The animals composing the park Zoo are being moved this week to another portion of the grounds, as all the free space necessary is needed, to complete the work of remodelling that section of the park, where they are at present located. All of the animals will be moved, except the deer which will re-main in their present paddock. The driveways of the park have been covered with shale, and new walks are also being rolled, near the shelter tents and pavillons. Pupils of Miss Becker Heard at Powell's Music Warercoms.

The pupils of Miss Salome Becker gave a recital last night at Powell's music warerooms, in which they gave abundant evidence of the careful and thorough instruction they have underthorough instruction they have undergone.

Miss Becker was assisted by Alfred Pilling, whose splendid voice was heard in several selections. Among the students, the work of Miss May Hackett was one of the crowd. I am positive, and Miss Emma Frey was particularly well received.
