"PETS" TRIM THE TEAM THAT TRIMMED TIGERS

Susquehanna After Administering a Stinging Defeat to Honesdale Comes to This City and Is Given a Worse Drubbing Than They Gave the Canalers—Score 15-2—Crescents Slammed the Ball and Made No Oh! Errors—An Immense Crowd. Oh! Join in the fun! Susquehanna, six; Honesdale, one.

Just to show we are some few. Read—our poets, 15; Susquehanna, 2.

We might go on and versify for a week on such a fertile topic but that would be pressing Col. McComb too hard; so will quit with these two spasms, and rise to remark that like Honesdale's one run.

Another game we've won. 'Tis Susquehanna that we've trimmed; trimmed them before a crowd of say 4,500 persons including nineteen Honesdalers and 150 Susquehannans, who came down on the "flyer" and went back on the "flyer." And it rained the same night!

We won as we said before, the ninth game out of eleven. And we won decisively. We won because we batted the ball, batted it hard. Our bats made 14 hits. They were well placed; scientific batting the base ball writer calls it; "Chuck" Connors said it "was bluff de ball far fair." Call it what you will, it won the day for us. We earned 4 runs, Susquehanna none. This alone without the aid of the eleven runners of Susquehanna would leave us away to the good.

We won also because we fielded in quick, sharp, "Jonny-on-the-spot" plays. We had four errors, but they cut no ice for Abe Sahm's new water barrel. We won because—well we won—that's all there is to it, so all hail to our "pets."

Cuff had a great batting record; his average for the game was 800. Out of 5 times up, he made 4 hits; two of them were corking two baggers. Our Owney, beside holding Susquehanna's heavy hitters down to nine hits and striking out 5 of them, he made two hits, one which sailed out into deep left and landed him on second base.

Every man on the team hit the ball, with the exception of Rosler, who had the hardest kind of hard luck. He knocked one to third base that looked all the world to be safe, but third baseman Lannan eat it up.

Emmett Gallagher, Harte and McAndrew, each had two hits. The fielding of Rosler was brilliant; the greatest of the game. He captured two flys after long runs that anybody would gamble were good for hits. His quick return of balls amazed some of the strangers, to whom such quick work among amateurs was a novelty.

Murray added to his reputation as the best third baseman in the valley or in Wayne or Susquehanna. His fly catch after a run and jump was great. Cuff, at first, was Jonny, O. K. Ten chances, without the semblance of a misplay.

O'Garra worked hard against his former townsmen, but now and then they landed, when it was just the time and aided by errors the runs came in. It wasn't Tommy's fault.

The detailed score was:

DEATH OF MRS. SOLOMON.

Estoemed Jermyn Woman Succumbs After Operation. Mrs. Solomon, relict of the late John Solomon, of Jermyn, died in Dr. Wheeler's hospital last evening about 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Solomon was hurriedly taken to the hospital on Saturday afternoon and operated on for general appendicitis. She was taken sick on Wednesday and her condition became desperate so rapidly that the only chance for her life lay in operating. The operation was undertaken late Saturday afternoon, but the disease had spread so much of her vitality that she made no rally. She sank until death came, shortly after 6 o'clock last evening.

Mrs. Solomon's death will affect a wide circle of friends in Carbondale, her former home, and in Jermyn, where she was held in affectionate regard. The suddenness of her demise accentuates the grief of her taking away.

Mrs. Solomon lived in Carbondale for a long time, where her husband was in the saloon business. He moved to Jermyn, where he kept the St. George hotel. She was related to Robert Maxwell, of this city, and to the Weigand family.

JOE COOPER'S STATEMENT.

Disavows Connection with Movement to Change Strikers. For a couple of weeks it has been freely passed about that the Delaware and Hudson company has had agents among the striking employes, urging them to probably be explained by his return to work, which was at their command.

In connection with these rumors, the identity of the so-called agents was fixed, which gave more force to the stories. One whose name was freely passed was Joe Cooper, of the West Side, a former special policeman and regarded somewhat as a leader among a certain Italian element of the town's foreign population. It was talked of among the miners, without much qualifying that Joe was an earnest worker among the Italians and was getting them in line to return to work before the strike would be declared off.

Mr. Cooper, however, comes out with a vehement denial and requests The Tribune to state that he has had no connection or identity with any movement to induce any of his countrymen to return to work.

"I could get work the first day after the strike went on," says Mr. Cooper, "but I would not go. I don't belong to this miners' union, but I am not going back to work until the others go, and I am not going to try to coax any one else."

Why Cooper's name was connected with the alleged strike-breaking movement probably he explained by his having been among the Italians of the town for the past few weeks with reference to their naturalization papers. He has been getting over a score of them ready to file his papers, and ent, and not an excuse of a sign of disorder. It was a characteristic Carbondale crowd.

In the Honesdale-Susquehanna game at Honesdale Saturday, Susquehanna had a cinch. Score, 6 to 1; Honesdale, 2. Honesdale, 2. 'Twas easy money, the Susquehannans say.

The prediction of The Tribune that our Pets on a fast diamond would run away with Susquehanna has been fully verified. With the team of yesterday we would never have lost in Susquehanna.

Susquehanna won at Honesdale on Saturday. But the Susquehanna lads had their lordly bats from Carbondale and Ned Jordan, bats from Carbondale, and had Joe Pidgeon, Carbondale, Pa., on first base. What more did they need to win?

The strength that Walter Loftus is to the Crescents was emphasized yesterday. Without him as ballast may be the balloon would make another ascension. Other clubs go around the horizon for the catchers, but Walter has all of them played to a standstill.

W. F. Szydum, of Honesdale, in his opinion, was the best pitcher in the Carbondale team was admittedly better than theirs. After the Susquehanna-Honesdale and the Carbondale-Susquehanna game, it is proven that W. F. knew what he was talking about.

Susquehanna sent over 150 rooters to Carbondale, including some of the leading business men of the town. It was a splendid representation and they were given the glad, warm hand of Carbondallians. No fairer, no better natured enthusiasts ever crossed the threshold of the Anthracite city. They will always be welcome. Every player on the Susquehanna team has the true sportsman spirit, and whether to win or lose, a warm welcome awaits them.

A FEARFUL STORM.

Passes Over This City, but Floods Waymart—Holds Up a D. and H. Train for Several Minutes. Carbondale just escaped a wild summer storm last night. It blew over the city and broke crossing the Moosicks, heading the country east of us, almost deluging Waymart, at the foot of the mountain.

About 6.30, the skies darkened, and great banks of black clouds began to roll up. Residents who were on porches, after the evening meal, withdrew to the inside to avoid the threatening deluge. The wind veered, however, to the east and carried the storm until the rain-filled clouds were over the summit of the Moosicks on the heights of Farview. Here they broke, and swept down the mountain side, carried by the hurricane force of the wind.

The fielding of Rosler was brilliant; the greatest of the game. He captured two flys after long runs that anybody would gamble were good for hits. His quick return of balls amazed some of the strangers, to whom such quick work among amateurs was a novelty.

Mr. Cooper states he has been exceedingly annoyed by these stories, which are without foundation, and that an editorial in the Tribune, referring to the hastily indulged in gossip of some of the miners. In the spirit of fair play, he asks that these unfair judgments of him be recalled.

STRIPPINGS IN CAMP.

Crowd of Funmakers Leave for Crystal Lake. There will be fun galore at Crystal Lake this week, if the Carbondale delegation that will take possession of one of Stephen Whitmore's "palaces" sustain its reputation.

A representation of the Amalgamated Association of Carburton Strippers will put up at the lakeside, and the lakeside will have to put up with them for a week. The cottagers need not become alarmed at this suggestion, for good-nature and amusement of the most innocent kind are the capital stock of the young men.

Preparations have been made for an enjoyable outing. The commissary department, which is the mainstay of every camp, has been well looked after. It is prepared for the severest frosts of the winter, and the camp will not be attacked. Peter Farrell, a cook who knows his book, will be the gastronomical Johnny-on-the-spot, which means there will be no kicks coming among the campers.

The party will be composed of E. W. Collins, George W. Brennan, Charles W. McCann, John W. Peel, Frank W. Burke, Edward W. Burke, Clarence W. McHale, Martin W. McHale, James W. Gallagher, of this city, and John W. Boland, of Scranton.

MOVED TO CALIFORNIA.

Winwood Merchant, Well Known in Carbondale, Goes West. G. L. Davall, Mrs. Davall and daughters, Bessie and Augusta, of Winwood, on the Ontario and Western road, left on the Erie flyer Friday night for San Francisco, California, where the family will make their home.

Mr. Davall is well known in Carbondale. He has been a successful commission merchant at Winwood, and though he prospered in this field, he saw better opportunities for his business on the coast and hence decided to move his family there.

Many earnest wishes for his success accompany him.

Attorney Henry Singer Recovering.

Attorney Henry B. Singer, of New York city, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Singer, of this city, who was operated on in the midst of a dangerous attack of appendicitis, two weeks ago, is rapidly regaining, and is expected in Carbondale this week. On Saturday next he will go with the Singer family to Crystal Lake, where they will spend a month amid the delightful scenery and health-laden breezes of this pretty resort.

Mr. Singer is still in New York city beside her son. The family will occupy the George S. Kimball cottage at the lake.

Clover Leaf on Top.

An interesting game of base ball took place Saturday afternoon on the Simpson ball grounds, when the Clover Leaf base ball team defeated the Klots Silk Mill team by a score of 14 to 8.

The features of the game were Warren's home run, with three men on bases, and Matthews' three-base hit.

"Jack" Alexander Getting Better.

"Jack" Alexander, one of Forest City's leading business men, is making a rapid recovery, after his operation for appendicitis at Dr. Wheeler's hospital, about two weeks ago. He will be able to return to his home in about another week.

Dr. Wheeler Is About.

Dr. H. Wheeler, who was quite ill with pneumonia, has so far rallied and regained in strength as to be able to be about the house. His friends are assured of seeing him among them within a few days.

NO TIME WASTED.

Prompt Action Is Pleasing Many Scranton Citizens. Get down to the cause of everything. Bad backs are caused by sick kidneys. Cure the kidneys you cure backache. Doan's Kidney Pills are for kidneys only.

No time wasted trying to cure other troubles. Scranton people endorse their merit. Mrs. E. Williams, of 127 North Sumner avenue, Hyde Park, says: "I had severe pains in the small of my back, extending upwards and around my waist. At night it was impossible to sleep very long in one position and at times pains made me so nervous I lay awake for hours turning from one side to the other trying to find a comfortable position. There was also a kidney weakness that was very annoying and distressing at times. I was in such misery that I was unable to do my work about the house, and in fact I was completely used up. I resorted to the services of a doctor and he did me good, but I was far from being a well woman. A lady friend recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to me so highly that I got them at Matthews Bros. drug store. The first box did me so much good that I continued the treatment and took six boxes altogether. I received more relief from this remedy in a short time than all other remedies I had taken."

The borough council met in regular session this evening. A number of bills were read and payment authorized. Some dissatisfaction was expressed at the poor service given by the Electric Light company, portions of the borough having been in darkness for the past week. The street committee reported the satisfactory completion of the Second street culvert but the bill was not paid, one of the councilmen being of the opinion that the culvert width was not in accordance with the terms of the contract. The matter will probably be straitened out at the time for a settlement at the special meeting to be held this evening.

Thoughtfulness of a Survivor. Representative Southard, of Ohio, who admits that he does not know many stories and that those which he tells are generally ancient, recalled yesterday an incident which happened up on Lake Erie near his home. An excursion steamer was wrecked, and it was supposed everybody had been drowned. About midnight Mr. Southard received this telegram from one of the survivors: "I am saved, but please break the news gently to my wife."—Washington Post.

END OF THE HUMAN RACE. From the Woman's Home Companion. In the wise economy of Nature it is so ordered that all vegetable life purifies the air for animal life, and vice versa. Animals consume oxygen and exhale carbonic acid, while vegetation absorbs carbonic acid, robbing it of its carbon and setting the oxygen free. The original atmosphere of the earth before animal life existed consisted essentially of nitrogen and carbonic acid. Our supply of atmospheric oxygen has been furnished by the great forests of vegetation, such as the coal ferns, which covered the earth in the Carboniferous age, when the coal beds were formed. The same conditions, only on a smaller scale, continue to prevail; but it is not likely that the oxygen given out by present vegetation is, or will be, sufficient to keep pace with its enormously increasing consumption by man. Lord Kelvin has estimated that if the present consumption of coal in human industries continues with anything like its present ratio of increase, the great coal-measures will be exhausted, and the oxygen of our atmosphere practically consumed by its combustion, within the next four or five centuries. This is the most likely, perhaps of all possible calamities to generally affect the human race, and it more directly concerns us at the present time, from our realization that we are extravagantly wasting the breath of life of those who are soon to follow.
