WHITNEY ON SKIN-GRAFTING

WOOL PRODUCER.

If You Don't Believe This Veracious Narrative, Affidavits Are in Reserve - Thrilling Encounter of Court Clerk Searle with a Colum-.. an Grove Pike-Other News and Gossip of Susquehanna County.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Susquehanna, July 15 .- Samuel Isaacson, a peregrinating Hebrew peddler, whose home is at Honesdale, monthly makes a trip through this section, exchanging bright tinware and bric-a-brac for old iron, rags, sheep pelts, hen's feathers and like "truck." Sammy has for years driven a gothic-framed steed, a relic of the famous Delaware & Hudson canal. It is a fast steed with a record of less than a mile a minute.

Sammy and his outfit, one cold night in December, arrived at the home of Farmer Charles Ross, at Burnwood, and asked permission to remain over night, which was granted, and the horse was bedded down and Sammy laid himself away to dream of a big day's business, with two hundred per cent. profit. Sometime in the night, Sammy heard his charger neighing and pawing the barn floor, fearfully. Awakening his host, the two went to the barn, where they found the horse evidently in its last struggle. About seventeen kinds of cures for all kinds of horse ailments were poured down the beast in rapid succession, but it soon gave a loud sigh and became motionless.

Sammy knew that his best friend was a-goner, and he sat down upon a pile of rags and cried real tears. Ross told him that good horses were real cheap since the Boer war closed, but he refused to be comforted. At last he was prevailed upon to return to his bed, but there was no sleep for him.

When the crows were singing their and took off its shoes. He was bound get a man who owed him a dollar to inter the remains. In an hour he returned to the barn where he was amazed to find the horse standing up and getting a morning lunch off the feed box. The old horse was much the worse for wear but he was still in the ring.

Then a bright idea struck Sammy. He carries a little oil stove with him on the wagon, and melting some glue, he fixed half a dozen or so sheep pelts and glued them upon the horse, where the skin used to be. He neatly pieced in the places where the skins didn't join nicely.

The old horse seemed to be surprised at its new rainment, but he soon same to look upon it as a matter of fact and he ate Charley Ross' oats and waxed fat. All the people came to see it, and it was the wonder of the wood acid settlement. In two months the horse fully recovered and happy Sammy drove it to his home. This summer owing to its warm coat he pastures it over in Texas township, but in the fall, it will again be driven. Last week Sammy sheared the animal and realized seven pounds of wool, which will help pay for the pasturage.

EXIT A FOUNTAIN.

The Main street public drinking fountain, presented to the borough by the W. C. T. Somehow i never appeared to fill-a-long-felt-want. large number of our people object to drink water in public, and others drink it only upon a physician's prescription and so the fountain, which was an ornament, was never a necessity. A fountain which gave forth lager, leed buttermilk or seltzer would have been appreciated, and the names of the donors would have gone down the centuries. But just plain water,

On Monday he borrowed a lamprey eel of a neighbor, with the avowed intention of catching a pike. He had a yearning desire to truthfully tell Judge Archbald that he had caught a fish weighing more than six ounces.

Edward had been playing pinocle with the farmer boys, the night before, and, as he sat in the boat, in the hot he was soon in the land of nod. The bait danced joyously with the tide. Like a flash, a big pike darted out from under a log, grabbed the bait, swallowed it and commenced making for the left bank of the stream.

"Ed." had the end of the line tied around his knee, and, as the big fish tightened it, he awoke to find himself floundering in the stream. He at once saw that the boat was nearer than the shore, and he made an effort to return to the craft, but the line was drawn tight and the big fish was fast hauling Kidney Disease Kills.

Its Victims Numbered by the Hundreds of Thousands.

Kidney diseases should be attended to at once, for almost 90 per cent. of our unexpected deaths of to-day are from that cause. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the only sure cure known for diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation. It is marvelous how it stops that pain in the back, relieves the necessity of urinating so often at night, drives away that scalding pain in passing water, corrects the bad effects of whiskey and beer and shows its beneficial effects on the system in an incredibly short time.

gravel and kidney complaint very severely, it bothered me a great deal, and have found great relief from its use, and cheerfully recommend it."

THE MARKETS

Wall Street Review.

New York, July 15.—Prices of stocks started upwards with a rush this morning, aparently as an extension and a broadening of the buying movement which became conspicuous yesterday in the Grangers and Pacifics. There was an appearance of confident demand from new sources, and the open selling of the brokers which have been employed by the western contingent during the recent rise did not affect the strength of the market. This gave rise to the conviction that large capitalists who have hitherto held aloof from the market were coming in prepared to continue the upward movement of stocks. There was active realizing in Missouri Pacific and in a few other stocks under cover of this strength and the whole market ultimately gave way. There was a momentary check to the downward movement effected by a rally in Missouri Pacific to a point over last night, but the market gave way again and receded generally to below last night's level, with only a few stocks resisting the downward tendency. The market closed heavy and not far above the lowest. Among the late points of strength were Amalgamated Copper, the United States Steel stocks, the Chicago and Alton stocks and the Toledo, St. Louis and Western preferred. The advance in Amalgamated Copper was in expectation of action on the dividend tomorrow. The steel stocks responded fractionally to the suit against the company's bond conversion plan, including affidavits from the corporation's officials bearing on the value of assets. Total sales for the day, 759,900 shares. The bond market was irregular. Total sales, par value, $3,770,000. United States new 4's declined ½c. on call.

Chicago Grain Market.

Chicago. July 15.—Bulls in the corn pit who engineered the corner in July options abandoned their position today and the yellow cereal left to itself fell from its lofty price and floundered 20c. under yesterday's best figure. Naturally most of the interest in grains today centered about July corn. As a result the effect of the break was felt in all other grains. Yet natural conditions were bearish enough to break prices and nne weather and lower cables besides the heavy receipts caused such general seling in all the pits that September corn closed in 11/4c. lower; September corn closed in 11/4c. lower; September corn, 13/411/2c, down; July corn 15/4c, lower and September oats %alc. lower.
