PERSONALS.

A. J. Casey is expected home from his European trip today. Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Royer are entertaining Miss Annie Hoyer, of Reading, Postoffice Inspector Dyer, of Washington, arrived in the city yesterday. Miss Carrie L. De Wild is spending a season in Philadelphia and New York. Miss Helen Ryan, of Dalton, is spending a few days with friends in the city. Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Adair, of Pine street, spent yesterday with friends in Moscow. Miss Stuart, of Philadelphia, is a guest at the home of J. A. Stuart on Sanderson avenue. Homer Hand, of Dunmore, has returned home after spending the past few days with friends in New Jersey. Louis Marks, of the firm of Lauer & Marks, sailed from New York yesterday on an extended European trip. Rev. A. J. Stein, of Paterson, N. J., is the guest of Contractor John R. Lee, at his country home in Elmhurst. Rev. F. S. Ballentine, pastor of Christ's church, will return from Philadelphia tomorrow and occupy his pulpit next Sunday. Ruel Kingley, of Ninth street, yesterday left the Moses Taylor hospital after undergoing a successful operation for appendicitis. Miss Vera B. Decker, stenographer in the United States court, has resumed her duties after spending her vacation at Waverly, N. Y. Miss Daisy Pierce, of Hartford, Conn., and Miss Adeline Bruce, of New Haven, Conn., are visiting at the home of C. E. Potter on Prospect avenue. Miss Marguerite Hoschke, who has been the guest of her uncle, Emil P. Weichel, left yesterday for New York, where she will join one of "The Chinese Honeymoon" companies. Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Watson and daughter, Miss Annie, are the guests of Mrs. W. C. Gayley, who has chartered a steamer and with a large party of friends aboard is touring the Great Lakes, stopping at the principal cities and points of interest bordering on the route. James L. Bartlett, assistant to Weather Observer F. A. Clarke, is spending a few days' leave of absence at his home in Easton. On August 5, Mr. Bartlett will leave this city to become observer at Shreveport, La. He will be succeeded here by William A. Mitchell, who comes from Shreveport.

TRAMPS ARRESTED.

Seven Hobos Captured in a Freight Car at Clark's Summit. A number of Lackawanna railroad detectives arrested seven tramps at Clark's Summit yesterday. They were occupying a freight car when apprehended. When arraigned in police court yesterday they gave their names as follows: John Anderson, Chicago, Ill.; Frank Guard, Alton, Ill.; Frank Shepp, Belvidere, N. J.; Paul Close, Paterson, N. J.; Lewis Powell, Pittsburg, John and William Jones, Scranton. Police Magistrate Millar committed the first named five to the county jail for six months, on the charge of vagrancy, and fined Jones and Robinson $5 each, on the charge of trespass.

IMPROVED TO BE PATIENT. ADDRESS DELIVERED TO DUNMORE STRIKERS. District Board Member Reap Discusses the Matter of Distributing Relief and Says If the Money Was Divided Pro Rata Each Striker Would Get Only Thirty Cents—Expelled from a Lodge Because They Are Non-Unionists—Two More Women Arrested for Assault and Threats.

About 500 mine workers gathered in the open field near the Italian church, in Dunmore, yesterday morning and listened to addresses by District Board Member Stephen Reap, of Olyphant, and Martin Memolo, an Italian organizer, who spoke in his native tongue. Mr. Reap's remarks were mainly directed to those who might be dissatisfied with the present manner of furnishing relief, and showed the utter uselessness of attempting to distribute the money now on hand alike to every member, saying that each member would only receive about thirty cents. He implored his hearers to hold together and be patient, and victory would surely come. He said the money from the bituminous men would not reach here until the middle of August, and at that time they would be better able to determine the final means of distribution.

The latter day to befall men who have continued to work during the strike, is their being expelled from a lodge on the charge of being "scabs." This happened to Joseph Setely and John Lowandowski, of Maple street, who are employed at the Bellevue colliery. This fact was brought out at a hearing before Alderman Millar yesterday afternoon, when Louis Proznosky and John Zorosa were arrested. The prosecutors have remained at work since the strike was inaugurated, and alleged that the defendants called them "scabs," threatened to kill them and had them expelled from a lodge to which all belonged, because they returned to work. Magistrate Millar fined each of them $10 and costs, and in default sent them to the county jail for thirty days. Proznosky was also held in $1,000 bail for making threats and to keep the peace. Zorosa was held in $500 bail.

WOMEN NARRESTED. Minnie Borden and Josephine McCoutski, both of Priceburg, were arrested yesterday at the instance of John Burton, also of Priceburg, on the charge of aggravated assault and battery. The prosecutor is a miner in the employ of the Ontario and Western Railroad company, and while returning home from work a week ago last evening he was set upon by these women and assaulted. They had their aprons filled with stones and struck him with such force that he was laid up for a week. They also called him "A dirty working scab." Attorney John J. Murphy appeared for the defendants, and Attorneys Joseph O'Brien and J. E. Burr for the prosecutor. The women were each fined $10 and costs, and in default committed to jail for thirty days for calling Burton a scab. Each were held in $500 bail to appear at court in answer to the charge of aggravated assault and battery. Bail was given and an appeal taken from the summary conviction.

The five local unions of Olyphant will hold a special meeting at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon in Father Mathew hall. One hundred mules were yesterday brought back here from pasturage in Wyoming county. They belong to the Pennsylvania Coal company. The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company yesterday placed an order for 100 legs of mule shoes. Frederick Warnke made the announcement yesterday that he will start his washery, at Durycue, next Monday. It takes three hundred armed men to do it. President Nichols yesterday made the following reply to the letter of President Crawford, of the People's Coal company:

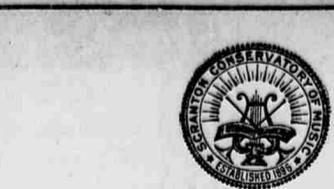

MR. NICHOLS' REPLY. Editor of the Tribune: In yesterday's issue I noticed a number of acknowledgments by Mr. J. L. Crawford of events as he claims to know them. Regarding the question of "outing" will say that when questioned regarding the statement that the Oxford would be started I said I did not believe it could be done; that our members would not go there to do anything of the kind, and that if it were started it would be done by new hands entirely. But this is not why I take issue or exceptions to Mr. Crawford's acknowledgments, but because he says "that Mr. Nichols has succeeded in enforcing three of my men to break their contracts. First was a fireman who was the only support of a widowed mother, Mr. Nichols, or those he sent to her, told her that the son would be killed if he continued to work." I want to say emphatically that I am not the kind of a man Mr. Crawford pictures me to be; that I know of no cases where I have forced his men to break their contracts. I know of no case where the widow and her fireman son mentioned, and am not guilty of threatening his murder, as told by Mr. Crawford. If Mr. Crawford knew these things to be true he should have me arrested for threatening murder, and duly punished. I challenge him to do so now. In the event of any personal loss through the effect of Mr. Crawford's libel I shall expect him to acknowledge his mistake and make proper reparation.

Another struggle we are all engaged in I am willing to overlook statements made in the moment of heated passion, but cannot see the necessity of quietly submitting to a carefully written letter charging me with threatening murder. I have never said anything about Mr. Crawford and hope he will carefully consider the injustice he has done me, and acknowledge the same. If I am labor "agitator" I try to be, and expect to be, considered "a man for a' that."

Yours respectfully, T. D. Nichols.

STRIKE DECLARED OFF.

Men Employed on Petersburg Sewer Back at Work Yesterday. The strike of the men employed on the new Petersburg sewer came to an end yesterday morning. The men conferred with Contractors Gibbons and Guernsey, who are in charge of the job, and all difficulties were satisfactorily adjusted. The request for a two weeks' pay day was granted, and other minor concessions allowed, as a result of which the two hundred and fifty men who ceased work Tuesday were all back yesterday morning.

A Pleasure to Note the Attainment

Scranton, Pa. J. Alfred Pennington, Dear Sir—I have for some time been very much interested in the methods of teaching followed by the Scranton Conservatory of Music, and it gives me pleasure to note the attainment of my children in attendance there during the past two years. Sincerely yours, DAVID N. M'KEE, First Reader, First Church of Christ, Scientist.

TO FORM BIG LEAGUE.

Bowlers Meet Tonight to Arrange for Next Season—Eighteen Club Circuit Possible. A meeting for the purpose of organization will be held at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow night at the Elks' Cafe, by the Scranton City Bowling league, the members of which are already beginning to get anxious about the coming season's rolling. The teams which are to enter the league this year will be the Arlingtons and Maenners, from South Scranton, the Hampes and Bobbys, from the Hampes alleys, the Liederkranz and Elks, from the latter's alleys, two teams representing the Backus alleys, and two from North Scranton. It is also expected to have present at the meeting representatives from the West Scranton alleys, Scranton Bicycle club, Electric City Wheelmen, and Green Ridge Wheelmen.

If it is decided at this meeting to have teams from the various wheelmen's clubs in the league, a big circuit of fourteen or sixteen clubs will be decided upon. There is a strong possibility, however, that the wheelmen will again have an exclusive bicycle club league, which will include the West End Wheelmen, of Wilkes-Barre. Even in this event, however, the league will be composed of more teams than ever before. This will be the cause of more spirited competition than has marked the local tournaments in the past, and a long and interesting session is being eagerly anticipated by local bowling enthusiasts.

Most of the city alleys have been running all summer, for the first time in years, and consequently the formal opening of the season will find all the bowlers in the pink of condition, and excellent bowling can be anticipated from the start of the game, until the dog days again arrive. The Arlingtons are already beginning to feel strong, and have issued a challenge to all organized teams of the city, the match to be bowled for refreshments which the losing rollers will stand for. Philip Holl and William Meister, who have already been running all summer, for the first time in years, and consequently the formal opening of the season will find all the bowlers in the pink of condition, and excellent bowling can be anticipated from the start of the game, until the dog days again arrive.

The Maenners team has organized, and is having weekly team practice. While most of the members are somewhat new at the game they have been practicing an excellent bowling, and work, which is bound to have a good effect. There is also some talk of a printers' team, with Frank Gold and Cyrus Evans as captain, a crack quintette of bowlers could be found among the types, who would be able to roll with the best in the city. The Hampes teams are looked upon as the dark horses of the prospective league. A number of crack bowlers have been developed there, and it is expected that they will make a strong bid for this year's trophy. One of the highest scores ever rolled in the city was recently made on the alleys. Murphy, who bowled on one of the City League teams, rolled 277.

At the Bicycle club, there is a likelihood of the old Black Diamond team being reorganized. This collection of bowlers never set the world of ten pins on fire, by any startling achievements, but its members were recognized as the jolliest crowd of individuals in the league, and the side features attached to their exhibitions were always a source of general amusement. At tomorrow night's league meeting officers will be elected, and the number of clubs in the league definitely decided upon. A committee will also probably be appointed to draft a schedule of games, which will be submitted at a subsequent meeting.

CAR JUMPED THE TRACK.

Children Had a Narrow Escape from Serious Injury. One of the Scranton Railway company's big double-trucked cars, loaded with children going to the Christ Lutheran church picnic, at Nay Aug park, jumped the track yesterday near the new Roaring Brook bridge on Pittston avenue, and the children had a narrow escape from serious injury. Several of them were thrown from their seats and a boy named Henry Getz sustained a severe cut on the chin, his wrist was sprained and his ankle bruised. He was taken to the office of Dr. L. B. Woodcock, who dressed his injuries. Another accident in the party occurred later in the day at Nay Aug park, when a boy named Glazer fell from a swing and fractured his arm.

CONDITION IMPROVING.

W. H. Pierce Is Rapidly Recovering from His Injuries. W. H. Pierce, of Jefferson avenue, who was thrown from his carriage and seriously injured, July 4, is now well on the road to recovery, and expects to be able to leave his home and resume business in the course of a few weeks. His recovery dates from an operation performed several days after his accident. He had been in a comatose state for several days, and his physicians believed a home was pressing on his brain. He regained consciousness a few days after the operation and since then has been steadily recovering. Coursen's Creamery Butter, 25c, 5-lb. boxes. Freshest, best.

"PEANUT POLITICS"

Councilman Believes That Strikes Are Not Altogether Blamable for Scranton's Ills. That all councilmen are not of the same mind as those who provoked The Tribune's editorial on "Peanut Politics" may be gleaned from the sentiments of which one of their number delivered himself yesterday: "It seems to me," said he, "that the colored preacher, Andrew Jones is right when he said that 'Scranton is growing.' There is a possibility for growth, he has Scripture to sustain his remarks. But whether Scranton is doomed or not in the light in which the Rev. Jones looks at our future, we must admit that our city is doomed to a great extent. The reasons that I have to think that is that our city is growing more ranky and kicky every year. Men who grow that way seldom die a natural death; most of them commit suicide or else are shot, hung or die in the electric chair.

"The quality of a city is not better than the quality of the people that grow in it. There is a possibility for a city or country to commit suicide, and it appears to me that our city will kill herself in the near future, if we won't change front and our method of dealing with her. A few years ago our city was in a prosperous condition; life and activity were observable on every hand. Today it is like a cemetery; no life, no activity. When noble men of purpose, wealth and business ability come forward and offer their service to restore life and build up our 'doomed city' under the heading 'Peanut Politics,' I was surprised to learn that the auditing committee disapproved of the bill sent in by the recorder for detective work done by the street car strike, and the bill for detective work in connection with the 'Colored club' seems to me to be a handsome bird's nest. I don't think the auditing committee disapproved of the action of the authorities, it opposed and upheld riot, vice and immorality. The incident puts me in mind of the small dog barking at the big one. If the above committee will study some of our great cities and see how they work, they will stay in love with 'Peanut Politics' any longer, and verify the prediction of Andrew Jones. In yesterday's Tribune, July 28, I noticed that another committee of council thinks that it knows it all, when they turn down the plan of the annex to city hall. I don't think that our building inspector is infallible, but common sense should teach people to think that his taste and knowledge is far superior to the taste and knowledge of the majority of the committee, and that his plans should be accepted and approved. Some people think that the carpenter's strike, the street car strike and the miners' strike are the causes of our city being in such a condition. I admit that they are to a certain extent, but the worst strikers of all are the men who strike against good law, improvements and industries. Get a move on you, gentlemen, don't walk through the old ruts of the past, but strive to make our city a model. Away with jealousy, away with crankiness and 'peanut politics.'"

Only two contestants scored points yesterday in The Tribune's Educational Contest. They were Oscar H. Kipp, of Elmhurst, and Harry Danvers, of Providence. There were no changes in the list in consequence of these scores. Mr. Danvers made his first return since May 25. He probably will become an active factor in the contest before long. The July competition will close at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Every contestant who has expectations of winning one of the two prizes offered must see to it that their points are in the hands of the contest editor by that hour. The first prize will be a handsome bird's eye maple writing desk, with carved front. This desk is valued at $12 and will prove both useful and ornamental. The second prize will be a Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pen, with gold pen. Both of these prizes are well worth striving for and the ones who win them will be very fortunate. Remember, the July competition closes at 5 o'clock this afternoon. The ten contestants who have scored the largest number of points since July 1, with their standing since then, follow:

Leading Contestants for July. First Prize—Birdseye Maple Writing Desk. Second Prize—Waterman Gold Fountain Pen. 1. C. W. Dorsey, 120. 2. A. J. Kellerman, 85. 3. Albert Freedman, 70. 4. WORK ON LUZERNE STREET.

Extensive Repairs Are Being Made in West Scranton. Work was yesterday morning begun on the repairing of Luzerne street, by the department of public works. The street has long been in poor condition. The repairs will extend its entire length, from South Main avenue to Keyser creek. Crushed stone will be used for a bottom, and will be thoroughly packed into place by the city's big thirty-ton roller. The stone is to be furnished by Contractor M. H. Dale, from his quarry on the West mountain. A contract has been made by him, to furnish at least one hundred tons a day, at $1 a load. The sides of the street will be macadamized one at a time, so that traffic will not be too seriously interfered with. The Scranton Railway company will also have men at work straightening its tracks and putting its roadbed into good condition.

NOT CALLED OUT.

Thirteenth Regiment Not Likely to Be Taken from This Region Unnecessarily. Shortly after news of the outbreak at Shamokin and the calling out of the National Guard had reached the city last night, Lieutenant Colonel F. W. Stillwell was at the armory, engaged in active preparations for calling together the members of the Thirteenth regiment in as quick time as possible. He summoned Major Frank Robling, of the Second battalion, and Lieutenant Richard J. Bourke, adjutant of the Third battalion, of which Major George Whitney, of Honesdale, is commander, and after ineffective efforts had been made to reach Colonel L. A. Watres by telephone, Major Robling suggested that before any definite action was taken in calling out the companies, Adjutant General C. J. Stewart, of the Third brigade, be communicated with. The latter was reached by long distance telephone, and in answer to Colonel Stillwell's queries, replied: "The Eighth and Twelfth have been ordered out. The Thirteenth will not be summoned tonight." Both Major W. S. Millar and Major W. W. Inglis, of this city, have, however, been notified to join General J. P. S. Gobin and his staff. Major Millar is assistant adjutant general of the brigade, and Major Inglis is ordnance officer. Another Scranton man who must leave here is Dr. A. J. Wilson, of the Lackawanna hospital, who is attached to the hospital corps of the Twelfth regiment, of Williamsport.

Had the Thirteenth been ordered out last night, it would not have taken over two hours at the most to muster the men. The three officers at the armory were in communication with a number of the line officers, and in addition, patrolmen on city beats had been instructed to give the alarm at houses of the soldier boys in their territory, who in turn would notify others.
