of ruin, whenever Pennsylvania Republicans have presented the spectacle of divided strength and distracted councils.

The nomination was seconded by J. Hampton Moore, of Philadelphia. This concluded the nominations for governor and the roll was called for nominations for lieutenant governor. Jeremiah A. Snyder, of Lehigh, nominated Mayor Fred E. Lewis, of Allentown, Walter T. Merrick, of Tioga, William M. Brown of Lawrence, Ex-Representative George Kunkel, of Dauphin, and Fred L. Cleveland, of Erie, presented the name of Major Isaac V. Brown for secretary of internal affairs. After the nominat-ing speeches Congressman Joseph C. Sibley, of Venango, was elected per-manent chairman. Mr. Sibley made a speech sounding the keynote of the campaign in accepting the chair.

Mr. Sibley's Remarks.

Representative Sibley, in outlining the party's state policy, said: The Republican party of the Keyston state will strike the keynote for that har-mony and concert of action which shall insure the continuance of our present insure the continuance of our present national prosperity and the realization of that more giorious destiny whose open doors we have but entered. The record of her progress is the history of all that is truest, highest and best in our national life for the past forty years. Under the leadership of William Mc-Kinley what pledge of the Republican party remains unfulfilled? What promise has been broken? He found a deficit in our national budget and left us with an our national budget and left us with an overwhelming surplus. The last Democratic administration was engaged in sell ing bonds to meet the expenses of the government. The Republican party has been engaged in the payment of these bonds and lifting the burden of obligations from our citizenship.

In a time of peace it had been a prob-lem with the Democratic party how to provide sufficient revenues. Under Will-iam McKinley, even with the great ex-pense of carrying on to successful termination two wars waged for humanity, congress was what disposition to make o and how to reduce our surplus revenues He found the artisans of the nation idle His policy opened the mills and set then to work.

us a nation overwhelmed with disaster and almost in despair. The Republican party shows you a nation whose traffic is so congested that the greatest railway systems of the world find it impossible to move the offered tonnage. Concerning Senator Quay, Mr. Sibley

Our leaders pay but the penalty which successful leadership compels, and there is no life so high, so lofty, so pure, so true in its purpose, that it can escape the malignity of a venal press or a disappointed politician.

Continuing, he said the Republican party of Pennsylvania possesses a record which challenges admiration; that in the condust of her domectic affairs she sets a high mark.

Speaking of the approaching campaign, Congressman Sibley said:

A Democrat who has twice been honored as chief executive of this commonwealth is now urging the same pretences which insured success to him before. He urged that our treasury was being robbed and the people's money misappropriated. But for eight years, with the fullest opportunity to investigate and know, he never found a stolen dime or pointed to a misappropriated dollar.

The committee on resolutions reported the platform, and it was read by Rob-

Keystone state, THE PLATFORM.

Affirms the Principles Enunciated by the National Convention.

The platform reaffirms the principles enunciated by the national convention in Philadelphia and says:

Under Republican rule, the country has prospered and Pennsylvania has derived and observing its international obliga a just measure of the benefits. For this tions, and insuring peace and tranquility we make acknowledgement to the wis-dom and energy of our United Staes senators and representatives in congress who have assisted in maintaining the national prestige and in promoting the welfare of the state. The Death of President McKinley. Since our last state convention, the un-timely and tragic death of President Mchas plunged the country in sortow and brought to a loving people the deepest sense of personal loss. We lament this national calamity and cherish his exalted character and patriotic service as the most precious legacy he could leave to a devoted land. The great policies and achievements of his administration raised the republic to the highest plane of general happiness, prosperity and glory, and gave it a new position of greatness and influence among the powbe honored by faithfully upholding the principles of which he was so illustrious a representative and by steadfastly carrying forward the measures which will be associated with his wisdom

Praise for Roosevelt.

To President Roosevelt and his adminis tration, we give our heartiest approval and support. We recognize the fidelity with which he has carried out the policies of his lamented predecessor. We pledge ourselves to his re-nomination to the great office he has filled with such ability and patriotism.

The Philippine Islands.

In the Philippine islands, under American rule, despite protracted guerrilla warfare, now brought to an end, schools have been established, justice adminiswarfare, now brought to an end, schools have been established, justice administered by the good courts has for the first time become prompt and certain; the habeas corpus has been made a writ of right; provincial and municipal governments chosen by vote have been established, and the Filipinos have been started upon the road of self-government. No nation has ever achleved so much it No nation has ever achieved so much it No nation has ever achieved so much in so short a time in dealing with au Asiatic people broken into many tribes, and we heartily approve and commend the policy of our government, which has produced such results.

We rejoice to know that the purpose for which the United States entered upon a war with Spain as defined by President McKinley, has been realized, that a full and final ter-mination of hostlities between the gov-ernment of Spain and the people of Cuba has been secured; that the establishmen of a republican form of government in the island, capable of maintaining order and the security of its citizens, as wel as our own, has taken place; we rejoice to know that the result has been effected by the valor of American soldiers and the wise administration of American kept. Cap-ital and labor are both remuneratively employed, our home market has largely increased, we have secured a fair share of the markets of the world, with the promise of still further conquests. Havto the amount of $115,000,000, we are still in receipt of ample revenues, having conducted an expensive war inaugurated four years ago, we have paid all of its cost and still find the national treasury today richer by thirty-three millions of dollars than it was before the war began. We believe it to be the dictate of wisdom to let well enough alone, and not to im-peril interests by any suggestion of present interference with revenue legislation

Gallantry of Our Soldiers.

While we owe a deep sense of gratitude to the soldiers and sailors who fought to preserve the Union, and recommend now as ever just and liberal pensions to those who gave up their lives in the service we also commend the gallantry and self-sacrifice of the younger generation of soldiers and sailors who served in the war with Spain, and who are now engaged in maintaining the authority of their country in the Philippines. The same treat-ment that the Republican party has al-ways insisted upon for the men of the Grand Army of the Republic is com-mended with equal force and sincerity
