NORTHEASTERN PENNSYLVANIA

MONTROSE.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Montrose, May 27.—A. L. Cooper, of Dalton, was the guest of his parents, Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Cooper, at the Methodist parsonage over Sunday.

Hon. James T. Du Bois, of Hallstead, was a visitor in town yesterday, and attended the funeral of the late W. D. Lusk.

The late Prof. Benton E. James carried life insurance to the amount of $7,000.

Miss Francis K. Ammerman spent Sunday at the home of her mother in Scranton.

The Independent Republican issued an "extra edition" on Friday afternoon containing the confession, retraction and apology of Messrs. S. S. Wright, of Montrose, and Thomas Kilrow, of Great Bend, relative to the circulars, which they caused to be printed and circulated a few weeks ago, defaming the personal character and business integrity of Congressman C. Fred Wright; of his brother, the late M. B. Wright, and reflecting upon the characters of other members of the Wright family. Messrs. Wright and Kilrow made the retraction only when confronted with the alternative of undergoing a prosecution for criminal libel and violation of postal laws of the United States. The Republican also contained a fine half-tone portrait of the late Prof. Benton E. James.

Mrs. Haskell B. Benedict and daughter, Bertha, of Owego, were the guests of friends in this place over Sunday.

The funeral of the late William D. Lusk was largely attended from the residence of Sarah McCollum on Maple street, yesterday. Rev. E. A. Warriner, of St. Paul's Episcopal church, officiated. The active pallbearers were: H. P. Read, W. H. Warner, A. B. Smith, H. A. Lyons, Charles R. Sayre and W. D. B. Ainey. The honorary bearers were: Henry F. Turrell, S. B. Rogers, Simon B. Chase, Dana F. Austin, William M. Post, R. S. Searle. There was a wealth of floral offerings, among them being designs sent by the members of the Susquehanna county bar; one from officers of the First National bank of Montrose, of which the deceased was formerly the president; two floral pillows, one from Mrs. Lusk, bearing the inscription "Husband," and the other from the children, inscribed "Father." There were numerous other offerings of flowers from friends. Among the out-of-town relatives present were: Hon. James T. Du Bois and wife, of Hallstead; Hon. Simon B. Chase, of Hallstead; Page Dayton and William Barnes, of Great Bend. The Episcopal service was impressively read by Rev. Mr. Warriner, and several hymns were rendered effectively by a quartette.

The funeral of the late Professor Benton E. James was very largely attended Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, from the Methodist Episcopal church. The great concourse of people crowded both the transept and the large auditorium of the church, every inch of standing room being occupied, and several hundreds of people were turned away, while others hovered about the church entrance throughout the service, in spite of the brisk showers which prevailed much of the time. The Masonic lodge, fifty strong, was present in a body, as was also the pupils of the Montrose public school to the number of four hundred, and a very large number of the Montrose High School alumni. A brief service at the late home of the deceased was held early in the afternoon and the remains were then conveyed to the church and the casket opened so that all who desired might view the remains before the commencement of the service at the church. The casket was covered with beautiful flowers and the pulpit, and altar rail in front was filled with elegant floral pieces. One large pillow of white on which, in purple, was the inscription "Our Professor" was from the pupils in the High school, another was inscribed "M. H. S. Alumni," and another was prepared and sent by the pupils of the A Grammar room. On the pulpit platform were Rev. A. W. Cooper, pastor of the church; Rev. D. C. Barnes, Rev. A. L. Benton, D. D., of the Presbyterian church; Rev. E. A. Warriner, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, Rev. Fr. A. T. Frederick, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church, and Rev. L. B. Walters, pastor of the African Methodist Episcopal church. The service opened by the impressive reading of the Thirty-ninth Psalm by Rev. Mr. Warriner. Rev. Walters announced the hymn "How Gentle God's Commands," this being the hymn selected by Prof. James at the chapel exercises at the opening of school the previous week. Prayer was offered by Rev. D. C. Barnes, and the nineteenth Psalm was read by Rev. Dr. Benton. "Rock of Ages" was rendered by the choir. Rev. A. W. Cooper read a portion of the fifteenth chapter of First Corinthians, and followed with extended remarks relative to the life and character of Mr. James. The speaker paid a beautiful and fitting eulogy of the deceased. Pastor Cooper's remarks were based upon the text from the eighth chapter of Romans, "Who shall separate us from the love of Christ?" Pastor Cooper directed his closing remarks to the Masons, the official board of the church, and to the school board, and gave words of comfort to the sorrowing widow, children and friends. The pastor then offered prayer, after which a beautiful and touching letter, received by Mrs. James from her former pastor, Rev. H. B. Benedict, of Owego, who had been asked to officiate but who was unable to leave his present field. This letter was read by Rev. D. C. Barnes, who followed it with some appropriate remarks. A most touching incident of the ceremony was a brief address by Dr. Harris James, of New York city, a younger brother of the deceased, in which was expressed the speaker's high appreciation of the character and life of the deceased. This was done in compliance with a compact made between the brothers in their early youth in which they agreed that when one was called to the other world the survivor should render such a service at the obsequies of the other. Resolutions relative to Prof. James, adopted at the quarterly conference of the church, held the previous evening, were read by the pastor, and the service at the church closed with the choir singing "Asleep in Jesus." The service at the grave was conducted by the Masonic lodge. The pallbearers were: County Superintendent C. E. Moxley, of Hallstead; R. B. Little, W. D. B. Ainey, Hon. D. C. Titman, A. B. Smith and M. S. Allen, of Montrose.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus, often before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

The employes of the Hillside company were paid today for the two weeks prior to the strike.

W. J. Maxey and J. J. Walker have purchased the Bendrift houses near the Polish church and will put them in repair at once. These houses have been vacant for several years and seemed to have been forgotten by their builder as well as a host of creditors who attached all the property they could lay hold of to secure a multitude of claims. A building and loan association which had a small lien on the houses recently sold them at sheriff sale. Bendrift was at one time a banker in Plymouth. He did a large business among the foreigners and was supposed to be wealthy.
