BROWN-PHILLIPS.

The first wedding in the new First Baptist church occurred last evening when Arthur C. Brown, of Evanson avenue, Green Ridge, and Miss Evangeline Phillips, of 316 North Rebecca avenue, were united by the pastor, Rev. S. F. Matthews.

The bridesmaid was Miss Emmet Ellis, and the groomsmen were George E. Phillips, brother of the bride, The ushers were Ray Frederick, Fred W. Peters, W. H. Courtright and Henry Whitmore.

The bride was dressed in white French silk and carried white roses, and her maid was attired in muslin, line de soie. Mrs. B. G. Reddoe played the wedding marches. The pulpit platform was banked with palms and the wedding party presented a pretty sight as viewed from the auditorium, which was filled with people.

The wedding party formed in the Sunday school room and marched down the aisle, the ushers leading, followed by the bridesmaid, and the bride, leaning on the arm of her brother. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man.

A reception and supper was afterwards enjoyed at the bride's home, which was attended by upwards of a hundred people. At midnight, Mr. and Mrs. Brown left for Philadelphia and Atlantic City.

The bride is president of the Baptist Young People's union of the First Baptist church, and the groom is treasurer of the Green Ridge Baptist Sunday school and is engaged in the lumber business with his father in Green Ridge.

MORE SMALLPOX CASES.

Four Persons Found Suffering from the Dread Disease in North End. More Cases in the Hospital.

Four new cases of smallpox were discovered yesterday in North Scranton by Dr. Houser, the city physician, who was notified of their suspicious nature by Dr. William D. Donner. The cases are on Leggett's street in two houses, directly across the street from each other.

These houses are occupied by Edward Lewis and Charles Lewis and two children in each family are ill with the disease. The police were notified at once and special quarantine officers were assigned to duty. The sufferers are supposed to have contracted the disease from one of the other families in North Scranton recently afflicted with it.

There are now in the emergency hospital eight persons suffering from smallpox. There are no other cases in the city, as far as is known.

WORK IS PROGRESSING.

Dixie Theatre Will Be Ready for Opening on August 1.

Work on the new Dixie theatre on Adams avenue is progressing rapidly and the contractors seem confident that it can be ready for opening on or about August 1, which is the date Manager Dixie desires to have it opened.

The work which yet remains to be done is solely interior finishing. The floors have all been laid and the larger part of the plastering done. The ornamental plaster work is being put in place and the decorating of the ceiling and side walls has been commenced. The more rapidly work on the theatre progresses, the more apparent does it become that it will be when completed, one of the neatest and prettiest playhouses in this part of the state.

GLOSS' NARROW ESCAPE.

He Plunged Headlong from a Ladder to the Ground.

George Gloss, a hodcarrier employed by Contractor Conrad Schroeder, had a narrow escape from serious injury early yesterday afternoon, while at work on the Title Guaranty and Trust company's new building on Spruce street.

He was carrying a hod full of mortar up a long ladder placed against the inside of the front wall and had reached a point about twenty feet from the floor when he stumbled and fell backward to the floor of the building. He struck on his head and was rendered unconscious. Dr. Scanton, who was passing at the time, made an examination and discovered that Gloss, who soon regained consciousness, had sustained only several severe scalp wounds. He was later removed to the Lackawanna hospital.

WOULDN'T PAY FOR PAVEMENT

AND SO SELECT COUNCIL PROCEEDS TO GET EVEN.

Passed a Resolution Directing Removal of Lunch Wagon from Property Owned by Amsden Estate at Lackawanna and Washington Avenues—Mr. Costello After Scranton Railway Company—$171,741 Due from Liquor Licenses, Says Controller—Other Business.

The select council last night dealt out a little "retributive justice," as it is called in the United States army regulations. For the sole and openly avowed purpose of "getting even" with the Amsden estate, a resolution was unanimously passed directing the director of public safety to cause the removal of the lunch wagon standing on the corner of Lackawanna and Washington avenues.

As is well known the northerly side of Lackawanna avenue between Washington and Adams avenues has been paved with cobble stones while the other side of the street is paved with asphalt. All of the property owners on the block in question with one exception agreed to enter into private contract for the paving of the street with asphalt.

The one exception was the representative of the Amsden estate which owns the property on the northeast corner of Washington and Lackawanna avenues. The other property owners agreed to pay $50 towards the cost of laying the pave in front of this property but their proposition wasn't considered. On the ten foot reservation adjoining this property a lunch wagon has been located for many years. The resolution directing its removal was introduced last night by D. W. Vaughan. When asked its purpose he said:

"These people owning this property have refused to pay for a pave in front of it like the other property owners. The street will look a sight if that little patch is left unpaved. It will be a disgrace to the city. The owner of the property get $17 a month from the city for the use of this lunch wagon and if we can get them to pay for paving in front of their place by passing this resolution it will be a good thing. The lunch wagon has no right on the ten foot reservation, anyway. It's a nuisance there and it ought to be removed."

When some one raised the objection that it might not be legal to remove the lunch wagon and suggested that an ordinance be secured from the city solicitor, Mr. Vaughan remarked:

"Don't delay this. These people will probably wake up to themselves in the morning."

After an amendment reading, "providing such action shall be legal," this resolution was passed by a unanimous vote.

J. J. Costello was out after the Scranton Railway company with a tomahawk and two bowie knives. He introduced no less than one ordinance and two resolutions directly affecting that company.

The ordinance provided that hereafter no street cars shall be run across the intersections of streets at a speed greater than four miles an hour and fixed a penalty of not less than $5 nor more than $50 for each offense. This was referred to the railway committee.

The resolutions directed the director of public safety and the city solicitor to proceed at once with the enforcement of the ordinance requiring the company to place proper fenders and wheel guards on all its cars and forbidding the use of any car which is in the city under any consideration. Both these resolutions were passed without argument.

CHEYON BOY JAILED.

Committed Without Bail After the Coroner's Jury Fixes the Crime Upon Him.

Stephen Cheyon, the 10-year-old lad who threw an iron rivet at 14-year-old Mamie Cubellis in Winton on Wednesday afternoon, is locked up in the county jail on the charge of murder. He is the youngest prisoner ever received at that institution on that charge and one of the youngest ever received on any charge.

The nominal prosecutor is County Detective Phillips, who went up to Winton yesterday morning, and who caused the lad's arrest. After he had conducted an investigation, the boy was committed to the county jail without bail by Squire Bell, of the First ward, Winton.

Coroner J. F. Saltry also went up to Winton yesterday morning. He had formed an autopsy on the body of the dead girl and discovered that death had been caused by a hemorrhage of the brain, resulting from severe concussion. At an inquest conducted immediately after the autopsy the only witness examined was a small boy who was playing near the site. Mr. Saltry said that the lad's name was Stephen Cheyon and that he was the brother of the girl who was killed.

He said that the Cubellis girl was annoyed little Cheyon's sister and that the latter, becoming enraged, threw the rivet at her. He couldn't say whether or not the boy picked the rivet up in the city under any consideration. Both these resolutions were passed without argument.

LIQUOR LICENSE FUND.

City Controller Costello sent in a communication announcing that in pursuance with a resolution passed by council he had ascertained that the total amount of money coming to the city for liquor licenses for the present year is $171,741 after the county treasurer's commission of $5,000 had been deducted.

Superintendent P. L. Brown, of the bureau of building inspection, sent in a communication announcing that plans for the finishing of the fourth floor of the municipal building and for the putting in of an elevator have been prepared. The total cost of the improvements be estimated at $15,000. An ordinance providing for the carrying out of the improvements was introduced later on by Mr. Clemons.

The ordinance providing for the purchase of a stone crusher came in for some little discussion when it came up on second reading. It provides for

OFFERING A REWARD.

E. J. Coleman offered a resolution authorizing the offer of a reward of $500 for the apprehension of the murderer or murderers of Mary Quinn, and it was passed after some little discussion. Mr. Costello offered a resolution respectfully requesting all contractors for city work to employ as many citizens of this city as possible, because of the large numbers out of work on account of the strike. This was passed.

Ordinances introduced were as follows:

By Mr. Nagel—Providing for the construction of a bridge over the Roaring Brook at Ash street and appropriating $6,400 for the cost of constructing the same.

By Mr. Clemons—Providing rules and regulations for the government of the city parks.

Among the concurrent resolutions coming over from common council, which were passed, were the following: Directing that an estimate be made of the cost of opening and grading a portion of Hemlock street; directing that an inquiry be made into the removal of the gates from the Erie crossings in the Nineteenth ward; directing that an estimate be made of the cost of building a retaining wall on the easterly side of Fairview avenue, between West Lackawanna avenue and Loneragan court; directing the Barber Asphalt company to repave certain portions of Jefferson avenue, as per their contract.
