MITCHELL DECLINES TO GIVE DIRECTIONS

But Says the Indianapolis Convention Will Settle the Anthracite Strike.

GENERAL STRIKE IS IMPROBABLE

The Sentiment of the Delegates Appears to Be Against a Walk-Out. Father Curran Returns from His Peace-Making Errand Convinced That the Anthracite Operators Will Not Listen to Talk of Compromise or Concession—West Virginia Soft Coal Strike Practically at an End.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Indianapolis, Ind., July 16.—President Mitchell, who arrived here today, made the following statement this afternoon: "The convention will not meet tomorrow, but before it closes, take action that will settle the strike of the miners in Pennsylvania and West Virginia."

At the same time he reiterated his confidence that the strike would end in a victory for the men. Asked if the two declarations taken together meant that the convention would order a general strike, Mr. Mitchell refused to explain further.

The convention will assemble in Tomlinson hall tomorrow, to discuss the advisability of calling a strike to aid the anthracite men who have been out in eastern Pennsylvania for several weeks.

The action of the convention is uncertain, although the situation tonight indicates that there will be no walk-out of the soft coal men. There are so many circumstances, however, that may change the situation. The speculation regarding the result of the convention is not reliable. At present, President Mitchell can swing the delegates either way. He will not say openly what he wishes, however, asserting that it is the province of the delegates to decide regarding the strike, and that while he is willing to advise, under no circumstances will he assume to dictate to the convention what it should do. When it comes to discussing the questions before the convention, the sphinx of Egypt is a howling derision compared to the convention, and this afternoon, however, that the convention would take action that would result in the winning of the strike by the anthracite men in the east. He also said that the men on strike were contending for a principle, to which the United Mine Workers had long been committed, and that it was the duty of the parent body to aid them by every means in its power.

When asked whether these utterances could be construed as meaning that he was in favor of a strike, Mr. Mitchell was seized with reticence. If no such shall be ordered, it is probable that an effort will be made to curtail the output of soft coal and to keep it from the anthracite districts. If it shall be decided that this policy can be carried out, the chances of a strike will be greatly lessened.

Sentiment Against Strike. The sentiment among the delegates, as far as it can be determined from those who are already here, is against a strike.

John P. Reese, president of the Iowa miners, declares that he is for a strike only as a last resort. J. W. Howe, president of the Tennessee miners, will not declare himself, saying he will use his best judgment, but the members of his delegation say they are not in favor of a strike if it can be avoided. Daniel Young, president of the Michigan delegation, takes the same position as Mr. Howe and his followers, as do those of the Tennessee men, that they do not wish a strike if they can keep out of it. The Missouri men are against a strike and are instructed to fight against it on the floor of the convention. Alexander Patterson, who represents the Colorado miners, says he does not favor a strike, only as a last resort. Indiana men are against a strike. The delegates from Illinois are partly uninstructed and others have instructions against a strike. Those who are uninstructed will not declare what they do, but many of them say they are opposed to a strike. W. F. Williams, president of the Michigan delegation, said this afternoon that the men from his state have never declared for a strike. The Michigan district signed the call for the convention and it was generally thought that they would favor a strike. But this, Mr. Williams declares, is not the fact. "We signed the call," said he, "because we thought that the men on a strike in the east were entitled to some consideration, and that was only right that the organization should meet to take steps for their relief."

The delegates from the anthracite regions are strong in favor of a strike, but they are urging their views with moderation. There seems to be but little selfishness in the attitude of any of the delegates. Those who are not declaring themselves as being anxious for the greatest good of the greatest number of the organization. The men who say they are opposed to a strike say at the same time they are willing to strike if they see no other way to aid the anthracite miners.

Anthracite Miners. The anthracite miners declare that, while they are anxious to have all the aid that can help them to win the strike, they are not disposed to force the bituminous miners to break their contracts, unless it shall prove the salvation of the organization. It is not likely that a vote on the question of striking will be taken before Saturday. Estimates made by Secretary Wilson, of the Mine Workers, the total vote cast will be in the neighborhood of 1,500. The vote is based upon the law of 1900 requiring the vote to be based on the average paid-up membership for the three months preceding the month in which the convention is held. The report of the president's committee may alter this table somewhat, but the vote will be apportioned about in this manner: District 1, anthracite, 396 votes; No. 7, anthracite, 115 votes; No. 9, anthracite, 357 votes; total, anthracite, 768 votes.

Central Pennsylvania district, bituminous, 180 votes; Pittsburgh district, 102; Ohio, 229; Indiana, block, 18; Indiana, bituminous, 72; Illinois, 307; Iowa, 118; Kansas, 36; Colorado, 14; Maryland, 9; Virginia and West Virginia, 93; Tennessee, 31; Alabama, 47; Arkansas and Indian territory, 9; Kentucky, 99; Michigan, 22; Missouri, 129; total, bituminous, 1,416. Grand total, 2,184.

A caucus of the men from the anthracite regions will be held tomorrow morning for the purpose of arranging their vote so it can be cast as a unit. The men from Ohio will caucus tomorrow night to determine their position regarding the strike. They feel that by Thursday night matters will have progressed to such a degree that they will be able to determine just what they should do.

Father Curran Gives Up. Wilkes-Barre, Pa., July 16.—Rev. J. J. Curran, of this city, who went to Philadelphia and New York to lay before the presidents of the coal-carrying railroads a plan for the settlement of the miners' strike, says he will make no further effort to bring about peace, as the coal operators have made up their minds not to grant any concessions to the miners or to recognize their committees.

John Mullery and Charles Thain, editors of the Courier-Herald, of this city, the two editors of the paper, were arraigned before Magistrate Pollock today, charged with libeling twenty-two workmen in the employ of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company. The editors claimed the prosecutors were unfair workmen. The defendants were held in $5,000 bail each, there being twenty-two separate counts against them. The bail was promptly furnished.

Strike Over in West Virginia. Huntington, W. Va., July 16.—One thousand miners from Virginia and North Carolina arrived in the Flat Top coal fields today to take places vacated by strikers. Practically no strikers now remain in the Norfolk and Western coal fields. All who have not returned to the mines have been ordered to do so. Many of the colliers in other states. Many of the colliers in other states. Many new men are arriving daily.

Injunction Hearing Continued. Roanoke, Va., July 16.—The case of Curran, master and built against the Casswell Creek Coal company, et al., in which Judge Keller awarded a temporary injunction against the strikers some weeks ago, was set for argument at Bluefield today, but contrary to expectations the strikers failed to make the fight they claimed they would, and on motion of complainant's counsel, the final hearing of the case went over until Sept. 16, at Huntington. This was done because the case was not matured, and therefore the complainants were not entitled to have the injunction perpetuated at this time. The order continuing the case provides that the temporary injunction shall remain in full force and effect until the case is quiet today and every mine is running. Not more than 5 per cent. of the men are now out, and men who left the fields at the beginning of the strike are daily returning.

THE PRESIDENT'S ITINERARY.

Routes He Will Take and Places He Will Visit. By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Washington, July 16.—Secretary Cortelyou has completed the itinerary of two trips to be made by President Roosevelt, one to New England states, in August, and the other to the north-west, in September.

The president will leave Oyster Bay Aug. 22, and will visit all of the New England states on that journey. The New England trip will take about ten days, and the president will be back in Oyster Bay about the first of September. He will remain at his home until Sept. 19, when he will leave on his northwestern trip. The trip will last two weeks and four days and will take in many places in the northwest. The president will stop first at Cincinnati on his way out and then his next most important stop will be Detroit, to which place he goes to attend the annual convention of the Spanish War Veterans, on Sept. 22. From Detroit the president will go to Indianapolis to attend the meeting in that city of the other organization of the Spanish War Veterans. That will be on the day following his visit to Detroit.

President Roosevelt has not decided upon the date of his southwestern trip, the one which will take him into Texas, October was the month first planned, but Secretary Cortelyou has not yet begun any arrangements in this direction, and some doubt is expressed as to whether the trip can be arranged for this fall.

ANOTHER EXPLOSION.

Park City, Utah, the Scene of a Mine Accident Which Is Attended by Nearly Two-score Deaths.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Park City, Utah, July 16.—Thirty-five miners were killed in the Daly-West and Ontario mines today—twenty-nine in the Daly-West and six in the Ontario.

The disaster was the result of an explosion occasioned by John Burge, a miner, going into one of the magazines of the Daly-West with a lighted candle. His act cost him his life and the lives of many other miners beside. His own body was blown to small pieces. The explosion occurred at 11:20 o'clock last night, and in a moment deadly gas was being generated throughout the mines. It crept through every tunnel, shaft and incline, and in a very short space of time scores of miners found themselves face to face with death. "That the loss of life was not far greater seems marvelous.

The work of rescuing the impelled and dead was quickly and heroically undertaken. Men were brought to the surface as fast as the disabled machinery would permit. The victims had to be brought up the shaft in a one-compartment cage, the other compartment having been wrecked by the explosion. Two of the dead are rescuers, John McLaughlin and John Eckstrom.

In the Daly-West mine between 100 and 150 men were at work when the explosion occurred; in the Ontario, about 100, it is believed. It is not known how many of those are dead, but the disaster extends to the Ontario, and the noxious gas is believed to have caused several deaths. The presence of these gases led many miners to believe that the powder was burned and that the explosion was not the chief cause of the disaster.

There were two powder magazines at the 1200 level of the Daly-West mine, one at each side of the shaft, with a capacity of from one to two cars of powder each. A car of powder was added to the supply within the last few days.

The explosion was so tremendous that it awakened every one within a radius of miles. As an example of its force, it is said that two horses in the ore tunnel one and a half miles away were killed by it.

Women and children are thronging to the Ontario shaft house, which is midway between Park City and the Daly-West mines. Almost all of them had husbands or fathers in the workings and their grief is pitiable. All of the doctors in town are at the mines. They are doing what they can to resuscitate the unconscious men as they are taken out.

Members of a relief party who went into the Ontario mine soon after the explosion occurred have not returned and fears are entertained for their safety.

Salt Lake, Utah, July 16.—A telephone message from Park City says that thirty-three bodies have been removed from the two silver mines there, in which the powder magazine exploded early today.

Officials of the Daly-West, one of the mines, say that only three more bodies are in it. Miners, however, assert that there are twelve or fifteen still unaccounted for. The fumes from the explosion were overpowering and caused most of the deaths.

Park City, Utah, July 16.—James Smith, a member of the rescuing party, who went down this morning, died soon after noon. Jack Bolton, a Silver King miner, who also went down with the rescuers, is unconscious. Experienced miners say that the "powder monkey" was a green man and should not have handled explosives.

Twenty-five bodies are at a local undertaker's. The majority of the men met their death from inhaling gas.

R., July 16.—It is believed here, and the opinion is said to be founded on good authority, that President Castro of Venezuela will be overthrown within two weeks. GROSSE POINTE RACES.

It Required Seven Heats to Decide the 2.17 Trot.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Detroit, July 16.—It took seven heats to decide the 2.17 trot at Grosse Pointe track this afternoon, and the event, which was won by Alice Russell, proved to be the best race thus far seen at the blue ribbon meeting of the Detroit Driving club. Five heats were driven in the 2.14 pace before Roamer won the event, and so much time was taken up by these two events that it was necessary to postpone the 2.05 pace, 2.13 trot and the 2.08 amateur pacing event until tomorrow.

The racing will begin at 12.30 o'clock tomorrow with eight events on the card. The weather and track this afternoon were splendid, and the attendance was in the neighborhood of 7,000, which is unusually large for the third day of the meeting.

Summaries of the races follow: 2.14 trot, purse $1,500; two in three heats (unfinished yesterday).
