SIGNIFICANCE OF FLOWER MISSION DAY

Mrs. L. W. Davis, Superintendent of the Local Mission Interestingly half hours after being freed. Explains This Beautiful Custom.

When flowers were asked for last week, for flower mission day in the W. C. T. U., and later when the beautiful bouquets were distributed, but few persons knew of the significance of the day, though there was widespread curiosity as to its purpose. This information is now supplied by Mrs. L. W. Davis, superintendent of the Flower Mission of the local branch of the W. C. T. U. Mrs. Davis is most zealous and active in this work. She interestingly explains flower days as follows:

Some may ask, 'what do you mean by Flower Mission Day?" We reply there was an invalid, Miss Jennie Casseday, of Louisville, Kentucky, who wishing to do something for Jesus, used to have flowers brought to her to send to other sick and sad people. When Miss Frances Willard was in that place attending the national convention of W. C. T. U., after talking with Miss Casseday, she was inspired to establish a flower mission department of W. C. T. U. and appointed Jennie Cassedy as national superintendent. Miss Casseday carried on this work for about eleven years, when she was called up higher. It was her wish that her birthday, June 6, be observed by special services in connection with this work.

"In our climate, we do not always have a sufficient supply of flowers to observe June 6, so we have to wait a while longer. This year the flowers were asked for to be used Monday, June 23, and we return very sincere thanks to all, who responded, especially to Hon, E. E. Hendricks and Mrs. Eva Smith, for the generous supply, which they so kindly donated.

"Friday afternoon special services were held by the W. C. T. U. with the following programme:

Hymns, "To the Work!" by audience: scripture selection, by superintendent of flower mission; prayer, by Mrs. Brodie; singing, "I'll Go Where You Want Me by audience, Mrs. George Stanton at the organ; responsive reading. "Flower Missions," led by Mrs. Van Gorder, president of W. C. T. U.; solo, 'Help a Little," Mrs. Brodie; reading. "Humility," Miss Helen Watkins; reading, "What Wilt Thou Do for the Master?" by Mrs. Marion Mills, president of Loyal Temperance Legion; duet, by Miss Stanton and Miss Stevens; reading, "Not to Be Ministered Unto, but to Minister," Mrs. George Stanton; reading, "Flowers in Prison," by superintendent of flower mission; remarks, also by Mrs. Davis, concerning the work. after which Miss Blanch Dolph, of Loyal Temperance Legion, read "The Lord Hath Need of Them." After some business, and distribution of literature, the meeting adjourned. The flowers, which adorned the room were sent out to sick ones, with the exception of one bouquet, which in behalf of the union was presented to Miss Marion Mills, the faithful president of Loyal Temperance Legion. Eighty-three bouquets with text cards, were sent this week through this department. The result we leave with

MISS FAHEY TO BE HEARD.

The Musical Prodigy at Haydn Evans' Home, Tuesday Night. Carbondalians are assured of a rare musical treat tomorrow evening, when Miss Loretta Fahey, of West Scranton will give a recital at the home of Prof.

Haydn Evans, 74 Laurel street. Miss Fahey is a pupil of Mr. Evans and is a remarkably brilliant pianist. She gave a recital in Scranton on Friday night that was a marvel for one of as a prodigy, of whom marvelous accomplishments may be well predicted.

W. A. Roberts, basso, of Scranton, will assist in the programme. Mr. Roberts is no stranger to Carbondale. His majestic voice was first heard in this city at the recital given at Mr. Evans' nome in July last, at the recital given by Miss Rose Conway. Subsequently, ne was director of music at the Berean Baptist church for a short time.

This recital will probably be the best treat of the many provided Carbondalians by Mr. Evans.

LOST ON MOUNTAIN.

Moist Experience of Carbondale Pleasure Seekers Returning from

On Wednesday, William McHale, Bert Collins, James Campbell, Dan Piel, Roger Gillis, John Loftus and Hugh Murphy, all of Carbondale, attended the Knights of Columbus excursion to Lake Ariel. Surfeited with the enjoyment of the occasion, about 9.20 p. m., the octette, climbed into a Democrat wagon and started on the homeward

They had not proceeded more than a mile from the shores of the lake be-fore they were overtaken by the fierce storm which swept this section of the Keystone state. In the gloom that followed, which rivalled the bunching of seventeen stacks of black cats, romantic scenery of Wayne county became invisible, and in a few moments even the razor backs of the faithful steeds that dragged them homeward were lost in the Egyptian pall which enveloped the earth. As all efforts to guide the horses seemed as fruitless as organizing a board of health in Carbondale, the animals were permitted to grope their way undirected by human hands, while the occupants of the wagon, with chattering teeth bowed Rankin, center field; Jones, right field. before the pelting torrents that were borne over the Salem mountains on the wings of the stiff "southeaster."

As the time approached for the lights of Carbondale to loom up beyond the Last Chance smoke stack, and the jingle of Richard Udy's never-failing lawn mower to be heard, as Patrolman Jim Bell did homeward start with "Policeman Jack" and his full stomach of soggy ple crust from the Hashery. It became apparent to Hughie Murphy, the coach whip, that something was wrong. He urged the jaded nags forward, how-Thanks to all who in any way helped ever, until finally they stopped in evident despair, refusing to lift another nules that Eddie Neary drove on the

By a flickering lantern which soon appeared and which looked all the world like the headlight on Ike Burros old lunch wagon, the face of a Wayne county agriculturist beamed out of the bushes. Enquiry of the farmer, as to where they were at, revealed the fact celebrated as the place from whence Constable Lafayette Smith once reported a hard eider mill to the Wayne county court.

In less time than it takes Constable Moran to read a warrant to a prisoner from Peach hill, negotiations were entered into for the purchase of the lanwagon pole and the discouraged pacers resumed the race for their oats and chopped feed. The lantern seemed to have a magic influence upon the elements, the raging storm soon subsided; the clouds broke away, like the postoffice storm doors, flapping in a March wind, and the twinkling stars peeped forth from azure skies.

The octette journeyed hopefully on with rising spirits, as the twittering of the feathered songsters hailed the approach of dawn over the east side swamp. As the Last Chance whistle shrilly "piped" the hour of three, the travelers, wet and wearied, drew into Wademan's livery stable back of Main street; and as one of the party poetical-

Thompson Makes a Rally.

Aided by strong heart stimulants, Thomas Thompson, the small-pox patient, sustained through yesterday the rally he made Friday night, and last night he was considerably brighter. No iew hope, however, has been aroused by this rally, as it is attributed to the effect of the stimulants. A collapse is likely to come at any minute. Between these rallies, there is a flickering, in which it seems life has left the patient.

The symptoms in the case of the third son are being closely watched, as they have not sufficiently developed to say that he has passed the danger of small-pox.

Manager Tappan, of the Crescents, is endeavoring to provide Carbondalians with a game on the Fourth of July. Nothing would please the cranks more than to see "our pets" in a contest with some worthy team, a club that would put up a game such as the rooters herabouts would appreciate. There is no telling, however, what success he will have. It was intended to go to Susquehanna, but Manager Tappan's as-suming charge of the Crescents took place too late to assure this; another her years. Mr. Evans regards his pupil team captured the date. However, he is in correspondence with the strong Scranton team, the team that won out against the Crescents in such a fine contest a few weeks ago. Every inducement will be made to bring the crack Electric city men Carbondale way, as it would be a profitable venture since there is no attraction in this city on the Fourth.

THE DIFFERENT RELIGIONS.

Discussed by Jesuit Father in St Rose Church Yesterday.

A sermon that was remarkable for its condensation and synopses was delivered at the late mass in St. Rose church yesterday by Rev. William J. Stanton, a Jesuit father. Rev. Father Stanton conducted the priests' retreat at Glen they were near Prompton, Summit last week, where he was heard and appreciated by Very Rev. T. F. Coffey, V. G., who grasped the opportunity of having his flock hear the learned and eloquent speaker preach. The speaker's theme was "Is One Religion as Good as Another?" He argued that there was only one that had the same marks as the one established by Christ, when on this earth: this religion was the Catholic religion.

His Last Hope Realized.

(From the Sentinel, Gebo, Mont.) In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1889, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his traveling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which, together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impos sible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbors brough nim one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given nim while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure, and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by all druggists.

"After a careful investigation of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, a specific for kidney, liver and bladder troubles, rheumatism, dyspepsia and constipation with its attendant ills, we are free to confess that a more meritorious medicine has never come under the examination of the chemical and medical experts of the New York Magazine of Sanitation and Hygiene. In fact, after the most searching tests and rigid inquiry into the record of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, it becomes a duty to re-commend its use in unequivocal term to every reader of this journal whose com-plaint comes within the list of ailments which this remedy is advertised to cure. We have obtained such overwhelming proof of the efficacy of this specific—have so satisfactorily demonstrated its curative powers through personal experiments—that a care for the interests of our readers leadsus tocall attention to its great value.'

INDUSTRIAL JOTTINGS.

New Railroad Yards.

The Erie Railroad company's new railroad yards at Saco, between Wimmers and Maplewood, is fast nearing completion. Excavations have been going on for a long time there, and already there is laid a dozen or more tracks. The company's coal trains will be made up there from the Wyoming and Jefferson divisions, prior to shipment over the main line. The Lackawanna Railroad company contemplates the enlargement of their Keyser Valley yards, where their coal rains will be made up for shipment to Buffalo and others points in the Wes
