SOCOOCOCCOS FEW WAR TAXES NOW REMAINING

FURTHER REPEALS AND RE-DUCTIONS IN EFFECT.

Beginning with Yesterday, Revenue Taxes Are at Figures Obtaining Before the War, Except in a Few Unimportant Instances-Report of Collections in This District for the Year Just Ended Show Only a Slight Decrease, Despite Reductions and Repeals of a Year Ago.

Collector of Internal Revenue T. F. Penman yesterday completed his report of the collections of his district for the fiscal year ending at 12 o'clock the night

The total collections were $1,774.871.27, which is $135,666.47 of a decrease as compared with the previous year. This does not signify a falling off in the output of taxable goods, but, on the con-trary, shows a healthy increase in this respect. The falling off is due to the repeals and reductions in war taxes. July 1, 1901, 40 cents was taken off beer, 3 4-10 cents off tobacco and 60 cents off cigars, while the tax on checks, drafts, express receipts, telegraph messages and the like was re-

Yesterday more reductions and re peals went into effect, as denoted in the following circular from the treasury department:

FURTHER REDUCTIONS, Attention is called to the act of congress approved April 12, 1902 entitled "An Act to repeal war-revenue taxation, and for other purposes." This act, as far as it relates to internal revenue, takes effect July 1, 1902. The following changes are made in the law now in force:

TAXES REPEALED ON AND AFTER JULY 1, 1902.

Special taxes of bankers, brokers, dealers in grain, securities, etc., under paragraph 3, section 8, act of March 2, 1901 (brokers, class 2); pawnbrokers, custom-house brokers, proprietors of theaters, etc., proprietors of circuses, proprietors of public exhibitions or shows for money, proprietors of bowling alleys or billiard rooms, dealers in leaf tobacco, dealers in tobacco, manufacturers of tobacco, manu-facturers of cigars.

Stamp taxes on instruments, papers of documents; issues, deliveries, or trans-fers of stock, and sales or agreements to sell stocks, products or merchandise wines; seats in parlor or palace cars, and berths in sleeping cars.

Excise taxes on persons, firms, com-panies and corporations engaged in refining petroleum and sugar. Taxes on legacies and distributive hares of personal property.

The estates of all persons dying prior to July 1, 1902, will be subject to the legacy tax, even if the distribution is not made until after that date. TAXES REDUCED.

Fermented Liquors-The tax on fer ented liquors is reduced to $1 per barrel. Snuff and Tobacco-The tax on snuff and tobacco is reduced to 6 cents per Cigarettes—The tax on cigarettes weighing more than 3 pounds per thous and is reduced to $3 per thousand. A drawback or rebate is allowed on all original and unbroken factory packages of smoking and manufactured tobacco and snuff held by manufacturers or dealers on July 1, 1902, to the amount of dif-ference between the higher rate paid and he tax imposed by this act.

No discount is allowed on sale of stamps for fermented liquors, or for tobacco or snuff. The discount on the sale of stamps for fermented liquors, which was allowed by the war-revenue act, was repealed by the act of March 2, 1901. The provisions of the present law, rela tive to mixed flour, remain unchanged except a slight change is made in the de-inition of mixed flour. Rights accrued or liabilities incurred prior to the repeal are not affected. From yesterday on, the revenues will be the same as before the war, on practically everything except mixed flour.

SOUTHWORTH'S PUPILS.

They Gave a Delightful Recital at Powell's Last Night.

Any recital which is given under Mr. Southworth's direction is always a delight. There was never a more conscientious teacher than Mr. Southworth There has never been one in Scranton who has produced more excellent results, nor one whose pupils give evi dence of more faithful training. The pupils' recital given last night at Powell's music rooms was no exception to the record of the years.

The artistic perfection of his teachng is unmistakable even in the youngest little maid studying with him. There is a singular fineness, as well as grace, in the work of his pupils which makes them distinctive and more than once adds the inspiration pointing to a carear.

The planoforte performers were as sisted last night by Miss Florence Robertson, whose fresh and lovely voice is y joy to hear. Miss Robertson is a pupil of Miss Cordelia Freeman, and has the free, bird-like tone so characteristic in Miss Freeman's art. She has clear, high soprano, whose upper register is notably sweet and vibrant. She gave two charming numbers and made evident the possession of a marked temperament so rare and so fascinating. She was accompanied on the plano by Mr. Southworth

Mr. Southworth's pupils ranged in ages from children to young women. They played with uniform intelligence and taste.

Miss Helen Jones was among those whose beautiful touch appealed to the listeners. Miss Guitell Harris played with exceptional brilliance, and gives promise of a future. Miss Trystine Morris and Miss Esther M. Ryan were pleasing in their execution, and Miss Muriel Weston gave two numbers with clever and artistic interpretation. Miss Clara Rice was another young girl who played exceedingly well. Misses Elizabeth Harrington, Mabel Belden, Nan Robertson, Eunice Hall, Isabella Cullen, Norma Davis and Mary O'Malley were among the younger pupils, who made the programme very interesting and entertaining.

The recital was certainly one of the most satisfactory of the season. The stage settings were elaborate and tasteful, as may be always noted in Mr. outhworth's musicales.

STRIKERS HELD FOR COURT

PROCEEDINGS BEFORE MAGIS-TRATE MILLAR YESTERDAY.

Stephen Reap, Hugh Duggan and Oliver Ros Charged with Complicity in the Riots at Delaware and Hudson's Olyphant Collieries-Testimony Given by John Whitbeck, Frank Weitzel and Thomas Flanagan-Weitzel's Vivid Illustration of Scene at the Riot.

Stephen Reap, of Olyphant, was held n $500 bail and fined $10 and costs by Magistrate, W. S. Millar yesterday, on the charge of inciting riot at the Delaware and Hudson collieries on May 20. Hugh Duggan was fined $10 and costs and held in $300 bail for being implicated in the riot of last Thursday and Oliver Roe was held in $300 bail on the charge of disorderly conduct, but the case against him, of threats, was discharged. Samuel Haddon and John Mc-Glone, of Dunmore, were each fined $10 and costs last night for disorderly conduct. They were charged with being members of the crowd that pursued Thomas Flanagan, a non-union miner it the Erie company's No. 1 colliery, and attempted to hang him.

In the case against Reap and Duggan, Attorneys J. H. Torrey, Joseph O'Brien and Robert Murray represented the prosecution. Attorney John J. Murphy was present, in behalf of the United Mine Workers of America, and Attorney J. J. O'Malley was private counsel for the defense. John Whitbeck was the first witness sworn, and testified that while going to work at the Eddy Creek colliery last Thursday a crowd of between one hundred and fifty and two hundred men closed in on him and ordered him to keep away from the colliery.

WOULD THROW HIM IN CREEK. He went into Ward's store for shelter and while there engaged in conversation with Hugh Duggan, one of the men in the crowd. Duggan, Whitbeck claimed, told him that "if he got impudent, they'd pull him out of the store, duck him in the creek and then give him a good pounding." No violence was offered him, but only intimidation was used. Frank Weltzel, who was going to work with Whitbeck at the time, was next sworn. His testimony corroborated that of the first witness. He declared that he recognized among the men, Duggan, Oliver Roe, Thomas and Fallon. The crowd surrounded him, he said, and when he fried to get through blocked his passage.

"Show us how Duggan tried to keep you from getting through the crowd," said Attorney Murphy.

"Do you want me to show you how?" queried the witness.

"I do," said Mr. Murphy. Weitzel, who is pretty heavily built, was on his feet in a minute and sidling up to Attorney Murphy gave a realistic illustration of his testimony by colliding with the stockily built attorney with a crash, which resounded through the room. The witness then resumed his testimony.

Evidence was then heard in the case of Reap and P. J. McCormick, who were charged with creating a disturbance at Olyphant, May 20. The information was made by Richard Lewis, a nonunion miner. McCormick charged but put under $300 bail to keep

OTHER CASES. At last night's hearing in the cases of l'homas O'Horo, Samuel Haddon and John McGlone, Attorneys J. J. Murphy, John P. Quinnan and T. J. Duggan appeared for the defense, while Attorney Joseph O'Brien looked after the interests of the prosecution. Flanagan testified that a crowd of men followed him on his return early in the morning from work on the night shift, that stones were thrown at him, and he was loudly bused, and called "scab." Cross-examination by Attorney Murphy brought out the facts that none of the three defendants had laid violent hands upon Flanagan. The latter declared that they had all endeavored to persuade him from going to work, and added that Haddon carried a stone in his hand. He wasn't sure whether or not the latter used the missile.

Attorney Murphy moved that the case be discharged, as no coercion had been used, and when Magistrate Millar refused to dismiss the men, declined to put in any evidence. O'Horo was discharged, and the other men fined. The cases will be appealed.
