinese boy. A change in the last two years is in the substitution of Japanese butlers for the English or American article.

Memorial Day Thoughts

Turn naturally to the loved ones gone before. Whether they fell in battle or died in the peaceful home makes little difference. Sweet memories of their earthly presence still linger with us. We could not forget them if we would, and would not forget them if we could. Memorial day is a national holiday, and your patriotism may be quietly but effectively shown with a hand some flag or a little bunting properly displayed at your home. But
