Philadelphia and Reading Company to Open Up New Coal Lands and Arrange for a Big Storage Supply to Meet Emergencies-Engineering and Mining Journal's Review of the Anthracite Situation-Delaware and Hudson Company to Construct Storage Plant Near Wilkes-Barre. Other Notes.

Whatever the outcome of the coal miners' strike may be, whether the miners or the operators win, the Reading company, under President Baer's vigorous management, is preparing to enter upon a more aggressive policy than ever before in the anthracite region and to utilize more fully the great advantages it enjoys there. New tracts are to be opened up and developed, additional breakers are to be built, and other measures taken for increasing the coal output of the company. Additional facilities for the storage of anthracite are embraced in the scheme, and an expenditure of $3,000,000 has been authorized by the directors to carry out the project, the details of which have not yet been fully worked out. getting low and little or no coal is

As stated several days ago, the experiences of the past eighteen months have impressed President Baer and the directors of the Reading company with importance and desirability of having immense quantities of anthracite coal in stock at convenient points. To accumulate such an amount as desired-1,000,000 tons-and to keep up with the market requirements at the lantic seaboard supplies continue to same time has been practically impossible even with the company's present facilities in the anthracite region, and in the hands of conservative firms, but this has been one of the causes which retail buying on account of high prices have brought about the determination is light. At New York retailers are to expand and increase mining operations. Another cause that has had an retail prices have been advanced to $8 important bearing on this matter is the per ton for prepared sizes. Wall Street Review.

New York, July 28.—The speculation flattened out to a marked degree in to-day's stock market, and the latter part of the day offered a degre of activity scarcely above the usual midsummer dull-ness. Before noon there was an enor-mous amount of realizing accomplished, which was credited to the wortem operascarcely above the usual midsummer duit-ness. Before noon there was an enor-mous amount of realizing accomplished, which was credited to the western opera-tors who have long been conspicuous in the market. Unless it is considered that the resources of the money market threaten to become restricted there was no obvious cause for the weakness. The slump in Rock Island to below 190 awak-ened some questioning about the benefit to accrue from some of the projects pro-posed which provide nearly always for practically converting stocks into fore-closure liabilities, with new stock to come after with voting power but with ques-tionable chances for dividends, thus mak-ing their holding for control cheap. The reports of the illness of the president of the United States Steel corporation, al-though denied, had a slightly depressing effect, and were supplemented by rumors that the king of England was also not so well. London bought stocks here, how-ever, and reported relief from the set-tlement was proceeding without failures. Some points of strength still remained in the market, notably Norfolk and West-ern, the Mineapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste Marle stocks, Amalgamated Copper and Colorado Fuel. The market made considerable recovery during the latter part of the day but there was nothing like an entire revival of last week's ani-mation. The closing was irregular. Total sales for the day, Si 700 shares. Deal-ings in bonds were of unimportant pro-portions and the tome was irregular. Total sales par value, $3,35,000. Equally important in the eyes of the Reading management is the matter of storage facilities for great quantities of anthracite. The company is already fairly well equipped in this direction with its large storage yards at Port Richmond, Port Reading and elsewhere, but the keeping on hand of a million tons of anthracite to meet any emergencies requires additional room, Among the locations said to be under consideration are Bridgeport and a point between Pottstown and Birdsboro, probably Monocacy.
