WEDDINGS

MANSFIELD-RICHARDS.
Frank Mansfield, of the gents' furnishing firm of Myers & Mansfield, of Spruce street, and Miss Edith Peink Richards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David T. Richards, of Scranton street, were united in marriage at 8:30 o'clock last evening at the home of the bride's parents.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. John P. Moffat, D. D., pastor of the Washburn Street Presbyterian church, and was witnessed only by the immediate relatives and friends of both families.

The hour of the ceremony did not prevent a large number of their friends from attending. The bride was beautifully attired in white mousseline de soie, trimmed with Irish point lace. Mrs. Lynett is a well known and popular young lady. Mr. Lynett is a mail carrier on one of the central city routes. The newly married couple left on a wedding tour to Philadelphia and Washington. Upon their return they will take up their residence in a newly furnished home on West Market street.

HUTTON-MARTIN.
One of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized at the home of Mrs. Martin, of Church avenue, yesterday at noon, when her charming daughter, Miss Edith Martin, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to William Hutton, of West Scranton.

The ceremony was performed at the bride's home by the Rev. I. J. Lansing, D. D., of the Green Ridge Presbyterian church. The bride and groom were unattended. The room in which the ceremony took place was beautifully decorated with potted plants and palms.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutton were the recipients of many beautiful and costly presents. The bride was attired in a blue traveling costume, trimmed with white de skin and applique. Mrs. Hutton is the well known soprano singer of the Green Ridge Presbyterian church. Her husband is widely known throughout the central city, and is connected with one of the large electrical fitting establishments of the central city.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutton left on the 12:55 Lackawanna train for an extended wedding tour to New York. Upon their return they will take up their residence with the bride's mother on Church avenue.

LYNETT-MORAN.
Miss Margaret Moran, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Moran, of West Market street, was married yesterday to James Lynett, of West Market street, at 6:30 o'clock in the morning in Holy Rosary church.

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Margaret Thornton. The bride was attended by Miss Theresa Healy, while William A. Lynett, of McDonough avenue, acted as groomsmen.

After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. N. J. McManus, the bridal party was driven to the bride's home on West Market street, where a wedding breakfast was served by Caterer Hanley. Only the immediate relatives and friends of both families were present.

St. Mary's church, Dunmore, was the scene of one of the prettiest weddings of the season yesterday morning, when P. H. Haggerty and Miss Mary A. O'Malley were united in marriage, followed by the celebration of a nuptial mass, by Rev. Thomas O'Malley, of Pittston, a brother of the bride.

Promptly at 7 o'clock the bridal party entered the church to the sweet strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss McHale. Miss Kathryn O'Hara acted as bridesmaid, and William J. Carne as groomsmen. The bride was charmingly attired in a beautiful creation of Persian lawn, handsomely trimmed with real lace. She carried a prayer book, mounted in silver, and wore a Gainsborough hat. The bridesmaid was attired in a costume of Persian lawn and lace, and carried roses.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, where the many friends of the couple offered congratulations.

Utrecht, Holland, June 3.—The Boer delegates in Europe arrived here this afternoon. They held a prolonged conference in the house of Mr. Kruger, and afterwards another meeting was held in the Hotel Des Pays Bas. Mr. Wessels and Mr. Wolmarans have proceeded for The Hague.

The Handelsblad declares that neither Mr. Kruger nor any of the Boer delegates in Europe have received any communication from the Boers in South Africa concerning peace. "The inference is," says the paper, "that the British government is stopping such despatches."

PING PONG.

Here's How You Play the Latest Fashionable Indoor Game.

Pingpong is the very latest thing in indoor games. The game bids fair to become a society craze, like golf or croquet; at least everybody is talking about it.

Pingpong is an ideal indoor game. It is a happy solution of how to spend the time on those dull, rainy days at summer resorts when everybody wanders aimlessly about and wishes it would clear up. One of its merits is that the outfit for the game requires only a small outlay of money. Sets are made by dealers for from $5 to $10. Second, it is very simple. It is lawn tennis with such modifications as suit the different conditions. It may be played on an ordinary dining room table. In the center a net is stretched, supported on either side by movable uprights, which are made to clamp on to the edges of the table. This net is about six inches in height, and the ball is batted back and forth across it. Of course the height of the net may vary. The lower it is the more difficult the strokes may be to return. The server has greater opportunity to send a low, swift ball. The best proportions for a pingpong table are 9 feet long by 5 feet wide, but a table of any proportions may be made to serve one's pleasure.

The space on either side of the net is not subdivided, as in lawn tennis. There is one large court. The rackets are of two sorts. They are considerably smaller and lighter than ordinary tennis rackets and, like these, are strung with gut or are formed from single pieces of vellum stretched tightly over a frame, like a drumhead. The ball used is of light celluloid and is as elastic as the best rubber. Moreover, it is so light that it does not endanger glass. When struck, this tiny globe gives out a musical pingpong sound; hence the rather fetching name that our English cousins bestowed upon the game.

But two persons can play at one time. As in tennis, one is the server and the other the striker out. After the first game the server becomes the striker out, and so on, alternately. Two trials by the server are not allowed. The player must place his service on the first attempt. Another important exception to the tennis rules is that a player may not volley. The ball must strike the table and rebound before the striker has the right to return it. For the rest, the rules follow pretty closely those of outdoor tennis. The first point won counts fifteen; the second sends the score to thirty; the third to forty; and the fourth point is the game, but a player cannot win without being two points in advance of his opponent, hence, as in lawn tennis, there are deuce games. Six games constitute a set.

The player, of course, is compelled to stand at the end of the table. There is little opportunity for being about, and the game depends largely on quickness and reach; hence there is not much variety in the play, and the victory seems to go to the staidier of the two combatants. No overhead strokes are permitted. Some English players have claimed that the backhand stroke is the secret of success, but this is not borne out by the practice.

Pingpong came to us from England. There it is a craze. Whole families, men and children, have succumbed to its fascinations, and society itself, with a capital S, has gone mad over it. It has become a fad of overwhelming dimensions.
