Pattison to the Slaughter.

HE WITHDRAWAL of Congressman Hall as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor clears the way for the Erie convention to nominate Pattison and Guthrie. This, it is announced, has already been decided upon by a conference of Democratic leaders. The third place on the ticket is to be filled by the nomination for secretary of internal affairs of Harrisburg's popular young Democratic mayor, Vance McCormick, a vote winner of admitted ability. The platform is to bristle with denunciation and re-Mr. Pattison has unquestionably a large place in the esteem of independent voters. Personally he is likable and popular. There is no doubt as to his sincerity in wishing to improve political conditions in Pennsylvania. His worst handicap is his party. It has lost public confidence. The men who control it are reformers by profession alone. Their words and their works do not harmonize. They are not to be trusted. They would not support Pattison in reform measures if he and a Democratic legislature should be elected. They are tarred with every defilement which they allege concerning the dominant influences in the Republican party, and they lack Senator Quay's

From a Republican standpoint we are heartily in favor of the nomination of Pattison, for it would send thousands of Democratic votes into the Republiand it would take very few Republican votes away from Judge Pennypacker. No Republican eager for reform would, after carefully reviewing the conditions, prefer Pattison to Pennypacker. And certainly no stalwart Republican, how-Harrisburg convention, would be attracted to Pattison's side

We have no doubt that Pattison is to be put up so that Colonel Guffey may | First nine months of 1902...... 80,990,000 trade him off for votes for the Democratic legislative ticket. Guffy wants to be United States senator in place of Penrose. Capture of the legislature is the objective point of the Guffy organithis state. But Republicans will have something to say about that. They are represent their commonwealth at

Of course there was no truth in the report that General Wood bribed Maximo Gomez with $25,000 to keep the peace in Cuba in 1900. Some lies are plausible enough to be interesting, but this one is grotesque.

Cuba as a Precedent.

N THE last report of Major Gorgas, health officer of Havana under the American regime, some decidedly interesting comparisons of sanitary conditions at the beginning and at the end of American occupation are made. For example:

The number of deaths in the city of Havana in April, 1898, was 1,399; the death rate was 71.88 per cent. In April, 1902, there were 499 deaths, a death rate of 21.77. In April, 1898, there were forty-nine deaths from malaria; in April, disease. In April, 1902, there were no fever or smallpox in the city. These two diseases had for generations ranked among the principal causes of death.

The total number of deaths for the year 1898 was 21,252, giving a death rate of 91.53; for 1899, the total number of deaths was 8,153, a rate of 33.67; for 1900, 6,102 deaths, a rate of 24.40; for our months of 1902 there were 1,896 deaths, which would give for the year 5,688 deaths, a rate of 20.68. This indicates forcibly the steadily improving was in September, 1901. In the twelve rears prior to American occupation wellow fever deaths in Havana averiged nearly 500 a year. In the last rear of American occupation there were smallpox in Havana since July, 1900.

The death rate from tuberculosis continues high in Havana, although not to great as in many of the large cities eration. It would multiply by ten our of the United States and Europe. A vana and other large cities is contained in the body of the report; also a table giving the number of deaths from this disease from 1872 up to the present time. This table shows that in 1898 there were 2,794 deaths from tuberculosis, the maximum number for any one year: in the minimum year, 1886, there occurred 1,187 deaths, the average for the above period being 1,600 deaths. For the year 1901 there were little over half the number of deaths from tuberculosis that the average for the thirty preceding years showed. Another notable American sanitary achievement in Cuba was the conquering of malaria by the destruction of mosquitoes. For the year 1900, the year previous to mosquito work, there were 344 deaths from this disease; in the year 1901, the first year of mosquito work, there were 151 deaths, and for the first four months of the present year 26 deaths . What American skill has accomplished in Cuba It will like ise accomplish in the Philippines, until they shall become the home of a prosperous, enlightened and a grateful people glad to owe allegiance to the Stars and have been issued by eighteen or more beet sugar Republican senators after a prolonged conference held at the residence of Senator Elkins, in effect that they will never vote for reciprocity with Cuba and will go no further toward compliance with the president's request fight concerning this matter to a head. Months of dilly dallying and coaxing having failed, the country now looks to the Republican majority in the senate to push the issue to a decisive vote. The argument is all in. Opinion on both sides is fixed. The flag of insurrection against party loyalty having been unfurled by the handful of Republican recalcitrants, it is up to the administration to disclose its strength. It has exhausted compromise and patience alike. Now let the vote be polled.

McKinley and Roosevelt must both he overridden: the memory of the former shamed, his pledge broken and the latter sacrificed in the house of alleged friends if reciprocity with Cuba is to be denied. Republican senators cannot escape this alignment. They must vote understandingly and deliberately. They must face the dead line under the concentrated gaze of the whole party.

The Montrose Republican calls attention to the fact that the first man to last fourteen fiscal years: . raise the price of stove wood in that section on account of the scarcity of coal was a Democrat, who had for years been prominent as a foe of monopolists and trusts. This only proves anew that it is the lack of opportunity that prevents most men from becoming

Reciprocity with Canada.

In comparison, our sales to Mexico, in the same period, increased only $2,000,000, and to the West Indies only zation, which controls absolutely the $1,000,000, while with the Central Amerimachinery of the Democratic party in can states we show a decrease of $300, 000, and with the South American countries we have to deplore the enormous not acquiescent in any scheme to mis- decreases of $4,000,000, as compared with the same months of 1901.

Comparing 1897 (nine months) with 1902 (nine months), the increase in Canadian trade is very large, about 75 per cent., the figures being $46,752,958 against $80,999,004. This is notable inasmuch as it was in April 1, 1897, that 121/2 per cent. in favor of Great Britain, raising it to 33 1-3 per cent. on July 1, 1900.

The conclusion drawn from these figures by some economic writers, among them that well-informed Tribune contributor, Walter J. Ballard, is that we | Falls. do not need reciprocity with Canada to keep up the volume of our sales to the new enterprise is concerned. It would en writes, "that the Canadians want and hereafter built under the American flag will buy, American goods, tariff wall or no tariff wall. It is fortunate for King Edward that is position is not subject to periodical expression of the sentiments of the people. His recent experience at Aldershot proves that he would not be able to survive the first week of an American presidential campaign.

The Fourth of July casualty reports are coming in rather slowly this year. Thus far only one person has been frightened to death by explosives in the hands of exuberant young Americans.

Our expansion is not in territory alone. For the first eight months of 1894 (Democratic) fiscal year our exports of manufactured goods amounted to $123,000,000, but for the same period of 1901 fiscal year the figures were $357,000,000, nearly three times as much. Sir: Being out of town the greater part of last week, it was Saturday evening be-fere my attention was called to Rev. I. J. Lansing's reply in Thursday's Tribune, to my open letter addressed to him in the issue of Tuesday last.

Each and every person hearing Mr. Lansing's address, a week ago last Sunday evening, and reading my open letter to him, on that address, does not need to have me even make the second to have me even make the attempt to
