A Vacation Necessity.

When you provide all other comforts that money will buy—and it is a good deal of money usually with most of us—to secure the comfort and enjoyment of your family, do you think you ought to overlook one of the least expensive and most profitable? It is certainly a comfort and an enjoyment to have a daily letter from home in the shape of a live newspaper while you are away on your vacation. You can sit in a shady nook, no matter how far from your usual scenes, and read of the daily life of the town where all your interests lie and friends reside, and when you get back home again, you will not have to go around and grope for the missing links of intelligence. Have The Tribune sent to you while on your vacation and it will be the best outlay you have made toward the comfort and enjoyment of that resting time. It will be sent, postage paid, to any address in the United States, Canada, Cuba or Mexico, for the same price as at home, 50 cents a month.

Scranton Athletic club excursion to Mountain Park tomorrow. Trains leave at 8.30 a. m. and 1 p. m.

MORE STRIKERS HAVE RETURNED

TAYLOR WASHERY IS AGAIN IN OPERATION.

Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Company Succeeds in Starting Up Its Fifth Washery with Twenty-five of Its Former Employees—Practically All the Washeries in This Region Now in Operation—Local Labor Union's Contributing to Miners—Big Mass Meeting.

With twenty-five of its old employees, the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company yesterday started up its Taylor washery. This makes five washeries this company has in operation. They are turning out 6,000 tons of coal daily. It has thus far been used exclusively for making steam at the collieries. Practically all the washeries in this region are now in operation.

The local Typographical union and Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners have voted to make weekly contributions to the miners. The members of the Typographical union will contribute a dollar apiece each week, during the continuance of the strike. In view of President Mitchell's declaration in favor of the address given by John J. Kearney, of Archbald; Anthony Schlosser, national organizer; John H. Devine, president of the Central Labor union, and Hugh Frayne, president of the State Federation of Labor.

MEETING AT NORTH SCRANTON.

A joint mass meeting of all United Mine Workers of North Scranton was held in St. Mary's hall, on West Market street, last evening. The hall was taxed to its capacity with miners, to listen to the address given by John J. Kearney, of Archbald; Anthony Schlosser, national organizer; John H. Devine, president of the Central Labor union, and Hugh Frayne, president of the State Federation of Labor.

The meeting was opened with an address by the chairman, Richard Butcher. He was followed by the North End quartette, which rendered several pleasing selections.

The various speakers all made encouraging addresses, assuring the miners that they would win.

Manager John E. Mulvey and Editor Charles Thain, of the Courier-Herald, the official organ of the Central Labor union, of Wilkes-Barre, have been held in $11,000 bail each, to answer at court for libelling twenty-two employees of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company at the Pettebone and Woodward collieries.

UNFAIR LIST POSTED.

Several weeks ago the town of Edgewood and the upper end of Plymouth township were flooded with circulars headed "Unfair List," and bearing the names of the twenty-two prosecutors, with the subscription to the effect that these men were unfit to associate with honorable men.

Detectives John Hannigan, James Fahy and J. W. Casey, of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company, were detailed by Chief Adamson to discover who was responsible for the publishing of the circulars. The arrest of Mulvey and Thain was the result. They were given a hearing before Squire Pollock and fined twenty-five $500 bail in each of the twenty-two collieries. P. M. Gilligan and Patrick Colgan became bondsmen. John T. Lenahan appeared for the company's employees, and James L. Lenahan, for the defendants.

Fifteen mules owned by the People's Coal company, which were sent out into the country when the strike began, were taken back to the Oxford last night. That company is said to have applications from a large number of its men, who want to return to work.

MOSKOWSKA WAS REJECTED.

Had His Bride-That-Was-to-Be Committed to Jail.

Miss Antonette Seplosky was Wednesday night committed to jail in default of $500 bail by Justice of the Peace C. W. Thompson, of Greenwood, for eloping with a pretense.

Behind this arrest is a romance that has a tinge of tragedy in it for Anthony Moskowska. He is a thirty Russian, 25 years of age, who has long dreamed of the joy of having a wife and a fire-side of his own. Seven weeks ago, Antonette came to this country and took up her residence with her relatives. She was from Anthony's part of Russia, and he called upon her soon after her arrival.

It was a case of love at first sight on his part, and the young woman, who is engaged to marry her ardent lover, and he furnished the money with which she purchased an elaborate trousseau. Tuesday the lovers came to this city and secured a marriage license. Wednesday they were to have been wedded, but that morning she sent word to Moskowska that she had decided to marry him. He pleaded with her to keep her word or return to him the things he had purchased for her, but she would do neither, and in despair he went before Squire Thompson and lodged information which caused her arrest.

When she was committed to jail, Moskowska pleaded with her to marry him and save the disgrace of imprisonment, but it was all in vain.

Yesterday Joseph Nogalvick agreed to become her bondsman. She was taken before Judge Edwards and released.

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

An Expression of Entire Satisfaction

Scranton, May 24, 1902.

Mr. J. Alfred Pennington,

Dear Sir:—We are entirely satisfied with our daughter's progress in music at the Conservatory. It is surprising how soon the reading of music becomes easy under the Faelten System. The recitals are of particular value to students, because of the unusual care bestowed in preparation for them, as well as the confidence gained by each experience. We hope our daughter may complete the entire course.

Sincerely yours,

MRS. D. S. HAINS.

The New Prospectus Will Soon Be Issued

SITE FINALLY FIXED.

D., L. & W. Car Construction and Repair Shops to Be Located in the Upper Part of Keyser Valley.

Bids have been asked by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company for the work necessary to install extensive car construction and repair shops in Keyser Valley, on the far side of the Keyser Valley branch, just back of the Cathedral cemetery.

It was originally intended to locate the shops near the Dodge colliery, where Scranton and Taylor meet, but the rocky formation of the ground made excavating too expensive and the company's engineers looked about for another site.

Several tracts in Keyser Valley owned by the company were viewed and finally the one indicated above was selected.

The work of installing the shops will begin at once.

CAMP OPENS TODAY.

Companies of the First Regiment of Lancers of C. T. A. U. Will Proceed to Lake Lodore.

Today will mark the opening of the first regimental encampment in the United States of men whose aim is holding aloft the banner of total abstinence. The First Regiment of Lancers, of the Catholic Total Abstinence union, of the Scranton diocese, will assemble this morning at Lake Lodore, and remain under strict military discipline for one week.

The regiment is composed of two battalions, with four companies in each battalion. The officers and companies are as follows:

CITY OWNS OLD GONG.

Presented, through Dr. Logan, by the L. I. and S. Company.

Through the efforts of Rev. Dr. S. C. Logan, D. D., Scranton is now the possessor of the old blast furnace gong, which for more than thirty years has sounded the city fire alarms.

When the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company was moving away, Dr. Logan conceived the idea of securing the old gong to the city, and to that end wrote a personal letter to President Walter Scranton. The latter brought the matter up before a meeting of the directors, and the result was a resolution donating the gong to the city.

Dr. Logan conveyed the resolution to Recorder Council and the gong was accepted by him for the city. The recorder and Superintendent Ferber, of the fire department, interested General Superintendent Clarke, of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company in having the gong placed at the company's machine shops, where there is a constant pressure of eighty pounds of steam, nearly twice what there was at the blast furnace. Mr. Clarke had the gong placed as desired, and yesterday it was tested for the first time.

With the heavy steam pressure, the gong sounds much louder than it formerly did, and formerly it could be heard in Nicholson, twenty-one miles away.

Dr. Logan contemplates some formal ceremonies to commemorate the transfer of the historic gong to the city.

WHY HE FAVORS BRICK.

Building Inspector Brown Explains to Commoners' Committee.

Plans for the proposed $40,000 police and fire headquarters in the rear of city hall were submitted Thursday night, and by that body referred to its building committee for inspection. The committee met last night and had Superintendent Brown go over the drawings with them.

The committee heartily approved the general idea of the building and found no objection to any feature of it, except that it was to be of brick. The majority of the members favored stone of the same quality and cut as that in the city hall.

Superintendent Brown stated that he himself at first favored making the building conform in style and material to city hall, but when he came to consider that the top of the two-story new building will reach only the bottom of the second floor of the city hall, because of depression of the ground in the rear of the hall, he concluded that the new building should have a decidedly distinctive style, as a means of saving it from assuming the appearance of an addition to the hall.

The committee were disposed to veer around to the superintendent's way of thinking, and decided to adjourn until next Thursday night, to have opportunity to give the matter consideration.

COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES.

Alison M. Price, who served in Company D, Fifty-eighth regiment of Pennsylvania infantry, was yesterday granted a veteran's license to peddle.

The Northern Lackawanna Railroad company yesterday filed indemnifying bonds in favor of Gustav Wenske and Phillip Penkolski, whose property in South Scranton will be damaged by the building of the railroad.

James Kearney was yesterday brought in on a bail piece and entered bail in the sum of $500 to appear at the next term of court for sentence. At the last term, he was convicted of embezzlement, and E. Woodruff became his bondsman yesterday.

Jacob Hartman and William Luther, by their attorney, A. A. Chase, brought suit yesterday against the Scranton Steel company. Each seeks to recover $500 damages, caused by the floods in the Lackawanna river last spring. The allegation being that the flooding of their premises was caused by the Steel company narrowing the river channel near the lower steel mill.

A friend of Mr. Dorsey's who subscribed for the paper for three months requested the three points to go to the former's credit, although Mr. Dorsey will not know it until this morning. This help enabled Mr. Dorsey to take ninth place away from Leroy Stanton and still have a margin of 2 points.

Miss Coleman went up two positions again yesterday, duplicating the advance of the day previous.

Maxwell Shepherd, of Carbondale, added materially to his score. He is now only 26 points away from the 200 mark.

This is a good time for new contestants to enter. Over three months of the contest are left. Full particulars will be mailed on receipt of request.

HEARINGS AT HARRISBURG.

Protests Against Granting Street Railway Charters.

Secretary of the Commonwealth Grist gave a hearing yesterday at Harrisburg on protests against the granting of charters to four street railways in this county, on the ground that they were in conflict with the routes of corporations already chartered. It was found that there was no conflict in the case of the Mayfield, Carbondale and Crystal Lake company, and the protest was withdrawn.

The opposition admitted in the case of the Trip Park company that the conflict of routes was less than the amount limited by law. The remaining point is whether the Panooka Street Railway company and the Stafford Meadow Brook Street Railway company could use three hundred feet already used by the Scranton Railway company.

NATIONAL OFFICER HERE.

C. O. Pratt, of Cleveland, O., national executive committee member of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees, is in the city to advise with the members of Division 168 in their dealings with the company regarding the grievance submitted to General Manager Stillman, Monday.

Mr. Pratt is stopping at the St. Charles. He declined last evening to say anything about his mission or to comment on the local situation.
