Another Industry.

For some time past, scores of men, women and children have been industriously engaged picking up scrap pig ron and crude ore on the property of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company, and the tons of metal found have added considerably to the wealth of the thrifty workers. This did not escape the notice of shrewd men of business, and yesterday men stationed themselves on the bank, between Willow street and Birch street, in view of the searchers for iron, and bought what the searchers brought to them. Two men did the from a two weeks' visit with friends buying, another paid out the cash, while others guarded the ever-increasing pile until wagons carted it away to the junk yards.

Nearly 100 persons were engaged gathering the iron and, according to the amount in stock at 4 o'clock, there must have been between six and eight tons gathered during the day. The price
