HOPES FOR THE MILLENNIUM

INTERESTING ADDRESS BY REV. C. T. RUSSELL.

Editor of "Zion's Watch Tower" Addressed a Large Audience at Guernsey Hall, Yesterday Afternoon, on the Subject of "Millennial Hopes and Prospects."

Rev. C. T. Russell, of Allegheny, Pa., editor of "Zion's Watch Tower" and author of "Millennial Dawn," lectured at Guernsey hall, yesterday afternoon, before a large audience, on "Millennial Hopes and Prospects."

PASTOR C. T. RUSSELL, Editor of Zion's Watch Tower and Author of Millennial Dawn.

millennium, a period of one thousand years, of which the Scriptures speak, in which Satan would be restrained, and the nations of the world uplifted.

"At present, although many live in luxury, and a greater number in comparative comfort and ease, all must realize that this existing state of things is but a brief respite from the pain and sorrow which will come upon all men when the millennium shall have passed.

"When this day comes then will follow the joyful millennium. After six thousand years of sin, will come a thousand years of righteous bliss.

Scriptures say it will be, as the day follows the night. At present the gospel is the lamp which guides us through the darkness."

In discussing the question of restitution, and the need of the world's being uplifted to higher ideals and nobler deeds, Rev. Russell forcibly drew his hearers' attention to the penalty of death, and again cited Scripture, with the simple quotation that "the wages of sin is death."

"Sin is a good paymaster," he remarked. "He doesn't leave the malefactor go unpaid or keep him waiting for his remuneration. The pay comes sharp and sure, and wherever there is sin you will find death close by, with attendant cohorts of ills and pains of the body."

The speaker argued that the theory of eternal torture did not harmonize with the statement that death is the ultimate punishment, and stated that no reasonable person could believe in such a thing.

The prophet Daniel was quoted, and much stress laid upon his portrayal of the ill-governed realm of the world, and the supplanting by a government of righteousness, "a stone cut out of the mountain without hands which filled the whole earth, and the kingdom under the whole heaven shall be given unto the saints of the Most High, and they shall possess it forever."

DEWEY AT POCONO.

Greeted by Hotel Guests and Town-folks with Waving of Flags and Clanging of Bells.

Admiral George Dewey, accompanied by Mrs. Dewey, arrived at Mt. Pocono at 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon on the Lackawanna, from Washington, D. C.

Word of their coming had reached Mt. Pocono through the newspapers, and a big crowd—for Mt. Pocono—was at the station to greet them.

After he had helped Mrs. Dewey into the phaeton that was awaiting them, and was about to enter himself, some youngsters in the crowd shouted, "Dewey did it!"

In closing his discourse the speaker impressed upon all the necessity for living up to their responsibilities, and as they recognized more and more of the divine purpose that they should manifest their love for so wise and just and loving a Creator by faithfulness in serving Him, recognizing that if they were perfunctory in their duty, while evil conditions still abound they might also, by reason thereof, be enabled to make their calling and election sure to a place in the special class of joint-heirs with Christ which shall bring to the world the benefits of the millennial period set apart in God's plan.

OXFORD TO START UP.

President Crawford, of the Peoples Coal Company, Gives Formal Notice to Employees.

President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers of America, was the guest of Scranton friends yesterday when he was here on his way to Oxford, Pa., to take an afternoon train, and after taking dinner at the St. Charles hotel, enjoyed a drive with Druggist John J. Loftus, to Elmhurst.

He was seen at the hotel by a Tribune man at 10:30 o'clock last night, and his attention was called to the public statement made by President J. L. Crawford, of the Peoples Coal Company, in which notification is given that operations will be resumed at the Oxford colliery. When asked for a statement regarding it, Mr. Mitchell significantly remarked:

"Our men will not return to work." Further than this he would not discuss the letter. Regarding his selection by the street car men as one of the arbitrators of the controversy with the Scranton Railway company, he stated that he will act in that capacity, but does not know what the board of arbitrators will meet.

During his stay Mr. Mitchell was not in conference with any of the street car men and stated that his visit was purely of a social nature. He will return to Wilkes-Barre this morning.

Formal notice of the Peoples Coal company's intention to resume operations at once, was given Saturday by President J. L. Crawford in a letter addressed to Theophilus Phillips, president of the local to which the Oxford employees belong. The letter reads as follows:

Scranton, July 25, 1902. Mr. Theophilus Phillips, President Local 1715, United Mine Workers of America, Scranton, Pa.

Dear Sir: As per my agreement with you the first part of July, when we started the two rock tunnels and rock plane and associated with him would be my good movement, which you could withdraw them, as we were not going to mine any coal at present, and that I would notify you before we intended to mine any coal. You seemed to withdraw the pickets a day or two after, but since the Indianapolis convention we have been annoyed very much with them, although they have not been able to stop any of our men, as we have also picketed all the roads leading to our colliery.

Now, I hereby notify you that we intend to mine coal in a few weeks, or as soon as we can get the repairs finished that we are engaged at, which will probably take us towards the middle of August. As soon as we have our rolling engines' foundations renewed and the work in the shaft completed, we shall empty the cars we now have in the mines, repair them, and get them ready to work; date of which I will send you later and through you to our former employees. But as I told you in the last copy of my letter, you and your former employees must give us notice of their intention to go to work when we are ready on or before August 2. That will give us time enough to fill any places that the men don't care to return to. And in case our former employees make no application for their positions on or before that date, we shall feel at liberty to fill them with any one that applies.

Very truly yours, J. L. Crawford, Pres.

The letter was brought to the notice of the local at a meeting in Jayne's hall Saturday. What action, if any, was taken was not disclosed.

Five contestants scored points on Saturday in the Tribune's Educational Contest, as follows: Miss Beatrice Harpur, of Thompson, an William H. Henry, of Harford; J. A. Havenstrite, of Scranton; Charles Burns, of Vandling; Herbert Thompson, of Carbondale.

Of these five Miss Harpur was the only one who bettered her position. She went from sixteenth place to twelfth, passing Homer Kresge, J. A. Havenstrite, Harry Madden and Frank B. McCreary, the latter of whom passed her on Friday.

A number of friends of the contestants who desire to help them have at various times telephoned subscribers to the Tribune office and requested that the points be credited to some one contestants. This cannot be done, for the reason that an imperative rule of the Educational Contests has always provided that all subscriptions received through it must be paid in advance.

There has never been an exception made to this rule. Subscriptions are taken and papers sent to any one, but the points are not credited until the cash is received.

The names and complete standing of all contestants who have scored points since the contest began, but who are below thirty-third place, are as follows:

- 34. Thomas Dempsey, Olyphant, 13
35. Don C. Capwell, Scranton, 11
36. Walter Ellis, Hyde Park, 8
37. Emmanuel Buccell, Hyde Park, 7
38. Miss Vivian Mikle, Scranton, 7

WILKES-BARRE VS. SCRANTON.

Old-Time Rivalry Renewed on the Diamond, Saturday.

A team of ball players from the Lackawanna county court house went to Wilkes-Barre, Saturday afternoon, and walloped a team from the Luzerne county court house to the tune of 8-2.

While this game was in progress, another contest was being played in this city at Athletic park, between Scranton and Wilkes-Barre printers.

The home game resulted in a victory for the visitors by a score of 11-4. Afterwards the players and a large number of rooters were entertained at a vaudeville show and banquet at the Star theatre. The contests were fraught with the usual good, bad and indifferent plays characteristic of amateur games, the detailed scores being as follows:

COURT HOUSE, LACKAWANNA.
Wirth, s R. H. O. A. E.
Griffin, p 2 1 0 2 0
Owens, ss 1 1 0 2 0
Von Bergen, 3b 0 1 12 2 0

P. O. S. OF A. EXCURSION.

Members of Camp 178 and Friends Were at Mountain Park.

Upwards of a thousand people attended the excursion to Mountain Park, Saturday, under the auspices of Washington camp, No. 178, Patriotic Order Sons of America, of West Scranton.

The day was rather cloudy, but this did not interfere much with the pleasure of the excursionists. Athletic events, dancing, bowling and other forms of amusement were indulged in, and the married men and single men played a game of base ball.

The contest was replete with laughable incidents, and was won by the married men by the score of 15-4. The batteries were Dunkerly and Nelson, for the married men, and Thomas, Kime and Jones, for the single men. John Miller was umpire.

The prize cake, given for the best cakewalkers, was won by George March and Miss Margaret Evans. The excursionists arrived home at 8:30 o'clock.
